----AN--MERAUTICABLE JURGR. _ "I've gorinthera good story to tell you," wysen correspondent of the Spirit of the Times, "about a jury trial which happened not a thousand miles from Baltimore City

"Court House"

The Court was trying a "hose" case. A gentloman borrowed a horse from a friend and rode the horse about ten miles when the "critter" died. The owner wished seventy dollars for his horse, But his friend thought it rarber dear to hay hoven dollars a mile for riding horseback in January. A dispute arose and the case wout to court. The avidence was to the effect that there was no way to get out of paying for the Chanimal."

So the case went to the jury; the judge remarking that it was for them to state the amount of money due the plaintiff. They went out and forty-right mortal hours argued as to what the horse was worth .-Florenged them, however, had come to the condination that the damages ought to be about $25, as one of the witnesses had remarked that the critter wasn't bigger nor a whelp, and, he thought, he could he' tied him up in a pocket handkereliet."

The twelfth juror, (who by the way, was a new hand at juries, and a religious man, / 3365 loudly contended, however, that the owner of the horse ought to have $70, which was what he domanifed. This so enraged the balation of the jurors, that they awore to be revenged as abou as they were dischargod. In fact they threatened that if he; juror No. 12, did not, make up his mind thus that "wooly hose" was worth haly 25, they would when conssion offered, knock him on the head. Still the old skillfiet held out for $70.

At laugth the balance of the jury found it was no use trying to thange the old man's mind. There he sat, listening to their oaths and arguments. This was too ind, and a" "ruso was resolved upon as the only chance of escape from their horri-, ble "hungry" confinement. One of them, a kind of rough-and-tumble fellow, waxing warm, walked up to No. 12, and remar-

"This won't do! This place is a sort of heaven to you, you old signer, while to us it's a perfect hell !

"Oh, never mind swearing, friend, "rejiled No. 12; "let's argue the case." "Let's argue, indeed, you old cuss !-You've got the whole of us nearly starved, and yet you want to argue?"

"No sweering in the Jury room, if you please. Why not deliberate?" "Deliberate? Well, that's good, deoi-dely so! Will you ever give in? Say yes or no, for your life's in danger !"

respondèd No. 12. "Well then, I'll pitch 'you out of the window, you contrary, stubborn, infernal wir fool !

Saying which he sotually took hold of No. 12 and moved him towards the window, when the latter because dreadfully trightened cried out:

Bailiff! Bailiff!" That officer, hearing the uproar, immediately rushed to the door and opened it .-But all was quiet in an instant. was scared so bad that he could not utter a word. In answer to the inquiry, as to what was the matter, our pugulistic jufor stepped up to the bailiff, (with whom he was well acquainted) and said with a knowing wink :

"Look bere, George, we can't agree, and I want you to do me a favor. I want you to go up to my old woman's; tell her to send me down beds and bedding for eleven; led a coal furnace and a butcher knife!
The ber J may not be home for three months!"

"Very well," said George, "the things 3275 shall be here in one hour Off went the Bailiff, click went-the lock, and up apoke No. 12.

"la Heaven's name, what do you mean?" what I mean We have made up our winds not to stay here snothor night without something in the flesh line to est. Sconer than starve to death we have received to do as other, juries sometimes have done; we'll est one of our communions! Of course, the meanest man will come first, and -"

"But is not the horse worth $60?" "And when he's gone we'll take the next mesnest-

"The horse is worth at least $50 ?" "And so on, until--" 'Isa't the horse worth $40, or $30, or

"Yes, we agreed yesterday or the day before that he's worth $25, but sooner than say on my oath that a horse which could be tied up in a handkerchief, was worth more than $25. I'd turn cannibal, and then cut up myself i"

No. 12 became serious and gave in It was the first time he was ever on a jury, and it will be his last. He after leaving court, welked very fast for a few squares, muttering to himself a congratulation to :Heaven for his escape from what he supposed a murderer's den. He is not 'round' efter Court hours as he 'used to be." The joke which is substantially true, 3281 created much laughter.

PATENT MEDICINES -The Tollowing certificate of Patent Pills is taken from the Philadelphia Mercufy:

"I, John Lubberlie, was supposed to be in the last stage of consumption in the year '49, suffering at the same time under severe attack of rheumatism, liver complaint, dropsy, gravel, and oolers morbus. Simultaneously, also, I took the yellow fover and small pos. The latter, assuming a chronic form completely destroyed my lungs, liver, spinal marrow, servous ays tem, and the entire contents of my crani um. I got so low that I did not know my brother-in-law, when he came to borrow money. For three mouths I swallowed nothing but Kunkelbausen's Pills, which offested an immediate cure in two weeks.

Sworn and subscribed, &c. P. S. My uncle, Bachus Pottinger, was afflicted so long with the gout, (coutructed by fiving too much on bear's meat and alligator's eggs) that life became a harden to him. He took only four boxes of said pills, and life was a burden to him mas astable and in 1650, but was destroyed the people from a superstitious fear that it would cause some confusion or change in their religion.
