

ALTOONA, PA. SATURDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1864

Great Battle in Tennessee. 1.000 PRISONERS TAKEN.

Complete Rout of Rebel Forces. IMPORTANT FROM NASHVILLE. BATTLE MOMENTARILY EXPECTED.

FRANKLIN, Dec. 2. To Major General Thomas: The enemy made a heavy and persistent attack with two corps, commencing at four p. m. and lasting till after dark. He was repulsed at all points, with a heavy loss, probably of five or six hundred men. Our loss is probably not more than one-fourth of that number. We have captured about one thousand men, including one Brigadier General. (Signed,) JNO. SCHOFIELD, Maj. Gen.

Parties who have arrived from the front, were witnesses to the battle of yesterday, and describe the attack of the rebel forces as desperate. Four charges were made upon the Federal line of masked batteries, in a body of four lines deep. Each time the rebels were repulsed with fearful loss. The first is on the north bank of the river, opposite the town. Extending up the river, encircli the town, was the line of masked batteries

Eye witnesses say this engagement, in despera tion and furious fighting, was hardly equalled by the battle of Stone River. Forrest, in person, was in the field, rallying

A rumor is in circulation that he was killed, but it lacks confirmation. About seven o'clock last night, heavy reinforcements reached Schofield, which caused a complete route of the rebel forces.

The city, to-day, is full of fleeing residents of Williamson and other counties south. They state that Hood is gathering up all the horses, hogs and mules he can find, and sending them South. There is a great panic among the negroes in the counties south of Nashville. Numbers are flocking to the city for protection. NASHVILLE, Dec. 1.

The Federal forces under Gen. Thomas retired from Franklin last night, and had taken position and formed in line of battle South of Nashville about three miles. Skirmishing has been going on all day about five miles South of here. nonading can be distinctly heard in the city. No want of confidence is felt by citizens in the ultimate success of the Federals. The employees of the Quartermasters Department are under arms and Confederate officers, including one Brigadier General, and one thousand prisoners arrived in the city this morning, captured in the fight last night near Franklin, Tenn. A great battle may momen tarily be expected.

The British North American Confederation.

The scheme of Confederation proposed for the British North American colonies was getting along finely until within a few days. There had been two convocations of delegates to consider the adopted a form of constitution. The details of this instrument were under discussion in an amicable way, when some of the parties concerned al lowed hints to drop that it was their intention to have it adopted without a vote by the people. The high pressure method of doing things which ed by the leaders of the Rebellion in was adopted by the leaders of the Rebellion in the United States was the model for action, and the design was proclaimed of adopting the new Constitution, and making it the law of the land which were not chosen with any reference to this important matter, which has been sprung upon the people since the provincial elections. This method of overriding the will of the people is advocated seriously by some of the Canadian journals, one of which contends that "it is a "dreadful American heresy to contend that the should be consulted before such things contend that the should be consulted before such things contend that the should be consulted before such things contend and allowed that she was not Mrs. While is high tory doctrine and allowed that she was not Mrs. Kate Beattie. She stated which would make slaves of them at the will of a pronounce their opinions on the new Con-"The omnipotence of Parliament," a mischievous phrase, which has been frequently used to justify absolute wrong, does not deceive them into a submission to the project of changing their institutions without their own authority .-The British North American Parliaments or Assemblies are creatures of the Provincial Constitution, and they have no right to change the fundamental law which gives them authority, without an appeal to the primary source of power. There is already considerable excitement over the proposition, and, unless it is withdrawn, there will be trouble. The Canadians, particularly, are quarrelsome over the most innecent questions.
Here is a bone of contention which would stimulate them into bitter controversy. Perhaps the attempt may be made to ride them down by the omnipotence of Parliament. If it is, there will be lively times among the Blue Noses, in which the native element of French descent will take an important part.

A WATCH WITH ONE WHEEL .- A watchmaker in San Francisco, named Otto Weiderow, has succeeded in producing a most ingenious piece of mechanism. He has invented and manufactured a watch that has only one wheel. This wheel, a mainspring, and a very little other machinery, is so arranged that the watch, when set going, winds itself up, and it will run two years. It would run forever, if the material would hold out, but the ingenious inventor says it is necessary to take it apart once in about two years for the purpose of cleaning and repairing the worn parts. It is certainly a very ingenious, yet a very simple and successful piece of work. Mr. Weiderew is also the inventor of a new sort of clock, with engine movement, the pendulum of which is on top, and works like the walking beam of a steamboat One of these ingenious and simple clocks, with silver dial, gold plated, and gold hands, has been manufactured for exhibition at the Mechanics' Fair, in that city.

The Shleswig-Holstein question, after ort but decisive war between Denmark and Germany, has been settled by Denmark ceding the three duchies of Shleswig, Holstein, and Lauenberg to the victors, and pays to the duchies a fixed sum (about eight and a half millions of rigadalars,) for their claims to the common property of the former Danish monarchy. Shleswig and Holstein will be held by the Prussians and Austrians until the German Diet shall have decided the rival claims of the Grand Duke of Oldenburg to succession in the two duchies, and Denmark will also pay for the shipping captured and destroyed by her fleet. The big powers have nearly squelched the little

October Election---Vote of Penn-

The Harrisburg Telegraph gives the following, which, it says, may be regarded as the official vote of Pennsylvania, for Congressional Representatives, at the October election. In compiling this vote we had to be governed by the returns as made by the different Prothonotaries, and as the majority of these officials made no distinction in what was called the "home" and the "soldiers' vote," the aggregate of both votes only are given in the tabular statement below. In order to get the "home" and the "soldiers' vote," circulars have been issued from the State Department, requesting the different Prothonotaries to furnish statements of the polls in the camps containing Pennsylvania soldiers and in the different election districts throughout the State. It is now conceded in official circles, says the Telegraph, that it will be impossible to ascertain correctly the result of the "home vote" at the October election, for the reason that many Prothonotaries failed to make the necessary distinction in their returns. This being the case, bets which were made on that result, can never be fairly decided. Indeed, we understand that in Philadel-phia and elsewhere, all such bets are being with-

Adventures of a Rebel Woman A letter from St. Louis to the Cincinnati Commercial narrates the adventures of a Rebel woman who has just been arrested by the Government detectives in Missouri. Her name is Kate Beattie. wife of the notorious guerilla chief, Buck Beattie, famous in the Southwest. She has been coming and going from and to the South, since the war commenced, and has conveyed large sums of gold from the Rebel lines, for the purpose of carrying on some of the Rebel plans for liberating prisoners ourning steamboats or Government warehouses. Mrs. Beattie is a highly intelligent woman, not twenty years old, with light blue eyes, and light hair cropped close to her head. When arrested she wore a wig with luxurious black curls, which she shook over her head and shoulders with grace. She is the author of a book on slavery called 'Woman's Fate," and is well known to and highly steemed by the Rebel Generals in the Southwest She is beautifully formed, and has a dash and abandon of manner well calculated to carry her Major Enoch O. Wolf, Confederate States Army, was to have been shot on Friday last, in retaliation for the murder of Major Wilson, United States Volunteers, but proceedings were stayed the case. On the night preceding the execution, however, and before the order countermanding it General Rosecrans' room at the Linden Hotel. and he replied that he would see the lady in the The interview took place, and the lady begged with tears and supplications for the life of her husband, Major Wolf.

General Rosecrans was about to tell her that he had received the President's respite, but his suspi-cions were aroused by the appearance and conduct of the woman, so he requested her to return to her room and he would attend to her case. She reby the votes of the legislatures, the members of turned, making the halls echo with her wailings. In the meantime Acting Provost Marshal-General Colonel Joe Darr was informed of the Rebel major's wife, and he paid her a visit and took her parole not to leave the room at the hotel until next morning, when he promised her an interview with her husband. She was next questioned as to her real name, "are done." This is high tory doctrine, and although the inhabitants of the British provinces that she is the daughter of Mrs. Colonel Sharp have a horror of Yankee fashions, they are not so now in Europe, operating for the Confederacy; that she is the daughter of Mrs. Colonel Sharp, have a horror of Tankee mannions, they are not so stupid as to consent to an arbitrary proceeding that her name was Miss Kate Brown; that she which would make slaves of them at the will of a was educated in one of the first seminaries in very few persons. They insist upon their right to Massachusetts, but acquired a love for the Catholic faith, and early became a convert. She wears a rich ebony cross, which she presses to her lips with fervor, and swears that she will die rather than reveal her purposes here, or the name of any of her accomplices.

She has a Treasury permit to purchase and send into the South six thousand dollars worth of goods, and has purchased large quantities of mili-tary goods, gold lace, gilt buttons, stars, sashes, &c. Although she had plenty of money when making the purchases, none hardly was found among her effects, which include disguises of lifferent kinds.

It has since been ascertained that Mrs. Beattie has been operating here very extensively as a Rebel agent and spy. She made her head-quarters at a fashionable Rebel milliner's on Fifth street, and, through her assistance, supplied Rebel ladies South with finery. The milliner is in one of the female military prisons here, and is awaiting trial before a military Commission.

A GREAT RAILROAD UNDERTAKING .- The work of tunneling the Alps for railroad purposes is so slow, compared with the necessities of internal trade and travel between France and Italy, that it is contemplated to build a railroad over the mountains on one of the military roads constructed by the first Napoleon. The tunnel will not be completed in less than twelve years, but the rail-road ban be built in two. When it is remembered that the summit of the pass through the mountains is seven thousand feet above the level of the sea, with gradients at some points of one in twelve. the descent equally rapid, the difficulties of the undertaking may be imagined. A locomotive expressly for such ascents and descents has been constructed. The railway will be covered with galleries of wood, iron and stone to protect it from avalanches and snow drifts. The project has been favorably received by the Italian government, and English capitalists propose to build it. It will shorten the overland route to India five hun-

A general order has been issued by Adjutant General RUSSEL, directed to the commissioners of the several cities and counties of the Commonwealth, ordering an immediate enrollment and classification of all able bodied white male citizens within their respective limits, liable to enrollment under the militia laws of the State. This order has been rendered necessary by reason of the failnre to raise by volunteering that portion of the Pennsylvania State Guard ordered into service some three months since. The apprehended raids on our border by thieving bands of rebels require an immediate organization of the State Guard, and the enrollment will be commenced at once.

How TREASON AND IMBECILITY SHOULD BE PURISHED.—The following extracts from Gen. Scott's personal memories, just published, are of special interest and applicability now:

Speaking of Aaron Burr's acquittal, he says:
This is to be regretted—not that the thirst for lood was not slaked on the occasion; but because there never having been an execution in the United States for the highest of crimes, our people were, in 1832 and 1861, still untaught a most needful lesson-that playing at treason is a dangerous game. Hence to threaten treason has become an ordinary party device in nominating Presidents, and in factious debates even on the floors of Congress; hence nullification iu 1831-2, and hence the present (1863) mighty rebellion. It is a striking fact that three of our ex-Vice Presidents—Aaron Burr, J. C. Calhoun and J. leader of treason."

Of the disasters to our arms in the beginning of the war of 1812, he writes :- "The patriot reader, stirred with indignation at the deplorable loss of national character, life and property sustained by Hull's surrender; the surprise of Chandler at Stony Creek; the capture of Boerstler at Beave Dam; the abandonment of Fort George by Mc-Clure: the vacillation and helplessness of at least three Generals and many Colonels in the disaster at Chrystler's-will ask at every turn : What! Shall not fatuity, incapacity, ignorance, imbecility-call it as you may-in a commander-of whatever rank—be equally punished with coward dice, or giving aid and comfort to the enemy? Shall a dull man, who ascertains that he can get a little money in the army—not having the ability to earn his bread at home—and accordingly, obtains a commission—shall a coxcomb, who merely wants a splendid uniform to gratify his peacock tains a commission—shall a coxcomb, who merely wants a splendid uniform to gratify his peacock vanity—be allowed unnecessarily to lose his men by hundreds, or by thousands, to surrender them in mass, or to cause them to be beaten by inferior numbers; shall such imbeefles escape ignominious punishment? In every such case humanity—as leading to generally a for death? louldly as justice—calls for death."

An American Lady Married to a Prince.-The New York Herald's Paris correspondent writes: Another American lady has just been added to the list of those who have found husbands and titles in Europe. Miss Mary Lee, of New York city, was married at the American Minister's yesterday, to the Prince of Schleswig-Holstein. uncle of the Duke of Augustenberg. As the Prince belongs to a royal family he could not, with his royal title, contract other than a morganatic marriage with a commoner; so he renounces his title of Prince of Schleswig Holstein, and is married to Miss Lee in the most regular and legitimate manner, under the title of the Duke de Noer, which he holds from an Austrian estate.— He is very wealthy and accomplished, and is sixty five years of age, while the bride is only thirty.— On Wednesday the civil ceremony was performed at the Mairce. The marriage service was conlucted yesterday at the Minister's by the Rev. Dr. Sunderland, pastor of the American chapel here: and to-morrow the third marriage will take place in the Lutheran church. Several American Jadies have married titles in France. Two daughters of General Harney bear the title of Countess, and a daughter of Mr. James Phalen, of New York, some three years since, became the wife of the Vicomte de Gabriac.

EARTH NOT OUR ABIDING PLACE.—Bulwer elequently says :- "I cannot believe that earth is man's abiding place. It can't be that our life i cast upon the ocean of eternity to float a moment upon its waves and then sink into nothingness! Else why is it that the glorious aspirations, which leap like angels from the temple of our heart, are forever wandering about unsatisfied? Why is it that the rainbow and clouds come ever with beauty that is not of earth, and then pass off and leave us to muse upon their favored lovliness? Why is it that the stars, who hold their festival around the midnight throne, are set above the grasp of our human faculties, forever mocking us with their unapproachable glory? And, finally, by an order from the President, until he examined why is it that bright forms of human beauty are presented to our view, and then taken from us, leaving the thousand streams of our affections to was published, Major-General Rosecrans received flow back like Alpine torrents upon our hearts?
