The Hollidaysburg Register,-Again. The long leader in the last Register, in unwarrantable and unprovoked assaults upon Mr. Hall, is scarcely worthy of notice. Twice, at least, in long and labored articles, had he made Mr. Hall his target.

For all this, no provocation had been given ; and, in answer to it, nothing had been published, except a simple narrative of facts, over the signatures of Captain Lloyd, Mr. Ely and Mr. Hall himself, in relation to the gratuitous and silly charges respecting the enrollment, and the removal of Col. Piper, (which are now entirely was not, as these papers will still attest, a single harsh expression. When the plain tale of truth had shamed even the Editor of the Register from persistence in his silly and absurd libels, he was not willing to abandon the object of his venom ; but without any provocation, or offering any evidence to sustain him, he thrust forth she charge of PERSONAL DISHONESTY, or want of PERSONAL " INTEGRITT"; and affects now to be surprised that his libels should not be passed unnoticed. He should remember that there is a point beyond which forbearance ceases to be a virtue, and that any one must, indeed, be friendless, who has no friend to say a word in his defence, when assailed and slandered. Mr. Dean is not, surely, so unreasonable as to suppose that he may be allowed to bray on calumny and falsehood, week after week, with entire impunity. Nor, when he does all this to injure his neighbor, should he feel aggrieved at having it hinted that it is not exactly consistent with his christian profession; or with what might reasonably be expected of one who possesses any of the qualities of a man or gentleman; and when, especially, he is so unscrupulous as to assert, what it is impossible for any one to believe, that "towards

Wm. rangement was made that Mr. McAllister and his friends should support him, Mr. Hall, for the State Senate, while he, Mr. Hall, and his friends would support Mr. McAllister for Congress." This is pronounced a falsehood and a libel. The only evidence he gives, is a statement of the vote of Huston Township. A reference to the vote for Congress in 1860, between the same gentlemen,-Mr. Blair and Mr. Mcrectly.

Allister, -- will show that the latter had reply to our strictures upon the repeated then a larger majority in that township. Will Mr. Dean explain this, when, in another article, he undertaks to tell us, (what he seems to have forgotten) whether Huntingdon County is in this Senatorial District ?

He next complains, and makes it his chief complaint, for he says "that's just what's the matter," that Mr. Hall "serves his friends too well." We are glad to know that people generally appreciate acts of friendship, if Mr. Dean cannot ; nor are we willing to admit that it is criminal to do so. Mr. Dean may think otherwise.

He now says, however, "in the discussion of this question, we have no desire to abandoned) and in which narrative, there do the least injustice to Mr. Hall." "We would not needlessly wound his feelings or those of his friends." He, even, as a salvo, adds a friendly compliment to Mr. Hall. He had very kindly said before, "towards Mr. Hall, personally, we do not entertain a single unkind feelling !" We have read of the Ostrich hiding its head in the sand, and fancying its large body concealed; and, the fable of the ass that drew on the skin of a lion to palm himself off for the noble animal. . We accord to Mr. Dean the genius and sincerity of both.

We add, that we have been induced to notice these editorial articles of the Register, in defence of a friend, who has never, o far as we know, done anything to provoke these repeated and malignant assaults upon him, or done anything to injure his unscrupulous maligners and persecutors.

The 10-40 Five Per Cent. Loan.

In another column will be found an advertisement giving information where and how the bonds of the 10-40 five per cent. loan may be obtained .. It is the duty of every man possessed of means to uphold the government which secures him in the possession of his wealth and gives him so many opportunities for increasing it. These investments are safe. Already the bonds of the 5-20 loan which have all been taken, are above par, and although the 10-40 loan may not be ranked with the first, they will not depreciate in value.

Much is now being said and written in refereence to our national debt-the croakers endeavoring to make the people believe, we are being runed-that debt will soon swallow up all our Mr. Hall personally he does not intertain property. These is much misapprehension on this a single unkind feeling!" He may not point, and when the truth is stated, there are those like our adjectives, but he must excuse who, for base purposes, seek to mistify and pervert effusion which we deem at all worthy of perty in the United States from 1840 to 1850, was notice. The article is not, certainly, calculated to excite resentment ; its weakness, and its inconsistency, and its whining, threatening, coaxing, and piteous tone justly claims commiseration rather. He has not, however, the manliness to retract his falsehoods, or the shrewdness to conceal his malignity. When he deliberately charged Mr. Hall with dishonesty, we challenged him to point out how, or where or when, Mr. Hall had ever made a dollar dishonestly; and how does he undertake to do it ! He says he did not say that Mr. Hall was worth "forty or sixty thousand dollars," but that he was worth "forty TO sixty thousand dollars !" He says, too, "we know he is only modify and not change the character of the worth forty thousand from the public Records of the County, which can be ex-baye but use here to the question,)—that the nation will not continue to nearly, if not quite, double its wealth every ten years for several decades to come? We amined by any one, and other evidence as the vast body of other mineral wealth is still unincontestable." Well, "Records cannot lie ;" but since the Records do not show, as we are assured, over TEN thousand, we are pained to conclude that Mr Dean, (who is familiar with the Records) MUST (who is familiar with the Records) MUST Let us compare our position with that of great lie. To our challenge he says further, as Great Britinn during one of the gloomiest periods evidence of what he had asserted, "we answer in the Senate when he was Senator, by receiving money other than his salary for services." And we pronounce salary tor services." And we pronounce this a deliberate falsehood, and call for the proof. We are not disposed, here to let Mr Dean skulk under vague assertions; we demand the proof and shall await his response. He asserts that "Mr. Hall received for services in and about the passage" of two Bills, certain fees, without stating cases, or | and accept whatever deductions we have a right to naming persons. He admits that these Bills draw from them as truth. In spite of the war, not do wrong in voting for them. Will he labor was never before known, and never before assert that Mr. Hall received a penny for industry has never for a moment ceased to create advocating or voting for either of these Bills ! We call again for the facts. Or will he assert that one who has been careful in his business, and prosperous, is, therefore, dishonest? We want to know.

But he reiterates his charge that Mr. Hall violated his pledge in voting for the repeal of the Tonage Tax. We overlook- phantly as it must be, this country is bound to take it. Let us look at the country and its resources, as set before us by the census returns of various years. It appears from the census, returns, that There are but a few things in this last the increase in the value of real and personal pro-from three thousand seven hundred and sixty-four millions ($3,764,000,000) in 1840 to six thousand one hundred and seventy-four millions ($6,174, 000,000) in 1850, or 64 percent. The next decade shows a still greater advance in general prosperity and riches. For in that period, the yield of our gold mines, the extension of our rasiroad system and consequent opening of new fields for agriculture, our large immigration, and the stimulus given to every branch of manufactures and the mechanic arts raised the national wealth from six thousand one hundred and seventy-four millions ($6,174, 000,000) in 1850 to the enormous aggregate of fourteen thousand one hundred and eighty-three millions ($14,183,000,000) in 1860, or 127 per cent, of which ten thousand seven hundred and sixteen millions ($10,716,000,000) was owed in the loyal States. Is there any good reason to believe that we shall not continue to prosper as we have done-(except from the chances of war, which can developed. We have fertile lands enough for an empire, that the plow has never touched, and it is only in this generation that science and art have fairly begun to open the doors, and show the way towards our future greatness. But experience of what others have done will best tell as what we may rightfully expect to do. of her financial history. At the end of her great wars in 1816, her wealth was estimated at ten thousand four hundred millions (10,400,000,000) and her national debt of that time was four thousand three hundred millions (4,300,000,000) or more than 41 per cent. of her entire property. In millions (3,890,000,000) or was a charge on the It needs no argument to show that the weight of the burden of this debt is now, but one third what it was when contracted.

We do not wish to deceive ourselves on either side of this question. Debt is always had enough tion but we should look the facts squarely in the fa should have passed, and that Mr. Hall did as they were three years ago. Such a demand for HOLLIDAYSB'G, Monday May 16th. was it so well paid. War detroys, but our hand of and the creation will more than balance the destruction. Laige as our loses of brave and gallant men have been, the population of the country has steadily increased ; and unless some scourge such as never visited a nation should come upon us.unless we should be utterly destroyed or dismembered and broken to pieces by yielding to this demon of secession,-there is no human power that can arrest our continued progress and development.

All wars have ended as will ours. Let us hope that it may be soon ; but when it is ended, and triumed his casuistry in his first article. He seems now to be in some doubt whether it was right or wrong. He is caraful to me was right or wrong. He is careful to re-' fear that may have once over-clouded his vision.
