LOCAL ITEMS.
THE FOURTH IN ALTOONA.—As intimated in our last issue, there was no general demonstration in this place on the Fourth, and the town, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 5 P. M., wore a Sunday appearance. Nearly every place of business was closed, and all who felt like enjoying themselves in the country, attended some of the picnics in the surrounding groves.
The only ceremonies which partook of a general character were those got up by the proprietor of Oak Hall, the programme of which we published last week. At the appointed time, G. M. Mr. Bohler's String Band performed an overture, after which the stars and stripes were flung to the breeze by Master Harry Woods, dressed in the costume of a "Young America," while the String Band and company of vocalists performed the "Star Spangled Banner." After the crowd had saluted the flag with three hearty cheers, S. M. Woodcock, Esq., stepped upon the platform and read the Declaration of Independence in a clear and distinct voice, the band vocalists following it with a national air. D. J. Neff, Esq., was then called for and responded in a short address, replete with patriotism and eloquence, and paying a merited tribute of respect to the memory of the heroes who have given their lives for their country in the present struggle. His remarks were well received by the audience, as was evidenced by their frequent bursts of applause, and three cheers when he concluded. Another National air was then performed by the musicians, concluding the ceremonies at about 7 o'clock. Altogether, we considered this enterprise of the proprietor of Oak Hall an exceedingly appropriate and happy manner in which to observe the Nation's birth-day, and none present, we think, regretted having left their couches so early to be in attendance. After the ceremonies, the speaker of the morning, reader of the Declaration, musicians, and a few invited guests, partook of an excellent breakfast served up by Messrs. Woods & McClain at the Altoona House. This part of the programme was exceedingly acceptable, and all did ample justice to the good things spread before them. This concluded, with many thanks to the proprietor of Oak Hall, the company dispersed to spend the balance of the day as to them seemed best.
A number of persons residing in the immediate vicinity of Julia and Rebecca streets displayed their patriotism and good taste by erecting, on the corner of the streets named, one of the prettiest triumphal arches which we have ever seen in a country town. Four arches were sprung from corner to corner, across each street, and two across the centre. These were covered with evergreen and fancy wreaths, and a number of flags and banners. The likenesses of Gens. Scott, McClain and other military heroes of the day, were suspended from the arches, handsomely encircled with wreaths. In the evening the affair was brilliantly illuminated, and was much admired by all who witnessed it.
To speak particularly of any of the picnics seems almost invidious. We could not attend all of them, to witness the mirth and pleasure of the participants, but from the accounts we have received we believe that all passed off well, with one exception.
The members and Sunday School scholars of St. John's Catholic Church met at the Church in the morning and marched out to McCarty's woods, preceded by a martial band, and spent the day very pleasantly—a great abundance of good things and various sources of amusement having been provided.
The German Lutheran picnic in Beales' Woods, was well attended. The refreshments and accommodations were excellent, and good order was maintained throughout the entire day. All who participated in this picnic speak of it in the highest terms of praise. The crowd upon the ground at one time was estimated at near 1000 persons.
The Social Club was exactly what its name indicates—a club of social, jovial, accommodating ladies and gentlemen into whose hands it is a lucky thing to fall when you have an appetite for a first-rate dinner or good times generally. Their work seems to be to enjoy themselves and cause their guests to do the same. They deserve their name—social.

The Select Club held their annual picnic in McCarty's woods, and spent a most delightful day. The music for the occasion was furnished by the Harrisburg String Band, and "tipping the light fantastic toe" was the principal source of enjoyment. Their refreshments were unexcelled, and served out in superabundant quantities to their guests.
The German Catholic picnic was the scene of a free fight, about the time of its breaking up, which resulted in sending a dozen or more men in search of physicians to sew up their cut heads.
How the light originated, we can not say, but how it ended some of the participants will long remember. Clubs, larger beer glasses, stones and an iron mallet are said to have been used freely. We think the principal cause of the rumus may be found in the fact that there was a larger beer stand on the ground, contrary to law, which dealt out that fighting element in large quantities. In order to prevent such disgraceful proceedings hereafter, would it not be well for the officers of the law to prevent the creation of larger beer stands at picnics?
Displays of fire-works were to be seen in different parts of the town after midnight. In this line each individual "went in" on his own hook. We do not participate in this respect.
So passed the Fourth in and around Altoona.

FAREWELL MEETING.—On Monday evening next, a farewell missionary meeting will be held in the Methodist Church, in this place, preparatory to the departure of Rev. Henry Mansel, of the Pittsburgh Conference, as a missionary to India. Mr. Mansel has been in this place for several weeks past, making preparations for the voyage across the ocean, which will occupy four or five months. He will sail from New York about the first of August.
It is expected that Dr. Durbin, of New York, Secretary of the Missionary Society of the M. E. Church, will be present and deliver an address. Addresses will also be delivered by Rev. C. D. Chenoweth, P. E. of the District, Rev. H. Mansel, and Rev. W. Lee Spotswood, and others. The ministers and laity of adjoining circuits and stations, and the public generally, are invited to attend.—No collection.
J. H. Moore is an enterprising character.—By energy and perseverance he has established a profitable business, and is now well known by the mercantile portion of this and several adjoining counties. From peddling matches he has risen to an extensive wholesale dealer in notions and small wares. Formerly he traded with a single wagon, now he keeps two going all the time, and is about to add a third. He manufactures two qualities of steel pens, one of which, the Falcon Pen, we consider equal to any ever placed on paper.—There is now a great competition among the manufacturers of this article, because of the great number used, and there are so many good brands, as well as bad ones, that it is wrong to say one is better than another, nevertheless, we can say that Moore's Falcon Pen is equal to any.
ANOTHER.—On Tuesday evening we were the recipients of a truly patriotic boquet, accompanied by the following patriotic note:—
"Will the Tribune editors please accept this boquet of National colors, from a friend at 'Ingleside'?" May beauty and loyalty ever combine thus harmoniously.
The boquet was composed of red, white and blue flowers, tastefully arranged in the order named.—We accept the gift most gratefully, and prize it the more because of the patriotic sentiments accompanying it. Would that there was as much patriotism in the heart of every lady in the land as there is in that of our friend at "Ingleside."
PATRIOTIC.—The "Model Conductor" of "Great Southern Train" spread his patriotism before the gaze of an admiring and sympathetic concourse of his fellow countrymen and ladies, on the morning of the Fourth, by embellishing the cars of his train with sundry evergreen and fancy wreaths, gracefully draped and appropriately arranged around the eyes, the whole surmounted with an avalanche of miniature emblems of our glorious national flag. "Long may they wave" (that is Jim and the old flag).
ON HIS OWN HOOK.—Our young friend, James S. Mann, as will be seen by referring to another column, has gone into business on his own hook, or rather in partnership, but he attends to the business himself. His stock of goods are equal to any ever brought to the town, and the gentleman or lady who cannot find something on his shelves to please them, need not feel dissatisfied. Remember the place, and if you want anything for the head or feet, give him a call.
CART. CHOIZER.—We are glad to learn from the correspondence of the Senior editor of the Register, who is at Washington, that Capt. R. J. Crozier, of this place, is now at the Douglas hospital in that city. He says the Captain is not dangerously wounded, but is unable to get to his feet, and will have to remain in the hospital for some time. According to the Captain's account 14 of his men are wounded and missing, but he is uncertain as to the fate of them.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.—At a stated meeting of Altoona Lodge, No. 473, held July 4th, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:
WHEREAS, By a dispensation of an all-wise Providence, we were called upon to mourn the loss of our much esteemed brother, George W. Burley, Therefore,
Resolved, That in the death of brother George W. Burley, our Lodge has lost a useful and useful citizen, and the country a valiant soldier.
Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the sorrow-stricken parents and friends of our deceased brother in this time of their deep affliction, and trust that He, who his religion has seen fit to afflict them, will sanctify their affliction and sustain them by His grace.
Resolved, That our Lodge room be draped in mourning, and the members wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.
Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the family of our deceased brother, and that they be published in the "Altoona Tribune."

Pittsburgh Female College.
We copy the following notice of this excellent institution from the Pittsburgh Gazette of the 3rd instant:
The Seventh Annual Catalogue of the Pittsburgh Female College has just been laid upon our table by the President, Rev. J. C. Pershing. We confess that we have examined its contents with a degree of satisfaction amounting almost to pride, as we have marked the fact that we have in our midst one of the most vigorous, well managed and successful institutions in the land. We question much whether one in ten, even of our own citizens, has any real conception of the status of this college has reached, or the grand and glorious work it is today accomplishing. The recent commencement, at which nineteen young ladies received their degrees, gave evidence not only of woman's capabilities, but also of the superior facilities afforded by the college for their development. The entire commencement was a brilliant success and reflected the highest honor on all concerned.
As an evidence of the prosperity of the college we need but state the fact that the attendance the last year reached the large number of two hundred and forty-eight, gathered from nine States. In order to accommodate the constantly increasing number of pupils, an addition has been made to the Faculty, which now numbers fifteen. Most of the old teachers remain. Among the new ones are Miss Martha C. Cole, a lady of large experience, and for some time a teacher in the celebrated school at Mount Holyoke, Massachusetts; and Miss Fannie A. Fish, who has earned such an enviable reputation in our community. The utmost care is taken in the selection of teachers, and the present Faculty is well compared favorably with any in the country.
We are pleased to learn from President Pershing that the college is now making to put up an addition to the building. The design is to add 40 feet to the Chapel, divide the second story into a Library and Reading-room, and also a Hall for the Browning Association, and devote the entire third story to the purposes of an Art Gallery and Cabinet. The design is a noble one, and we trust it will be carried out.
The next term will commence on Tuesday, September 2d. We need hardly urge upon our readers to patronize the College. If fine buildings, thorough equipment, a very large and able Faculty, and earnest devotion to the work of christian education, can give claims to patronage, then we have the college claims which are second to none. We advise our readers to send for a catalogue.
