Now don't get jealous, ladies. Our beauty will not rob you of any of your sweethearts, she is only a coquette, of whom they will soon tire. She will not marry, but she will cure them of dyspepsia if they cut around her very much. Walk up, ladies, and see the show. The latch string of our door is always on the outside. Come in without knocking. To our mountain friend, of the Alleghenian, who intimated that our show was a promise "made to the ear to be broken to the hope," we have to say that we fulfil our promise, and if he dont believe us, let him jump upon the cars some fine morning and run down here and we will satisfy him on that point. Bring your family along. To all our editorial brethren we extend the same invitation.

To our patrons who nobly responded to our call for aid to purchase the show, we extend the invitation to call and see it, now, that we have it on exhibition; and we would also cordially invite all those who are still delinquents, to come and see the menagerie, and they can thereby "kill two hirds with one stone" i. e., see the sight, and pay

MAKING MAPLE SUGAR.—For reasons known all our resders there will be much more maple of office. sugar made during the coming season by those who have the facilities than during any previous season. In view of this fact we take from the Harrisbury Telegraph a few instructions which may not come amiss, and which our rural readers may rely upon as being valuable.

Almost every one knows how to make maple sugar; but it would seem from the quality of most we find in market, that few know how to make it right, or if they know how, they are too careless or too lazy to take the necessary pains.

Tap the trees with a half-inch augur, put in spiles of elder, and catch the sap in clean buckets or crocks; gather the sap into clean barrels or tubs, and boil it immediately down to good syrup; then strain it into a sound oak barrel in which allow it to stand over night by which time it will settle perfectly clear without the use of eggs, milk, or any such articles in boiling. Place a faucet in the barrel, three inches from the bottom, through which the clear syrup can be drawn off without disturbing the sediment. Draw it off, and boil over a brisk fire till (on dropping some of the syrup into cold water) it will break like glass, then dip into wooden trays to cool, and when it is grained stir it briskly and break the lumps. By this method it can be made as white as the best New Orleans or Havana, and will command the highest price in market. The best pans or kettles for making sugar are shallow, and made of sheet iron, they should be set in an arch or furnace of brick and stone, that will stand fire. The great | President .- Extract from the Minutes. secret in making good maple sugar is to have everything neat and clean, and perform the work with activity and care.

DUFF'S MERCANTILE COLLEGE, PITTSBURGH. The foundation of this noted establishment, nearly a quarter of a century ago, says the New Castle Laurence Journal, formed a new era in Commercial education. With the accumulated experience of nearly twenty years in inland and maratime commerce, the Principal at once enlarged the boundaries of the merchant's education to a regular collegiate course of study. His success soon filled the country with imitators; few, if any of whom, ever had any practical experience as merchants or accountants, their attempts to teach the practice of what they never practiced themselves, amounts to nothing more than that of common schools. All experience proves that it is to the practical business man alone that we must look for reliable instruction in the commercial profession. By the new circular of this time-honored establishment. we perceive that its students from all quarters retain an indelible impression of the perfection of their training for business.

SUDDEN DEATH .- The uncertainty of life's tenure was perhaps never more forcibly illustrated. than in the death of Mrs. Catharine Foust, wife of Jacob Foust, of Gaysport, which occurred in this place last Thursday. The deceased lady was walking in a funeral procession, on its way to the Baptist cemetery, and when opposite the residence of Mr. John Bollinger, on Penn street, she was stricken with apoplexy and fell upon the pavement in an insensible condition. She was carried into the residence of Mr. Bollinger and medical aid immediately summoned, but before the arrival of the physician the vital spark had fled and her immortal spirit winged its way to the realms of Him who gave it. She was about fifty years of age, and leaves a husband and several children to mourn their sudden and irreparable loss.—Hollidaysburg

On one of the cold nights last week an aged man in crossing the R. R. bridge near Mr. Bouslough's lost his balance, and fell down some twelve feet into the deep water below. After floundering in the water and ice for some time, he caught hold of one of the piers, where he hung for three hours with his head just above water. A young man returning home about 11 o'clock heard his screams, and rescued him from his perilous condition, took him to a neighboring house, and had him cared for. By morning the man was revived sufficiently to proceed on his way to the mountains, thankful r his miraculous deliverance.—Hollidaysburg

EBENSBURG AND CRESSON R. R.—On Monday last, regular trains commenced running on the above road. The first train leaves Cresson at 7 o'clock A. M., after the arrival of the Fast Line Eastward, runs to Ebensburg and returns in time to connect with the express train Westward, at 9.10 A. M. The second train leaves Cresson at 11.05 A. M., after the arrival of the Mail Train Eastward, and returns at 4.05 P. M., connecting with Mail Train Westward. This arrangement will give the denizens of the "mountain village" every facility for the transaction of business westward, and pretty fair accommodation Eastward.

And now that mid-winter is making another, and I hope a final effort, as evinced by the cold March wind, intermingled with sleet, snow and rain which beats in our faces here, that heart must be cold as winter itself that does not sympathise with those brave men who have left their cheerful firesides and are now risking their all, even life itself, and patiently enduring the privations and sufferings of camp life for their country's sake. What wonder that our boys are anxious for an encounter with the enemy when the reason itself is almost beyond endurance > een taking notes and improving in the study of nankind. The principal street here is Pennsylvania Avenue, and as you pass along this thoroughfare of elegance and fashion, poverty and rags, you meet many objects of interest and deep comniseration. Probably the first you will meet is a member of the bon ton, dressed up to the very sumrait of fashion, apparently sailing above the throng of more plainly dressed underlings. Then there comes a poor, half-starved mortal, dragging marked improvement than in the clothing of soldiers .out a weary life, looking though the world bore Not many years since, officers and privates were clad in miserable existence; and who knows but that it is only too true. She is an angelic creature, else why should the eyes of every passer-by fall upon and garden of life, what a bleak world this would be. And then, as we pass by Willird's Hotel, we come in contact with many of the military profession, officers and privates. It is really amusing to see with what effort some of these military fledgings had failed, by a recipe obtained from a learned physician endeavor to make themselves conspicuous in the residing in the great city of Jeddo. This recipe has cure public eye. Here we see young, smoothfaced lieutenants, who probably never had a gun in their hands, and scarce know the difference between quarter-guard and picket-guard, strutting along which I brought home with me, to all who need it, free of with their brilliant shoulder straps, evidences of their rank, and polished swords dangling by their sides, looking as though they imagined the success and prosperity of the country depended on them alone. Next you meet the grey-haired veteran, walking along in all the stateliness and grandeur CHANGE OF ELECTION POLLS.—On Saturday scious dignity, however, the aged hero fails not to ith all the gaudy trapplings pecu-

Of all arms of the service I admire the cavalry most, yet for effectiveness in war I prefer the artillery or infantry. Cavalry are rather romantic and theatrical, while artillery and infantry are real and substantial.

Yonder comes the Provost-guard, making their customary patrol through the city, in search of dissipated, wandering and unruly soldiers. This system of patroling the streets has a very salutary effect. Indeed the city is guarded from one end to the other. There is a nounted guard at every street corner to preven fast riding or driving through the streets and take up estrays from camp on horseback, and a sentry at every public building to prevent fires, &c., in to the Provost-guard and city watch-

The Provost-Guard exercises unlimited power and authority, and in some respects it is rightespecially wherein it relates to drinking saloons. They enter any tavern or place where liquor is sold, and if a soldier is found drinking, or known have received liquor there, the contents of the bar are immediately destroyed, the house shut up, and the proprietor or bar-tender fined and sent to jail. There are many in the city who have lost thousands of dollars in this manner. I am sorry to say, however, that soldiers altogether void of principle, very often practice on the credulity of the saloon-keepers, by feiguing sickness or exhaus-tion, thereby obtaining liquor from them, when forthwith they report at head-quarters. This is entirely wrong, and, as a natural consequence, the reputation of soldiers is on the wane, instead of being in keeping with their high and patriotic

Is precisely what its name indicates, for while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted so as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe the neakest stonach and tone up. the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet it is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetules, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. As a sure preventive and circ of Consumption. BILLIOUS AFFECTIONS. LIVER COMPLAINT. SICK HEADACHE, DYSPEPSIA, &C., &C.

JAYNE'S SANATIVE PHLIS, A MILD, PROMPT & EFFECTIVE REMEDY. THERE is scarcely any disease in which purgative buildines are not required; and much stekness and suffering might be prevented were they more generally used. No person: can feet well white a costium habit of body prevails; bedden, it soon generates settings and often fast diseases, which might be avoided by the timely and beddenous use of proper Cathartic medicines. timely and judicious use of proper Cathartic medic Convinced of the correctness of these views, JAYNE'S SANATIVE PILLS Are recompended with the greatest confidence, experience having demonstrated them to be far superior to any other in use, being more mild, prompt, safe and uniform in their operation. While using them no particular care is required, and patients may eat and drink as usual. Age will not impair them, as to always readily dissolve in the stomach. In small doses they are alterative and gontly laxative, but in large doses are actively cathartic, cleansing the whole alimentary canal from all putrid, irritating and feest matters. intters.

For DYSPEPSIA, these Pills are really an invaluable

For DYSPEPSIA, these Pills are really an invaluable article, gradually changing the vitiated secretions of the Stomach and Liver, and producing healthy action in those important organs. In cases of long standing, a cure will be more speedily effected by using, in conjunction with the Pills, either JAINE'S ALTERATIVE or TONIC VERMIFUGE, according to directions.

For Liver Complaint, Gout, Jaundice, Affections of the Bladder and Kidneys, Fevers, Nervousness, Diseases of the Skin, Impurity of the Blood, Sik Headache. Contineness. Piles, Female Diseases, and Billious Affections, these Pills have proved themselves eminently successful. All that is asked for them is a fair trial.

As these Pills have proved themselves so eminetly sucasked for them is a lair trial.

As these Pills have proved themselves so eminetly successful in removing diseases of the Liver, Dyspepsia and diseases of the Skin, I have thought it advisable to add the

THVER COMPLAINT. This is a disease much talked about, but at the saure

This is a disease much talked about, but at the sense time very imperfectly understood.

Properly apeaking, every derangement of the Liver or Billious system is a Liver Complaint, but the peculiar state of the Liver to which I now have reference is a Chronic Affection, and usually arises from a torpid or congestive state of that important organ. Sometimes the bile is deficient in quantity, or vitiated in quality, or both these states prevail at the same time. Sometimes the disease is owing to obstruction in the duct or pipe which conveys the bile from the liver into the bowels. This obstruction is very frequent, and is usually caused by the pipe being clogged up by thick tenacious slime or mucous, and sometimes by gall-istones. The bile is then thrown back into the gall-bladder, where it is absorbed by numerous small vessels which convey it into the Thoracic Duct. a pipe that runs up along the spine, and terminates in and empties itself into the large vein of the left shoulder, near is junction with the veins of the head and neck, and thence the bile is conveyed to the heart and becomes mixed with the blood. The bile in this manner being diverted from its proper course, and circulating in a part of the body where it never was designed by nature, produces much evil, and often disastrous effects upon the health of the individual—because, for want of healthy bile to mix with the half-digested food, a complete separation never takes place between the chyle (the milky liquor which forms the blood) and those portions of the food designed by nature, purifies and separates the healthy from the unhealthy portions, in the same manner that Isinglass or white of eggs separate wine or cider from their impurities—and, consequently, the very fountain of life is vituated and corrupted. Costiveness prevails—or alternately costiveness or diarrhess—wind in the stomach and bowels and the patient often annoyed with worms, and frequently with the blood, more or less obstructs the porce of the skin and small blood-vessels, and hence blotchess tumors, pimples, scurfiness, boils, sore eyes, sores and ulcers of various kinds. The skin is more or less yellow, and when the discase is of long standing,) often very dark, and has a disagreeable, dirty, greaty appearance; and sometimes there is a perfect jaundice. The white of the yes also has a green or yellow tingo.

MORE OR LESS bile is strained from the blood in its passage through the kidneys, and, by its acrimony, produces pains in the back, and scalds and irritates all the urinary passages. Some days the passage of urine is prafuse, and natural in appearance; a tother times it is scanly, and the desire to evacuate is frequent and urgent. Sometimes the color is nearly white and milky, but usually it is high colored, red or yellow, with a rank, offensive oder and sometimes it is bloody.

The tongue is usually more or less coated with a hrown scurf. There is irritation, and frequently chronic inflammation of the inner surface of the stomach and bowels, with a tonderness on pressure, and a soreness along the lower edge of the ribs.

SOMETIMES THERE IS A LOATHING of food, and stother times there is a vorscious appetite. There is often a feeling of chilliness, and coldness of the feet and knees, and along the inside of the thighs—sour or bitter cructations, and sometimes a spitting or throwing up of the food after eating.

There is a feeling of oppression across the stomach and often frightful dreams, low spirits, languor, want of energy, melancholy rostlessness and discontentedness, dreaminess of mind—timorousness and a great deal of trouble, and a disposition to magnify everything, sometimes great watchfuliness and an inability to sleep—at others great drowiness, weariness, and disinclination to motion.

At Times the FACE is fushed, with more or less

AT TIMES THE FACE is flushed, with more or less AT TIMES THE FACE is flushed, with more or less fever, especially at night or in the afternoon. Sometimes violent colics, and wandering pains in various parts of the body. Frequently there is a short hacking cough, with a huskiness of the throat, and sometimes a very severe, dry, and hard cough, which is often mistaken for consumption. This cough often commences in the latter part of the night or early in the morning, and lasts for hours, frequently producing nausea and vomiting. If there be any expectoration, it is a tough, ropy, tenacious phiegm; which adheres to everything it touches. There are also frequently chronic pleurity pains in various parts of the chest, which shift about from one part of the breast or side to the other. Sometimes abscesses form in the liver, and pressing upward on the lungs, produce constriction and cough, and breaking, discharge their contents into the lungs, whence it must be ejected by expectoration, or the patient is destroyed. Some persons are troubled with spasmodic twitches in various parts of the body, sometimes faintness and sighing, difficulty of breathing; reading or talking producing weariness. THERE IS A BEATING ERNSATION near the pit of the stomach, with palpitation and fluttering of the heart; profusion of dandruff and loss of the hair; indeed, to sum up in a few words—a yellow, dirty, greasy appearance of the skin, a yellow or green tings of the white of the eyes, an aching pain acroes the kidneys and hips, with irritation or heat in discharging urine—a sensation of fullness or distansion acroes the abdomen, with tenderness on prebaue—lowness of apirits, frightful dreams, acidity of stomach, with other dyspeptic symptoms, billious fevers, billious colics and bilious diarrhees and dysenteries, obstiniste costiveness, intermittent and remittent fevers, jaundice, fever and ague, &c., all originate from the same cause—derived state of the liter. Violent remedies always do more harm than good; but, by a persevering use of these pills, all: that can be desired will be acc

THE MOST SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT is to give the patient, every night on going to bed, from two four Sanative pills; or enough of them to insure one and not more than two evacuations from the bowels next morning.—The dose of the Pills can be increased or diminished at pleasure, so as to produce the above effect, and their use should be continued until a cure is completed; and also, at the same time give the Alterative three times a day according to the directions, unless there is a want of appetite, with weakness and debility or symptoms of worms prevail, when, instead of the Alterative give a teaspoonfal of the Vermitage, (mixed in a little coad water and sweedened to please the tarte, about half sin hour before each meal, until these symptoms are removed; and if there should be cough, or oppression about the throat or chest, then give the expectorant as often and in such doses as may be found necessary to quiet the cough and make espectoration easy.

JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT Has been for Thirty Years the STANDARD REMEDY

RECENT COUGHS AND COLDS, PLEURITIC PAINS, ETC., are quickly and effectually cured by its dispherence, soothing and expectorant power. ASTIMA it always cures. It overcomes the spasmooth contraction of the air-vessels, and by producing free concectoration at once removes all difficulty of breathing. BRONCHITIS readily yields to the Expectorant. It subdues the inflammation which extends through the wind-tubs, producess free expectoration, and suppresses at once the cough and pain.

CONSUMPTION.—For this insidious and fatal disease no remedy on earth has ever been found so effectual. It subdues the inflammation, relieves the cough and pais, removes the difficulty of breathing, and produces an easy expectoration, whereby all irritating and obstructing materials are removed from the lungs.

WHOOPING COUGH is promptly relieved by this Expectorant. It shortens the duration of the disease one half, and greatly mitigates the suffering of the patient. In all PULMONARY COMPLAINTS, in CROUP, PLRU-In all PULMONABY COMPLIAINTS, in CROUP, PLEU-RISY, etc., it will be found to be prompt; safe, Picasani, and reliable, and may be especially commended to Myeny ries, Traosxes, and Singues for the relief of hourseness, and for strengthening the organs of the voice.
