Select Poetry.

THE AGED FARMER'S ELEGY.

BY WILL M. MORRISON.

On a green grassy knoll, by the banks of a brook That so long and so often had watered his flock...

ON GUARD.

BY A SQUAVE.

At midnight on my lonely bed, When shadows wrap the wood and lee, A vision seems my view to greet...

Select Miscellany.

WALTER LE CLARE, OR, THE VICTIM OF SECESSION.

That scene—they were two so young and fair—ah, well might angels weep!—the tempter and the tempted. See with all a woman's earnestness she is striving to gain her purpose—he wavers—two mighty elements struggle in opposition within his manly bosom; love for her who is about to prove a second Eve, and devotion to his country.
