DESTITUTION IN ENGLAND.

The people of England should remember the old adage "that charity begins at home" before they commence sympathising with the wrongs of the negro in America. If the money they are sending to aid in the election of Fremont, was appropriated to their own starving white men, they would be doing justice to themselves, to their country, and to the poor tax-oppressed laboring men who are dying from want, and are driven to suicide by hard-hearted creditors. The following distressing account is taken from a London paper, illustrating the actual condition of the white laboring man in England:—Mr. Wm. Carter, the Coroner for East Surrey proceeded with an inquiry at the Britannia Tavern, Wandsworth road, relative to the death of George Hawthorn Vincent, aged 42, a coach trimmer, of No. 10 John street near the above named house.—The evidence of the widow, and other witnesses, showed that on Tuesday morning last about five o'clock, the deceased got out of bed to make some cocoa for his wife, who only had been confined a few days. He was then in a very distressed state of mind, as there was no food in the house for the children (four in number,) and he said he would go and try to get some money to buy bread. About five minutes afterwards a man named Morgan, called for a debt that was due to him, and searched the room to find the deceased, but not doing so said he would imprison him (deceased) when he could catch him. It was believed that at that time the unfortunate man had left the house, but his son, about seven years of age, on going into the yard, saw him in the water-butt. An alarm was made, and a man named Badcock found deceased head downwards in the butt, the water just coming up to the shoulders. He was apparently standing on the right foot, and the toe of the left just touched the ground. He was at once taken out, but was dead. The water-butt was about three feet high, but the water was only two feet deep. The deceased had been unable to obtain any employment, and had walked about four days at a time without tasting food. In his pocket was found a lawyer's letter, threatening him with legal proceedings if he did not at once pay a bill amounting to 4l. 18s. 2d. On Saturday last he borrowed a shilling of a friend, which he spent to buy a little food for his wife; but with the exception of some pieces of meat and a part of a loaf, which the whole family partook of on Sunday, there was no food in the house up to the morning of the deceased's committing suicide. A verdict of "Temporary insanity" was returned in this case.

ADDRESS OF THE CONVENTION TO GEORGE WASHINGTON, PRESIDENT OF CONGRESS.—The following is the Address of the Convention which framed the Constitution of the United States to George Washington, the President of Congress. It is a document which cannot be too deeply reflected upon. It shows most clearly and conclusively with what a spirit of amity, mutual deference and concession, this sacred bond of our Union was formed;

SIR:—We have now the honor to submit for the consideration of the United States, in Congress assembled, that Constitution which has appeared to us most desirable.

The friends of our country have long seen, and desired, that the power of making war, peace, and treaties; that of levying money and regulating commerce, and the correspondent executive and judicial authorities, should be fully and effectually vested in the general government of the Union; but the impropriety of delegating such extensive trust to one body of men is evident. Hence results the necessity of a different reorganization.

It is obviously impracticable in the federal government of these States, to secure all rights of independent sovereignty to each, and yet provide for the interest and safety of all. Individuals entering into society, must give up a share of liberty to preserve the rest. The magnitude of the sacrifice must depend as well on situation and circumstance, as on the object to be obtained. It is at all times difficult to draw with precision the lines between those rights which must be surrendered, and those which may be reserved; and on the present occasion this difficulty was increased by a difference among the several States as to their situation, extent, habits and particular interests.

In all our deliberations on this subject we have kept steadily in our view, that which appears to us the greatest interest of every true American, THE CONSOLIDATION OF OUR UNION, in which is involved our prosperity, felicity, safety, and perhaps our national existence. This important consideration, seriously and deeply impressed on our minds, led each State in the Convention to be less rigid on points of inferior magnitude, than might have been otherwise expected; and thus the Constitution, which we now present is the result of a spirit of amity, and of that mutual deference and concession which the peculiarity of our political situation rendered indispensable.

That it will meet the full and entire approbation of every State is not, perhaps, to be expected; but each will doubtless consider, that had her interests been alone consulted, the consequence might have been particularly disagreeable of injurious to others; that it is liable to as few exceptions as could reasonably have been expected, we hope and believed that it may promote the lasting welfare of that country so dear to us all, and secure her freedom and happiness, is our most ardent wish.

With great respect, we have the honor to be, Sir, your excellency's most obedient and humble servants,

By UNANIMOUS ORDER OF THE CONVENTION.

ABOLITION WARFARE.—The Free-State men in Kansas no longer disguise the fact that they are in open rebellion—in fact, they glory in it. The Springfield (Mass.) Republican, a freedom shd Fremont shrieker, publishes a letter from Kansas, dated August 22, in which the writer says:

"We are having war in earnest—four fights within the last five days, in all of which the Free-State men were the assailants, and the victors! Four lives lost on our side, and some eight or ten badly wounded."

While the white man of Massachusetts are in Kansas killing their own brethren for the sake of the negroes, the negroes in Massachusetts are killing the white men.

GRASSHOPPERS.—Grasshoppers are making sad havoc on the upper Mississippi.—Exchange.

Serves the Upper Mississippians right. Why don't they turn Fremonsters and use them up in pies.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

DEMOCRATIC MEETINGS.—We ask the attention of our Democratic friends to the programme of meetings published in the first column of the second page.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION.—This body re-assembled in the room of the Bellefonte Democratic Club, on the 21th ult., and unanimously nominated Jacob Ehrhart, for County Commissioner, to serve the unexpired term of W. A. Davidson, deceased, and Nathan J. Mitchell, for County Surveyor. These nominations give satisfaction to every Democrat.

THE CENTRE COUNTY AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITION will be held on the 15th, 16th and 17th of October. It is anticipated that a good display will be made, and that it will surpass every exhibition heretofore held in Centre county. The farmers of Centre will show to the world that they are not behind any of their sister counties in the noble pursuit of agriculture.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.—A meeting of the Democratic citizens of Bellefonte and the adjoining townships, will be held in the Democratic Club room, on Thursday evening, October 2d. All those in favor of the preservation of the Constitution and the Union, and the election of Buchanan and Breckinridge, are invited to attend. Several distinguished speakers will be present and address the meeting.

THE CIRCUS.—Rivers & Derious' circus will be here on Friday next. There will be three performances during the day and evening. The first performance will be held in the afternoon at 2½ o'clock by the company performing feats of horsemanship, &c. The second performance will commence immediately after by Samuel Linn, Esq., who will make a grand union entree, riding two nags—Fillmont and Freemore—he will, during the course of the performance go through some extraordinary ground and lofty tumbling, throwing a front sommersault from Fremore to Fillmont, and a back sommersault from Fillmont to Fremore; he will also intersperse the performance with a number of stale witticisms. To keep up the interest, a sick Brazilian monkey will go through the astonishing performance of devouring nineteen apple dumplings.

HARRIS TOWNSHIP.—Pursuant to notice the Democracy of Harris township met at Academy in Boalsburg, on the 1st instant. The meeting was organized by the appointment of the following officers:

President—Samuel Gilliland.

Vice Presidents—Michael Wheeling, Samuel Wilson, John Keller, Jr., D. Boon, Robert Potter, James George.

Secretaries—Dr. Reinhold, Samuel Wilson.

Addresses were delivered by Franklin Fisher, Col. William H. Blair, D. G. Bush, Esq., who discussed the true issues of the campaign in a very able and eloquent style, and were received by tremendous rounds of applause.

For the Democratic Watchman.

MR. EDITOR:—The hybrids had a great meeting on last Saturday, in Hublersburg, an enormous meeting, which was composed of hands from the various furnaces and a large number of Democrats who were present to see Mr. Linn turn sommersets. If the furnace hands were taken away from the meeting, there would have been nothing left but Democrats—except a few of the Know-Nothings who are not able to control their own votes. Walker township will do her duty notwithstanding the furnace operations. Only prevail or manage to get the Know-Nothings to have Mr. Blanchard speak oftener. He does sicken the Know-Nothings terribly. The more meetings they hold, the better the cause of Democracy flourishes. They are begging every man to go to Bellefonte on the 10th, to keep up appearances.

EAGLE.

For the Watchman.

MR. EDITOR:—Since the immense outpouring of the Democracy on the 24th inst., the colloris of Know-Nothingism and Black-Republicanism are doing their utmost to get up a demonstration. We are quite credibly informed, that on last evening a secret caucus was held in Bellefonte, for the purpose of taking active measures to out-number the honest yeomanry of our county, at their mass convention, by a fusion meeting which they contemplate holding on the 10th of October next. The manner in which this object is to be accomplished is by gratuitous contributions. Defeat staring them inevitably in the face, they intend as a last alternative to keep up appearances, and for this purpose money was raised and appropriated to different townships for defraying the expenses of the occasion. A large and enthusiastic meeting they must have, (of course, enthusiastic, judging from the Ned Buntline rowdyism manifested about the Fillmore flag on the day of the mass meeting) and for this cherished object men and teams are to be employed. Not long since they made a proposition of this kind to a gentleman who drove a team at the Buchanan meeting, and who had formerly been identified with their party, but we are happy to inform you that they were most indignantly repulsed. Many Posa attractions were not sufficiently fascinating. Yours, &c., MILESBURG.

FRIEND HAYS:—For the past three weeks there had been posted in this and adjoining townships printed handbills, informing the people that the American or Know-Nothing party would have a grand rally in Jacksonville, on Thursday night, September 25th. At the lower end of these printed bills appeared this clap-trap of an inconsistent imitation, viz; "Let all those persons opposed to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise measure—all the friends of the Union rally." Now, we ask, was it ignorance that induced the getter-up of those bills to insert those two calls, or was it done intentionally. Every schoolboy in this township knows that Millard Fillmore signed the repeal of that Missouri Compromise, likewise the Fugitive Slave act, and consequently those who support him now endorse his two actions, "As to the friends of the Union," what are we to understand by that? Is it the Union of Black-Republicanism, Free-Soilism, Blackguardism, Free-Loveism, and Know-Nothingism. If the latter, allow me to say frankly you have beautifully succeeded, and all we have to say to you is, that hereafter please to strike out the word "American," and insert in its place Black-Republican, and then your bills will read, "A Grand Black-Republican rally," which will be applicable, more appropriate. The publishing of what you practice, and the doing of what you intend shall be done.

But, Friend Hays, the night for this grand humbug rally has come and gone, and we shall now endeavor to give you as briefly as possible the true particulars, for we scorn to lie about such matters. The night came and with it came a number of furnace hands from Hecla and Howard, two drunken brats of boys from Walker township, a few men from Cedar Run, and about seventy-eight men from our own township. Fifty-four of whom were real old Democrats. The meeting was called to order by the appointment of a neutral man to the chair. After which a puppet from Ohio, named Myers, made a very miry speech, upon a very miry subject, in a very miry manner, making everything as he went along as clear as mud. He charged the South as being the only arena for the display of disunionists. But he forgot to say where Greely, Beecher, Seward, Hale, Giddings, Garrison, Burlingame, Sumner, Fred Douglass & Co. lived. He charged the Southern men as being cowards—as never being shot but what it was in the back, but he forgot to say that Washington, Jackson, Marion, Sumpter, Quitman, Taylor, Harney, Johnston, and all our greatest military heroes were and are Southern men. He has a sample of some of his brave Northern men in the person of Hull, Arnold, and others, of still later notoriety, and not a few of them too in Ohio. We, from our heart pity the man that will resort to such meanness to electioneer for Fremont, the coward, swindler and cattle speculator. The man that would be guilty of such blackguardism is a coward himself and not worthy even to be shot in the back, because it is a national disgrace to shoot an old women anywhere.

After miry Myers concluded his Abolition speech—for he is an affirmed Abolitionist, he was followed by the ———. Pardon me friend Hays, I shall disgrace the columns of your paper by noticing a confirmed blackguard. At eleven o'clock some wicked person left the gates of the insane asylum open and one of the idiots appeared on the stand, and vilely introduced a harrangue that made both parties blush with shame, shocked all morality, and palsied what little respect remained after his predecessor had finished. We would advise his father to apply the rod of correction to the scoundrel's back and thus teach him—the dead dog to lie in his own rotten ess among the hills of Bald Eagle, and never again pollute the wholesome air of Marion township with such foul corruption.

In conclusion allow me to say, we sympathise with the ladies who spared no exertion to make a comfortable arrangement for the speakers, and we hope that the next time our American friends have a meeting, they will engage American Speakers, and thus save our fair sex from being grossly insulted by foreign Abolition blackguards whose best efforts can only tend to the entire overthrow of their own respectability.

MARION.

BLAZING OF THE STEAMER NIAGARA CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The steamer Niagara, Capt. F. S. Miller, was one of the regular line running between Chicago and Collingwood, touching at ports on Lake Michigan and Huron. She left Collingwood at 2 P. M., on Monday, with between one hundred and fifty and one hundred and seventy-five passengers. Twenty-five left the boat at Sheboygan whereshe arrived at 2 P. M., yesterday.

When two hours out from Sheboygan, the passengers discovered fire issuing from the engine room, and in a few minutes the whole cabin was in flames. The wildest consternation followed: The boats were lowered and all filled, but capsized, except one containing twenty passengers. Numbers jumped overboard, and were instantly drowned.

The steamer Traveller was ten miles distant when the fire was discovered, but saved thirty persons. The propeller Illinois, bound down, also picked up about thirty, and landed them at Sheboygan. A life-boat at Port Washington rescued twenty persons. Their names have not been received.

George Haley, clerk, of the Niagara, is supposed to be lost. Probably fifty or sixty lives are lost in all.

There is a rumor in the city this P. M. that the fire was the work of an incendiary. It is stated that immediately after the fire was discovered a keg of powder exploded, blowing the flames in every direction. The first engineer was not on board.

The Niagara had on board eighty first class passengers. The remainder were chiefly European emigrants, on their way to Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, &c. The wreck was towed into Port Washington, yesterday.

The Niagara was owned by General C. M. Reed, of Erie. She was built nine or ten years ago, for the Chicago and Buffalo trade, and was one of the largest, costliest, and best constructed steamers on the lake.

The Bulletin's advices have stiffened the market for Breadstuffs, and holders generally are demanding an advance on previous quotations. Standard superfine Flour is scarce at $6.75, and better brands at $6 87½@7 per barrel, but there is little or nothing doing for export at those rates, and sales are confined to the wants of retailers and bakers at $6 75@7 for common and good brands, and $7 25@8.50 per barrel for extra, as in quality. Rye flour is also scarce at $3.75, and we hear of no sales.—Corn Meal is more enquired for, and about 150 barrels Pennsylvania Meal have been sold at $3.37½ per barrel, which is an advance

There is very little Wheat offering to-day, the demand continues good and some 3@4000 bushels, all that could be had, found buyers, mostly in small lots, at a further improvement, prices ranging at 145@152 cents for reds and 158@162 cents for white, the latter for prime lots. DIED, Suddenly in Bellefonte, on the 24th inst. September, Mr. HENRY HARPER, of Haines township.

"In the midst of life we are in death."

Mr. Harper left home in apparent good health to be present at the mass meeting, and arrived in the Penn's Valley delegation. He was conversing with his friends before dinner and was full of hope, not thinking that Death was about to lay his cold hand on him and snatch him without a moment's warning. He was dining at the hotel, and had nearly finished a hearty meal, when he fell from his chair, and died almost instantly. It was supposed he had the disease of the heart. Every attention was paid to him. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn their sudden bereavement. Mr. Harper was a good husband, father and neighbor—a sober, honest man, and respected by all who knew him.

Of that large crowd, assembled on the 24th, how many enter into and fully realize their own situations? The seeds of death are sown in them all, and they know it not.—They are hastening to their final resting place, and they know not at what day, or hour, or moment, their immortal spirits may take flight from their frail earthly tenements and yet they tread on the uncertain tenure by which they hold life. Such is man—how strangely constituted—how blind and perverse his nature, save when his soul is illuminated by the Gospel light of inspiration. He buries himself with the fleeting vanities of this vain world—seeks eagerly after the idle bubble, reputation—directs the whole energies of his mind for the accomplishment at best of some trifling object—hastes to the field to reap glory over the mangled bodies of his fellow creatures—scales the political ladder, to move and control masses by the force of his puny intellect—embarks in the most perilous Voyages, visits the most distant and unhealthy climes, to accumulate the dirty dross of this world—and, in the midst of his petty schemes and speculations, the angel of death summons him to appear before that great tribunal, where he will be judged according to the acts done in this life.

"Art is long, and time is fleeting,
And our hearts, though stout and brave,
Still like muffled drums are beating,
Funeral marches to the grave." **
