The Draft Postponed.

A recent order from the War Department annonness that the time for drafting has been postponed until the 15th of September. We noticed some time since that the Governors of Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey had petitioned the Secretary of war for an extension of time, believing that they could thereby fill up their quotas githout resort to a draft. We think it will prove that they were correct in their belief, and we believe, also, that the extension of time granted staff, in the rebel army, and was instantly killed. will prove of advantage to the Government. The order extending the time states that none but gained. If the government had drafted for the again at home. same number of men it could only have secured them for nine months, and if, at the end of nine months, the services of the same number still be needed, there would be the expense of organizing and equipping a new levy, and after that they would not be of equal service with those who had been drilled for nine months

Again, the Marshals have, by this time, completed their enrollments, and each district and county knows exactly how many men, if any, are movements of the rebel and loyal troops in the vi- the pleasure of the occasion. wanted to fill up its quota, and the necessary ef- cinity of Manassas during the present week as deforts to secure the filling up of the deficiency can rived rom scouts, prisoners and wounded sol- cer, formerly of the regular army, is very, but I shout of joy for "free niggerdom," and hang injury. On Sunday. careful to know that those to whom it is paid belongs to the district or county paying it. There has been to much looseness in this matter heretofore, and those who have been most liberal now find themselves in a position which requires a doubling of their subscriptions if they wish to avoid the

As we have said before, we do not think that there is anything dishonorable in a draft, yet we confess to a desire to see Pennsylvania's quota made up without a resort to it. Gov. Curtin thinks it can be done, and the Government seems inclined to give him every opportunity to gratify his ambition and save the people of the Keystone from the accusation that they were compelled to do their duty. If there be any reality in the announcement that there were companies formed with the intention of entering the service, but were too late to get in under previous orders, they have now plenty of time to complete all their arrangements and take their places in the field.

We sincerely hope that the day for issuing proclamations by our generals has passed, and that hereafter the rebels are to receive bullets instead of documents. There has been more speech making and address writing than was required either mation of the people. Too often the promises made in these speeches and addresses have not been fulfilled, and too often the rebels have obtained a clue to the next movement to be made through the medium of these published documents. As an honorable enemy we have heretofore conducted the war in an open, honest manner, not shunning the light, but time and repeated reverses have shown that we have an unscrupulous foe to deal with, and that hereafter, if we would trimaph, we must deal with him in his own way. We are contented to do without addresses and proclamations, and the details of movements, if our generals will but proceed quietly, cautiously and thereby successfully. We will wait until they have gained a victory before we receive the details of it, rather than take their promise of it beforehand and then be disappointed.

THE NEW POSTAGE CURRENCY.—The stamps are very pretty. The twenty-five cent note is printed on bank note paper, and is about one-third as large as a dollar bill. The centre is composed of five five cent stamps, with the head of Jefferson upon each. The figures "25" are upon each upper corner. At the top are the words, "Postage Currency. Furnished only by the Assistant Treasnrers and designated depositories of the U. S.;" and at the bottom, "Receivable for postage stamps at any post office." On the reverse side are the figures "25" in the centre, and the words, "Exchangeable for United States notes by any Assistant Treasurer or designated U. S. Depository in sums not less than five dollars. Receivable in payment of all dues to the United States less than five dollars. Act approved July 17, 1862." The fifty cent notes are of the same description, except that the stamp bears the head of Washington. and are printed on white paper, while the twentyfive cent stamps are upon light straw-colored pa-proceeded holdly through Thoroughfare Gap with about 40,000 men, in the direction of Manassas. way, and arrived at Manassas Junction at eight miles in something less than two days. From Manassas he occupied, as has been published, successively, Union Mills, Fairfax Station, Berks'. Fairfax Court House; and, with cavalry, Centreille, Vienna, and even Falls Church, almost within cannon shot of our Capitol-meantime living on an abundance of captured provisions, and lestroying what he could not use. On Wednesday morning, being informed of the daring feat, Pope broke camp at Warrenton and pressed his columns eastward, throwing Gens. Sigel and McDowell, with their commands, toward Phoroughfare Gap, to intercept retreat, and movng toward Manassas Junction with Porter's and Hooker's men. The enemy were driven from Kettle Run Station, west of Manassas, on Wednesday evening, by Gen. Hooker, with considera-ble loss on both sides. On Thursday morning Gen. Pope moved on to the Junction, found it to everybody. I remain yours, vacuated, and pressed on to overtake the enemy McDowell's column struck the retreating rebel ne near Haymarket on Thursday morning, gave nmediate battle, and after a prolonged fight, lrove the entire force of Jackson back southeastwardly, where they rested for the night-of course entirely without food except such as had ken at Union camps. On yesterday, Friday, the battle raged terribly and incessantly—the rebels being everywhere repulsed, though fighting doggedly, as if they had staked their lives upon the die. The artillery firing was almost incessant from morning until darkness proclaimed a truce. Hooker's, King's and Kearney's men are said to have been most in timately engaged vesterday, and to have suffered everely. No details of the fight can be obtained.

ACCOUNT OF SATURDAY'S BATTLE. The following account of Saturday's battle we copy from the Washington Star, of Monday even-

The battle was an artillery battle down to o'clock in the afternoon, each party being engaged in "feeling" the other. Gen. Porter commanded our left wing. Sigel and Heintzelman our centre and left. McDowell's force was in the rear, having been much exhausted in the battle of Friday.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon, the enemy, having massed his infantry, made a furious and successful attack upon Geu. Porter. Our informant, who witnessed the fight in front of Richmond, says that none of the musketry firing there was heavier than this of the rebels at Bull Run. It will turn out, probably, that their rank and file were stimulated by whisky, as they were at Malvern Hills. When he perceived that his left wing was to be attacked, Gen. Pope ordered up McDowell's force to support Gen. Porter, but it did not arrive in time to save Gen. Porter from defeat, but on the contrary became itself involved in the retreat which followed.

In short, the divisions of both Gen. Porter and McDowell were routed and fell back in disorder across Bull Run stream to Centreville. Our right ving and centre remained firm and unbroken. covering the retreat of the left wing, and presering the army from any serious catastrophe

Our informant does not think our loss on Saturday, in killed and wounded, to have been greater than on Friday, say four thousand, but the loss n prisoners was much more.

THE VERY LATEST. Washington, Sept. 2.—Recent advices received from the vicinity of the late sanguinary conflict of our armies in Virginia, with the enemy, report affairs in that locality as comparatively quiet -

The news from that quarter to-day, has been, considering the intense excitement and bustle prealent, decidedly meager. Rumors and stories of the most extravagant nature have been circulated throughout the city, great majority of which have been found on in ry to be entirely unreliable.

Parties who left Centerville late yesterday afteroon, report that the command of Gen. Banks. which had been rumored cut up, commenced ar riving at that point about five o'clock P. M.— There can be little doubt of the correctness of this report, as our informant states that he witnesse he arrival of this command, It is further stated that a march of twenty-five miles was accomplished them on that day in order to reach that position

How HE OPERATED .- It appears by Morgan's account of his raid, that he was greatly aided in his purpose by taking with him an instrument to intercept telegraphic despatches, and at every sta-tion he got to he sent off messages of his own nts to mystify the Union Generals, and intercept theirs, so that he knew all the movements intended to operate against him, and frequently stopped them entirely by dispatches which caused the troops to be sent in another direction. monle about Nashville and Louisville must have had a very big scare upon them the time they were fooled by Morgan in this manner for several

A Battle at Richmond, Ky.

A battle took place on Saturday, near Richin the afternoon, resulting in our troops being driven back with serious loss. The particulars of the affair are given as follows in a telegram from Cincinnati:-On Friday afternoon the rebels beyond Richmond drove in our cavalry. Gen Manson, with the 69th and 71st Indiana, moved up, and after throwing a few shells, the enemy retreated rapidly beyond Rogersville, leaving one gun behind. Gen. Manson bivonacked for the perhaps receive ours from Phila. Who knows? night. On Saturday morning Gen Manson advanced with two regiments and four guns, and making for defence. General Lew Wallace has coming up with the enemy, an artillery fight be- assumed command of the troops. Regiments are gan, with heavy loss on both sides. The enemy attempted to turn our left flank, when sharp fighting occurred between the skirmishers. The 69th Indiana advanced through a dense fire of shot and shell to the relief of our skirmishers, and behaved like old soldiers, but the rebels finally turned our left flank, and advanced in full force on our column. Gen. Manson ordered a retreat, A despatch states that New Hampshire's and fell back three miles and reformed his line of and fell back three miles and reformed his line of battle on some high hills, with his artillery in position on the right and left flanks. Our artillery ammunition was nearly exhausted, and some guns left without men to work them, all having been killed or wounded. Gen. Nelson was wounded about three o'clock P. M., when our men again fell back, retreating to Lexington. The enemy's force numbered from 15,000 to 20,-000. The Federal forces engaged consisted of the 95th Ohio, and the 12th, 16th, 66th, 69th and 71st Indiana, and Mundy's and Metcalf's cavalry. The loss in killed and wounded is heavy on both sides, but the number is not yet known. Lieut. Col. Topping and Major Kunkle, of the 71st Indiana, are killed

A Louisville dispatch of the 31st gives the following additional: At Lexington, last night all the bells were rung, and all male citizens ordered out, who slept on their arms. Major Generals Wright and Wallace are in Lexington. The Federals are fully prepared in case of an attack. Gen. Nelson left en route for Cincinnati to-day. Bowling Green dispatch says a large rebel force under Buckner, was at Tompkinsville. The rebels destroyed the telegraph to-day at the State line, thus cutting off communication with Nashville. Gov. Morton and suite arrived at the Galt House this evening. Considerable excitement prevails in the city.

General Cass on the War.

It has been known that General Cass has felt much interest in the progress of the war, and has very heartily esponsed the cause of the Government. He made public expression of his sentithat any person actually obtaining and holding a ments on the 14th ult., at Hillsdale, Michigan, from which we quote:

"Patriotism and policy equally dictate that our force should be such as to enable us to act with vigor and efficiency against our enemies, and reduce them to unconditional submission to the laws.
Foes will then be converted into citizens by the restoration everywhere of the constitution to its legitimate authority as it came from the hands of the framers. And shall this appeal be unheeded? A long life has taught me to know my countrymen better than to fear they will not answer to the calls made upon them. All, indeed, cannot repair to the field, nor is it necessary they should so. It is a small portion only of the citizens, able to bear arms, who are required to become temporary soldiers. But we can all be useful in this laor of patriotism. Those who go, by the discharge of their military duties, and those who stay, by words and works of encouragement testifying the public feeling and gratitude, and by contributions public teering and gratified, and by contributions for the health and comfort of our citizen soldiers, and not less effectually by upholding the justice of our cause, and by carefully avoiding everything which would have a tendency to impede the efforts of the Government, or to check the partiotic ardor of the people. Our business now is with the present and the future. The differences of the past, if not forgotten, should be adjourned until the standard of the Union again floats, unopposed, from Maine to Texas, and to the Pacific

Drafted men get only eleven dollars per month three dollars less than regularly enlisted soldiers. Whatever else, therefore, may be said of their patriotism, it at least cannot be them that they are fighting for pay.

A BAD SORE LEG CURED.

PITETBURGH, September 18, 1861 .- I hereby certify that have had a sore leg for over a year. It was covered with ulcers and sores so that I could not work for nearly a year. My leg swelled so that I was unable to do any hing for a long time, for at least six months. I tried several of the best doctors in the city, but without any benefit; finally I called on Dr. Keyser, at No. 140 West street, who only attended me about two weeks, and cavme but two bottles of medicine, and I am now entirely vell and have contined so for six months. I am employee at the Eagle Engine House, on Fourth street, where at-

CANCER CURED.

A LETTER FROM ENGLAND.-Mr. John Pope, of Blaene von, near Montypool, Monmontshire, England, writes as

Sir:-An old woman in this place has wished me to write you respecting Lindser's Blood Scarcier hote which she bound great benefit, and wishes to have a latter more. She has been suffering from a disease of a cancel ous nature for the last six or seven years. Her daughted who is living in America, obtained it for her, and sent her eighteen bottles. She is now quite out of it, and I have written to her daughter twice and have received no atswer; of course she is anxious to get more, to get com-pletely cured. I told her I would write to you for the agency in this country, and she felt very much pleased in hear me say so. I now beg to ask you on what terms you will supply me; you will please bear in mind the cat riage, and supply me as cheap as possible. The carrier on the one dozen bottles was £1 8s 6d. The medicine was a present from her daughter. I would like to have the Blood Searcher in a jar or small cask, if you can send it in that ways or in pint or quart bottles. I will send a bill through bank or registered letter, which ever will be most convenient to you, if you will send me carrier's receipt of the parcel as socurity. I would send you a stamp in an swer this, but as it is uncertain of this reaching you, the account of the country being in six and sevens, a term which is commonly used, you will be kind enough to which is commonly uson, charge me with the postage.

Yours, respectfully We have seen the letter which is published in to-day Dispatch, from John Pope, and believe it to be genuine.

We understand that some coward stuck u notice or notices, a few evenings since, stigmatizing certain persons about town as secessionists Now we believe we are loyal and can smell a rebel as far as any other person, and detest him as much as anybody else can, but we do think is dastardly and mean when a man may hold a different political opinion from our own, or we may have some spite at him individually-to stab him in the dark. Such is the conduct of those who have written these anonymous notices. We would say, for shame sake, gentlemen come out and let us test your own loyalty. If you are afraid of an uprising of secessionists in our midstcome out and man the big guns and let us be ready Don't stand behind the corners of the houses al night and shoot with your petty pop guns that hur nobody. For the sake of our common countryfor the sake of humanity, let us lay aside party ealously-and all be Union men. EDITORIAL VISITORS.—The Democratic Sena torial conference met in this place, on Thursda last, and, like all such arrangements, was well attended by the editorial fraternity. We had the pleasure of making the acquaintance of Dr. W. Moore, Esq., of the Clearfield Republican, (rather a singular name for a Democratic paper) and J. S. Todd, Esq., of the Ebensburg Democrat and Sentinel, and found them affable and clever fellows. The latter has just emerged from the back woods by reason of the completion of the Ebens burg Branch, and the former will be out of the woods when the Tyrope and Clearfield R. R. is finished. Trangh, of the Standard popped in a the same time, but we need not say anything about him as the people here generally know him. D. A. Conrad, Esq., accompanied the party. If any man can feel easy on the draft question it is he.

While from some other counties we have accounts of interferences with the Deputy Marshals in the discharge of their duties, we hav heard of none in this county. Our people appear to understand the intention of the enrolment and the consequences of attempting to evade it, either by giving false statements, or resisting the officers It is the heighth of folly for any one to appose the execution of the laws as those who have done will discover. The enrolment embraces all parties and classes, and if injustice be done by a Mar shal the injured party can appeal to the proper an thorities for redress, and be much more sure of receiving it than if he takes the law in his own
