A HARD CASE.—We have information of a case which recently occurred at Blair Furnace, a short distance below this place, which appears very hard and yet we cannot blame the citizens of that locality. The case is as follows: Erastus Kinsel enlisted in Captain Bell's company, 125th Regiment, and at the battle of Antietam received five wounds. After remaining in the Hospital for some time he was allowed to come home to get well. Having almost entirely recovered from his wounds he contemplated again taking his place in the ranks, but a couple of weeks since he contracted that loathsome and dreaded disease—small-pox—and died on Sunday morning last. Up to the time of this writing (Tuesday noon) he has not been buried, nor has any one gone to his place to attend to that duty, consequently his remains lie in the house with his family just as he died. It is sickening, and appears inhuman, when we view the case and think of the situation of his family, and yet we cannot blame those who have never had the disease for not going to inter him, as it would be almost certain contagion, but we think there might be found those who have passed through it who would be willing to undertake the task.

☞ On Thursday evening last, the National Union League of Altoona was addressed by Judge Taylor, of Huntingdon, and Hon. L. W. Hall, of this place. The remarks of Judge Taylor were listened to with close attention, while he presented in a clear and forcible manner the duty of every patriot in this the dark hour of our country's history. All who know Judge Taylor are aware that he is no politician, and in his address before the League he directed his efforts to break down party strife and animosity and unite all in support of the government, arguing that without a country we could have no parties, therefore it was best to save our country first and then talk about parties, rather than split on party issues now and lose country and parties.

He was followed by Hon. L. W. Hall, who made but a few remarks, which, as usual, were full of patriotism, and a little severe on the men who are endeavoring to divide the people of the North and embarrass the authorities in the prosecution of the war.

LEFT THE SIGNAL CORPS.—Capt. J. R. Findley, who was promoted from a Lieutenancy some weeks since, has been relieved from duty with the signal corps, and ordered to the command of his company in the 76th Pennsylvania Volunteers.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE 125TH REGIMENT.—We have on hand a copy of the proceedings of the 125th Regiment in reference to the report of demoralization in the Army of the Potomac, but we cannot find room for it this week. We shall lay it before the people next week, and hope it will have the effect to close the mouths of croakers on that subject.

Temperance and Morality.

The Temptation.

Past twelve o'clock!—sang out the watchman, as young Delamere staggered down Liberty-street towards his lodgings. His attire was of the finest material, but form there was none. He had been drinking and had fallen once or twice, so that his elegant toilet was now most inelegantly disarranged. Still he was not drunk, by no means. It was the street commissioner's fault there were so many obstacles in the way. How could lamps burn brightly in such a smoky atmosphere? He would complain to the mayor, to-morrow morning, and have Watchy removed for insulting him. Show him to his lodgings? He was paid to mind his own business, and not for troubling gentlemen. The watchman, however, guided him home, assisted him in finding the key-hole, and departed, sining lustily, "Past twelve o'clock, and a cloudy morning!"

Late in the morning Delamere woke up with a bad headache—a parching thirst—a sense of weakness—loneliness. The boarders were all gone out. The servants were busy. He washed in cool water, drank copiously of the healthy beverage—met the landlady in the hall, who, instead of scolding, mildly said, "I am glad your mother did not see you last night." "So am I!" he lightly said, but the expression was like a dagger in his heart. He was then an object of pity. At dinner, some of the boarders jeered him, some cautioned him, a few advised him to persevere until he became more seasoned. Turning to one who was his friend indeed, he asked him what he would advise in this interesting case. "Sign the pledge," his friend bluntly replied. This was received with laughter by all the rest. "Oh! yes," said one, sighing; "we have no confidence in your resolutions." "Does your mother know you are out?" sneered a second. "The pledge has a magic power," exclaimed a third; "it is much more binding than your word of honor." "Sign," said his friend earnestly. "Yes, do," added the landlady. "I will," he exclaimed, "this very night, at the meeting." All were silent now they knew his resolve was taken.

"How did you get home last night?" jocularly asked the doggery keeper, as Delamere passed his door in the evening. "Your business is infernal," replied Delamere; "you drained me last night of twenty-five dollars, and then sent me home unattended, caring not whether I was lodged in the watch-house or crushed by the locomotive. How did you treat other victims?" Boniface was taken aback. Had he been a man, such a speech would have excited repentence, or brought on a fight, but such creatures are half fiends, so he merely remarked, "Come in and take a drink; we are all friends here." "Drop the r from the word friends," contemptuously added Delamere, "and you accurately describe your crew."

Delamere signed the pledge, and would have kept it against all temptations save one. On earth no influence save one could have shaken his resolve. Poor fellow. One being could overcome any resolution of his. Delamere was in love! One of the prettiest and sprightliest of Eve's daughters had woven a net of silk and gold around him, and might have led him anywhere! This beautiful creature had heard that her lover had signed the pledge, and was proof against all temptation, and conceived in her silly heart the desire to show her influence over him was paramount.

"Take a glass of wine with me Delamere," she suddenly said, at a party; "I feel fatigued." "My dear, I cannot in honor; for I have signed the pledge." "Can not! Fiddlesticks! do you think I would ask you to do anything unreasonable?" Neither of these young creatures were aware of the fact, but amidst all those lamps, devils waited the result. Good angels gathered anxiously around the sideboard. She drew him reluctantly to the fatal spot, and while the fiends gibbered, and the angels made signs of warning, she poured out the deadly portion. They drank. In one moment she repented of her triumph, for he instantly filled again, saying, "Drink now to my dishonor!" Laughingly he led her to a seat, and poured out all the eloquence of love in praise of beauty and wine. She became restless, feigned illness, and he took her home. Returning, the old landlord espied him. No resistance now! His taste was excited. Honor no longer guarded the portal. Late at night the watchman assisted him to his lodgings. Next morning, nothing but liquid fire would drown his conscience. His career was rapidly downward.

The lady, what of her? Ye angels and fiends who witnessed the temptation, what of her? All ladies who read this article, as you fear God, and love humanity, sign the pledge.—Presbyterian Banner.

CASE OF DANIEL A. BOYD.

PITTSBURGH, December 31, 1861.

DR. G. H. KEYSER:—I take pleasure in making this voluntary statement in favor of a medicine prepared by you called "LINDSEY'S BLOOD SEARCHER." I had suffered for five years with Scrofula which broke out on my head and forehead so as to disfigure me very much, and took off the hair when the disease made its appearance; it also broke out on my arm above and below the elbow, and eat into the skin and flesh so as to expose a fearful sore. The disease on my head went so far that several small pieces of bone came out. I was very weak and low spirited, and had given up all hope of ever getting well, as I had tried several skillful physicians and they did me no good. In September last, 1861, I was induced to try "LINDSEY'S IMPROVED BLOOD SEARCHER." I must confess I had no faith in patent medicines, but after I had used three bottles of Blood Searcher, the ulcers on my head and arm began to heal. I have now taken eight or ten bottles, and my head and arm are entirely well except the scars remaining from the sores. I will also state that I had the rheumatism very bad in my arms and legs. The Blood Searcher also cured the rheumatism. I am now a well man, over forty years of age, and I feel as supple and young as I did when I was twenty, and have increased in weight twenty pounds. I would also state that the disease in my forehead was so bad that when I stooped and lifted anything heavy, the blood run out of the sore. Dr. Keyser had a photoggaph taken of me by Mr. Cargo, the artist, after I began to get well. It does not show my appearance as bad as it was before I commenced taking the medicine. You can see the photograph, one of which is now in my possession, and also at Dr. Keyser's 140 Wood street. I would also state that I took the Blood Searcher which was made before Dr. Keyser commenced making it. Although it helped me some, I did not recover fast until I got the kind made by Dr. Keyser himself. One bottle of his did me more good than two of the old. I believe it is a great deal stronger and better. I have recommended the Blood Searcher to a great many of my friends for various diseases, and I believe it has helped the whole of them. You may publish this if you wish, and I am anxious that all who are afflicted as I was may be cured. I live in this city. No. 4 Pine street, and am employed at Collville & Anderson's Union Marble Works, 54 Wayne street.

DANIEL A. BOYD.

A BLIND MAN CURED.

I live in Sligo, at Clinton Mill and have been nearly blind in both eyes for nearly four years. I called on Dr. Keyser about three months ago and asked him to give me directions to the Institution for the Blind in Philadelphia He told me that I need not go to Philadelphia to get well as he had medicine that would cure me, as he said my disease was in the blood. I was treated for it two or three times in the hospital in this city, and was relieved, but my disease always returned after a month or two after I came out of the hospital. I found my disease was returning and I called, by the advice of a good friend of mine, on Dr. Keyser, who has restored my sight, and my eyes are nearly as well as ever. The Doctor gave me "Lindsey's Blood Searcher" and a wash.

A BAD SORE LEG CURED.

PITTSBURGH, September 18, 1861.—I hereby certify that I have had a sore leg for over a year. It was covered with ulcers and sores so that I could not work for nearly a year. My leg swelled so that I was unable to do anything for a long time, for at least six months. I tried several of the best doctors in the city, but without any benefit; finally I called on Dr. Keyser, at No. 140 Wood street, who only attended me about two weeks, and gave me but two bottles of medicine, and I am now entirely well and have continued so for six months. I am employed at the Eagle Engine House on Fourth street, where any one can see me.

THOMAS FARRELL.

CANCER CURED.

A LETTER FROM ENGLAND.—Mr. John Pope, of Blaenavon, near Montypool, Monmontshire, England, writes as follows:

SIR:—An old woman in this place has wished me to write you respecting LINDSEY'S BLOOD SEARCHER, from which she found great benefit, and wishes to have a little more. She has been suffering from a disease of a cancerous nature for the last six or seven years. Her daughter who is living in America, obtained it for her, and sent her eighteen bottles. She is now quite out of it, and I have written to her daughter twice and have received no answer; of course she is anxious to get more, to get completely cured. I told her I would write to you for the agency in this country, and she felt very much pleased to hear me say so. I now beg to ask you on what terms you will supply me; you will please bear in mind the carriage, and supply me as cheap as possible. The carriage on the one dozen bottles was £1 8s 6d. The medicine was a present from her daughter. I would like to have the Blood Searcher in a jar or small cask, if you can send it in that way, or in pint or quart bottles. I will send a bill through bank or registered letter, which ever will be most convenient to you, if you will send me carrier's receipt o the parcel as security. I would send you a stamp to answer this, but as it is uncertain of this reaching you, on account of the country being in six and sevens, a term which is commonly used, you will be kind enough to charge me with the postage.

Yours, respectfully,
JOHN POPE.

[We have seen the letter which is published in to-day's Dispatch, from John Pope, and believe it to be genuine.—Editors Dispatch Pittsburgh.
