LOCAL ITEMS. THE MASS WAR MEETING.

The Grand Mass War Meeting held in this place on Saturday evening last, was the largest ever convened in this place, and plainly exhibited the loyalty and patriotism of the toiling masses of our mountain city and surrounding vales. Merchants closed their stores and mechanics their shops, and with a few exceptions-very few, we are glad to say-business was entirely suspended. Long previous to the hour announced for opening the meeting, people began to assemble, and upon the ringing of the shop and church bells, they came in crowds from every quarter. Soon the ladies had occupied every seat arranged for their accommodation, and many were compelled to stand. Annie street, from Main to Virginia streets, was densely packed and the windows of the Masonic Temple, the roofs of adioining buildings and the the Logan House yard fence were filled with men and boys. The space occupied would hold at least three thousand people. The committee of Arrangements had erected a platform for the officers, speakers and musicians in front of the Masonic Temple, which was decorated with a number of large and small flags, and lighted up with gas and lanterns; but, considering the crowd, there should have been two stands for speakers, as it was impossible for those on the outside of the crowd to hear the first addresses .-Shortly after seven o'clock the Altoona Brass Band appeared on the ground and performed one or two airs, after which the meeting was called to order Dr. by Wm. R. Findley, when the following ofticers were nominated and unanimously elected :tion.•

Scott had concluded his remarks, Rev. Schindler, of Lutheran Church of this place, was called upon the stand, but before he had got fairly under way, it was deemed advisable to adjourn to the Court House, inasmuch as the elements gave unmistakable evidence of an approaching storm. As soon as it was decided to act upon that suggestion, the prevalent idea seemed to be "the best fellow first." In arriving at the Court House the doors were found locked, and, as it was some five or ten minutes before the keys were produced, the crowd packed into the hall so tight that it was with difficulty the doors could be opened at all. They were opened, however, and the audience comfortably scated. Rev. Schindler then proceeded with hi remarks, at the conclusion of which a number of resolutions were submitted by Aug. HUYETT & FRIDLEY'S PATENT. These Cans and Jars, being perfectly simple in their ar-rangement, and requiring no cement or solder to make them Air-Tight, are the most reliable and convanient ves-sels for preserving fruits and vegetables of all kinds, that are in the market.

THEY POSSESS THE FOLLOWING ADVANTAGES: Ist. All that is required after the fruit has been put in hot, is simply to acrew the top down tightly. * 21. They can be opened by a single turn of the cover, and the contents taken out in one-fourth the time required by other and the contents taken out in one-fourth the sine required by other cans. 3d. Besides their simplicity and ease of adjustment, and impossibility of stoppers blowing out, they show at all times the exact condition of the fruit, by simply looking at the top of the cover; if the gun is concave the fruit is good; if convex, the fruit is going to spoil, but will always show itself in time to be saved.

Directions.

Directions. Heat the Jars or place an iron spoon in them while filling, which will avoid cracking. After the Jars are full. take out the spoon or iron, and screw down the cap tight. Care should be taken to replace the same covers on the same Jars from which they were taken. To restore the guns that have been used, to their origi-nal shape, put them in hot water for one hour.
