Address of D. J. Neff, Esq.—On Saturday vening last the Hall of the Sons of Temperance, n this place, was densely filled by an intelligent: lience of ladies and gentlemen, to hear Daniel Neff, Esq., deliver his address on Temperance. The subject is one that has been so frequently and bly handled that we wondered what new matter orator could find to dwell upon, but we came ustible. The address was most beautiful, elouent and interesting, and the audience seemed de-

LOGAN HOUSE.-We take pleasure in copying the following complimentary notice of the Logan House, in this place, from the June number of Godev's Lady's Book :- "A visit to Altoona, be agreeable enough, particularly as you have also ful scenery on our continent, passing through populous towns, over a most substantially laid road, winding around mountains and through tunnels.—

This, we say, would be enough; but when you can put up at such a house as the Logan, situated at the foot of the mountains, and nearly surrounded by hills, from the top of which you have delightful views, this certainly adds to the pleasures of the trip. The Logan House was built and furnished by the Pennsylvania Rail Road Co., and is one of the largest hotels in this State. It is kept in the most admirable manner by Messrs. D. R. Miller &

Co., whose attention to their guests is unremitted.

The rooms are as well furnished as those of any private house, and the table not to be excelled anywhere. The constant arrival and departure of the trains make it a lively spot. And now, after having spent a week or more with our friends the over to Cresson, dess than an hour's ride; away you go up the mountain at a speed equal to the level; and here you witness one of the most splendid specimens of engineering in the world-crossing a mountain in a rail road car, hitherto thought impossible until the Pennslvania Rail Road Co., determined to conquer every obstacle, 'went and did t.' Arriving near the summit, you go through a tunnel, and then comes your descent on the other side. The scenery surroundings are majestic and beautiful, and a sojourn at this mountain house in welfare and comfort of a sick or wounded man.

butter and eggs, sponges, ofled silk, rags, ban-lages, lint, and dried fruit. Now, cannot each amily in our town send something?' If the men are too busy to move in this matter, let some of the nergetic ladies of the town "put their heads together," and see what can be done, and we feel ertain they will be promptly assisted in this noble ndertaking, by the men. Battles are occurring lmost every day; our friends and neighbors are eing disabled by thousands, and shall we be so ingrateful as not to render them the little assistance which they beg, for fear, as we have heard ome say, "our William wouldn't get it, anyhow!"

What if our own relatives do not enjoy the benefit the self-same articles we send? Some poor, umanity calls for prompt action. Let us be up

We understand that the public schools of the Millers, jump into the cars in the morning and go East Ward, purpose enjoying themselves in a similar manner to-day. May joy attend them, and may the ever-welcome custom of "Maying" or "pic-nicking" never be abolished. It not only gives rest to the many little minds, which are often severely tasked, but also invigorates the body. The teachers, too, after a day's enjoyment in the woods, are always better fitted for performing the duties which devolve upon them in their noble calling. Major General Sigel .- A despatch was received here on Monday evening last, announcing that Major General Sigel and Col. Thomas A. Scott, Assistant Secretary of War, were on the Express Train Eastward. A large crowd assembled at the depot, on the arrival of the train, all anxious to get a "peep" at the hero of Pea Ridge. Some of our citizens had procured two small cannon, one of which was placed in the rear of the train, and the other in front. With these a constant firing was kept up while the train was waiting for the passengers to take supper. By request the General appeared on the platform of the cars and made a few appropriate remarks. TYRONE CITY HOTEL.—This large and commodious establishment has again experienced a change of proprietors. The incoming landlords, Messrs. Griest & Maclin, have thoroughly refitted and renovated the house, so that all who may favor it with their patronage may be certain of enjoying all the comforts and conveniences of a first-class house. We advise our friends who may visit Tyrone, to stop at this hotel, and we can assure them they will not go away dissatisfied, either with the house or the landlords.

"MIND YOUR EYE!"-Reader, when you prome nade the streets of our borough, mind your eye, and have an eye to your steps, lest you might break your neck, or at least bark your shins. Our sidewalks, with a few praiseworthy exceptions, are in a shocking condition just now-in fact they are really dangerous-but we have faith enough in the enterprise of the property-holders, to hope that the citizens' dress, and his appearance plainly indicated present state of affairs may not continue more than another year.

FLOWERS.—Almost everywhere you go-whether to the woods or the cultivated garden-in the meadow or on the mountain side—you will now find the flowers out in full bloom and fragrance. The wild flowers are especially beautiful and seem to have more claim upon our attention, as they are nature's own; but a sweet boquet, whether of tame or wild flowers, will always cheer the heart of the printer's devil, and cause his face to shine with smiles for the fair donor. Girls, remember.

A LARGE BEAR. Through the kindness of our old friend Joe. Metzgar, we have received the following: "Oliver P. Crissman, of Upper Sinking Valley, in this county, caught in a trap, on the night of the 24th inst., a bear weighing 375 pounds, and measuring 6 feet from the point of its nose to the end of its tail.
