BY THOMAS MACKELLAR. Kiss my little brothers dad my sisters, and to ied for my country." On the field of battle, mother. All the night alone I fay. Angels watching o'er me, mother Till the breaking of the say. I lay thinking of you, mother.

And the laving ones at hone; 'Till to our dear cottage, mother. Boy again I seemed to come He to whom you taught me, mother. On my infant knee to pray. Kept my heart from fainting, mother When the vision passed away. In the gray of morning, mether,

Comrades bore me to the town : From my bosom tender fingers Washed the blood that trickled down I must soon be going, mother, Going to the home of rest: Kiss me as of old, my mother. Press me nearer to your breast, Would I could repay you, mother For your mithful love and care: God uphold and bless you, mother. In this bitter wee you hear.

Kiss for me my little brother. Kiss my sisters level so well: When your sit together, mother, Tell them how their brither fells Tell to them the story, mother, When I sleep beneath the soil That I died to save my country Leaning on the merit, mother Of the one who died for all. Peace is in my bosom, mother, Hark! I hear the angels call!
