

ALTOONA, PA. WEDNESDAY, NOV. 14, 1863.

A heavy press of job work has again delayed our paper and prevented us from giving it proper attention.

Pennsylvania's Quota.

Why are our authorities so tardy in announcing the quota of the different counties of this State, under the call for 300,000 volunteers?

Under the present regulations for volunteering, we hardly expect that Pennsylvania's quota will be filled, if, indeed, there be what we might call a faint response.

To secure volunteers something more is required than to give the matter into the hands of the Provost Marshals, who sit quietly in their offices all day long, and seldom or never take the trouble to say to a man "will you enlist?"

It has been fully demonstrated that the quickest way to secure volunteers is to form new company and regimental organizations.

We hope the General and State Governments will speedily decide some means of bringing the matter properly before the people.

Peterson's Ladies' National Magazine, for December, has been received. The steel engraving in this number is most beautiful.

HEAVY SALES.—The enormous sales of the five-twenty loan, during the past two weeks, fully establishes the credit of the Government.

THE ELECTIONS.—The elections in the States of New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Maryland, Michigan, Illinois and Iowa came off last week, resulting in the complete success of the Union ticket for State offices, and in a great majority of cases for Congressmen and State Legislators.

Gen. B. F. Butler has again been placed in active command. By General Order No. 350, Gen. Foster is relieved of command of the eighteenth corps and of the Department of Virginia and North Carolina and Gen. Butler takes his place.

Army Correspondence.

CAMP NEAR THREE MILE STATION, VA., November 5th, 1863. MESSRS EDITORS.—In your paper of 21st ult., and also the Haldensburgh Register, I noticed an article copied from the Pittsburgh Commercial, relative to the late Colonel Samuel W. Black, of the 68th Penna. Vols.

The article states that, "Strange that one of his soldiers, whom he watched over like a brother, evincing the most solicitude for their health and comfort, did not permit anything to obtain his body."

In justification of the Regiment allow me to say, that at that time there was no regularly organized ambulance Corps in this Army, the duty of conveying the wounded to the Hospitals upon stretchers devolving upon the musicians of Regiments, who were mostly young boys.

In that bloody battle where our forces were outnumbered, Regiments fighting against Brigades and Brigades against Divisions, and the safety perhaps of the whole Army depending on the Corps engaged, men could not possibly be spared from the ranks to secure the body of our brave and deeply lamented Colonel.

The article is also in error as regards the photograph sent to Mrs. Black. I am personally acquainted with the officer who sent it to her and saw it while yet in his possession.

As I have now succeeded in my purpose, viz: the correction of an error, which would leave a false impression on the readers mind, it is not necessary for me to say any more.

A MEMBER OF THE REGIMENT.

The French Rebel Rams Seized.

For some time past it has been suspected that rams were being built for the Rebels in France. There were good grounds for this suspicion. These rams, six in number, were being constructed in private dockyards at Nantes and Bordeaux, and their builders announced that they were intended for the Emperor of China.

The gratifying intelligence has been communicated officially to our Government. Truly the Rebels have had luck in their ram fleet. Two rams locked up in the Messrs Laird, in the Cornhill, and two in the Messrs Laird, in the Cornhill.

THE ARMY CORPS COMMANDERS.—The several army corps, with their commanders, now stand as follows: 1st Army Corps, Maj. Gen. John Newton.

From the Army of the Potomac.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—It appears from information received here to-night, that yesterday morning the Fifth and Sixth Corps, under the command of Major-General Sedgwick, advanced to Rappahannock Station, being the right Corps of the Army.

When Gen. French reached Kelly's Ford, about six miles below Rappahannock station, the enemy threw an entire Division across in support of their picket line on this side. Gen. French hastily followed up the river, bringing his artillery to bear upon them, and he proceeded to attack them with marked effect, not only killing a large number, but throwing them into confusion, scattering wildly and taking many prisoners.

This morning he crossed the river with the remainder of the Third Corps, and at 9 o'clock this morning the two wings of the army had formed a junction, and held both banks of the river.

The enemy, after their defeat in the two separate engagements, was so badly pursued by the victorious forces that they were obliged to abandon the river in their efforts to escape, and many were either drowned or killed by our infantry.

The enemy, after crossing the Rappahannock and under cover of the night, moved in the direction of Culpeper, and the advance guard consisted of cavalry, was reported to be at Brandy Station early to-day.

This morning our whole line again advanced, and General Meade no doubt passed rapidly forward after the retreating foe.

DEAD WOMAN FOUND IN A CORN FIELD. The West Chester Record says that on Tuesday afternoon last, Mr. John Nobbs was passing through his corn field, in West Chester, when he observed a woman lying in the field, he observed the foot of a woman lying in the field, he observed the foot of a woman lying in the field.

LIVING AT ATLANTA.—The Atlanta (Ga.) Confederacy, in a recent article on the wants of the people and the means of supplying them, gives the following picture of the condition of affairs in that city.

A VALLANDIGHAM OFFICIAL PAYING A BET.—The Columbus Express says: "We understand that Wray Thomas, Mayor of this city, and Peter Ambos, Esq., Mayor of the following bet: If Brough should be elected Governor, the public square was to be turned a grid stone in honor of the Union men.

A NEW REBEL BARGE.—It is "Seesch" to wear artificial aggrandisements of the female figure. A correspondent who has been at Memphis lately, says that though hoops are plentiful there, the ladies have agreed among themselves not to wear them.

RECORDED IN INDIANA.—We learn that the war spirit is again awakened in Indiana, and that the new recruits Governor Morton has been permitted to raise are likely to be speedily filled by an excellent class of volunteers.

FAST TRAVELING.—A special train was run through from Cleveland to Indianapolis, over the Bellefontaine line, on Sunday morning, with Secretary of War, Stanton, and Colonel Stager, of the telegraph line, making such good time as to merit notice.

A Woman's Question Answered.

Some one—a woman of course—quires why, when Eve was manufactured from a spare rib, her servant was made at the same time to wait upon her. Somebody else—a woman we imagine—explains in the following strain: Because Adam never came walking to Eve with a ragged stocking to be darned, collar string to be sewed on or hair to be combed, "right away, quick, now!"

One of the most moving incidents of filial affection we have noticed lately is that of the man who writes to his brother from Illinois, who says: "I have got one of the handsomest farms in the State, and have it nearly paid for. Crops are good and prices never were better.

TWO CORPS.—Isaac G. Hoopes, of East Goshen, Chester county, has a apple tree which has produced two crops the past season. It is the Gate apple. The first crop is of a golden hue, and what is singular, the second crop is red and apparently a different variety.

During the month of August the value of the Government horses brought from Canada and entered at Detroit, was $185,000. During the quarter ending October last, the round number for New York was 3,181, worth in round numbers $200,000.

The number of firearms manufactured at Colt's armory in Hartford, during October, averaged one every minute through ten hours of each day in the week, Sundays excepted.

Bishop Ames, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, has sold his beautiful suburban residence at Indianapolis, and will remove from that city to Baltimore.

The locust tree of an old wharf in Baltimore, built in 1774, have just been dug up. The timber is hard and firm as when first laid down.

Gen. Louis Blenker, formerly commander of the German Division of the Potomac Army, is dead. He died of consumption.

WILD GEESSE.—The migratory habits of these fowls have elicited the following rhapsody from a goose quill driver who scratches for the Newburyport Herald: "The wild geese have commenced their Southward flight. Following the warm weather, they have been up to the Arctic sea that Dr. Kane discovered, hatched their young in the sunny coasts where the verdure of summer is almost shaded by the everlasting icebergs, roosted for a night on the north pole, and they now follow the warm weather back to the tropics, to feed on the produce of eternal summer, bathe in the tepid waters beneath the ever blazing skies, and go to roost on the equator."

ALTOONA, PA. WEDNESDAY, NOV. 14, 1863.

A heavy press of job work has again delayed our paper and prevented us from giving it proper attention.

Printing Office.

Having, within the past two years, made considerable additions to our establishment in the way of new machinery, we are now enabled to execute in the most perfect manner all orders for printing, including the printing of books, pamphlets, and all other publications.

Local Items.

PRESENTATION.—A short time since, Mr. John Nichols, Foreman of the Penna. R.R. Mach. Shop, in this place, resigned his situation to accept of the position of Master of Machinery of the Hartford and New Haven R.R. Previous to his departure, the employees of the Altoona Shop presented him with a beautiful gold watch.

Mr. Nichols.—It is with pleasure that we, the Employees of the Penna. R.R. Co., at Altoona Shop, meet you this evening, to tender you our good will and present you with a token of our remembrance, in the shape of a gold watch, which I now hand you, and which I have no doubt you will receive as it is a token of our affection.

I am happy to be the one of our number to address you on this occasion, inasmuch as I have known you from infancy, when you were at home enjoying your boyish days of play and thoughtlessness, and after years of apprenticeship and application. By the example and good counsel of your father and mother, you have been reared to your present position, which is an honorable one.
