

SWITZERLAND AND PRUSSIA—THE STATES OF EUROPE.

The tap of the drum on the green slopes of the mountain Republic, says the New York Daily Tribune, again reminds us that Switzerland, in her old hatred of Republicanism, is about to attempt the oft-projected, the oft-defeated plan of its complete subjugation. Whatever be the ostensible purpose of Prussia, her history informs us of a purpose of Prussia, her history informs us of a purpose of Prussia, her history informs us of a purpose of Prussia...

wear their proper coloring. He is no longer the inactive subject of the law, but its natural creator. He makes it according to his necessities, and it is his duty to make it as he pleases it to do.

The Watchman. BELLEFONTE, PENNA. WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1857. FOR GOVERNOR, WILLIAM F. PACKER, OF LYONING COUNTY. (Subject to the decision of the State Convention.)

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE. We know of but few enterprises more commendable than the Agricultural school, which has been located in our own county, and the buildings for which are now in course of construction. Certain we are, that nothing of so much real importance to the farming community has ever attracted the attention of the people of this Commonwealth, and if the farmers, themselves, manifest an interest in the enterprise, it will not be long until Pennsylvania is prepared to educate men for the cultivation of the soil as well for all other pursuits in life.

It is with such a court and the dangers of such a policy that the Federal Council have to contend. We cannot regard the position of these two nations with indifference. A land extensively divided with republican institutions, drawing its water of life from the same fountain as ourselves, enjoying the same rights and in its national politics, embracing the same spirit of lofty independence which distinguishes a free people from the subjects of absolute monarchy, such a land must ever be to us a study of singular interest and delight.

will own a bulwark at every point. The limits of this article will not permit an extended consideration of the advantages of scientific agriculture, in their various characters of interest, and we must pass from the effect to the cause, with more haste than from the importance of the subject we should do.

It will be a proud day for Pennsylvania, when her College of farmers' boys is completed, and comming generations as they look upon its walls, and realize the benefits that so can only imagine, will shrive in perpetual memory the names of the moving spirits who have secured its construction. If it will be an honor to the Keystone State what shall we say of the immediate county, our own native soil, within which it is located? Is it not a favor that all the citizens, of every class and calling, but more especially the farmers, should hold in high appreciation, that the Agricultural College of Pennsylvania is located in Centre county? Yet is there any other county in the State more deserving of the compliment, or that could present equal claims with our own for the high honor, and have not the Committee appointed for that purpose made the most appropriate location they could possibly have done?

Our PRUDENCE.—We copy the following notice from the Daily Evening Express, published in Lancaster city. The Editors have been, as they state, long acquainted with Mr. Hays, and the testimony they bear of his character is a high and merited compliment.

Nothing of general interest has transpired in the State Legislature since our last issue. Mr. Gregg, in the Senate on the 20th inst., read a bill to change the place of holding elections in Berks township, Centre county, and moved that it be taken up.

HOW IT WAS DONE. Since our last issue, we have been brought in contact with a gentleman, who from his own showing is an intimate friend of Simon Cameron's. From him we have learned where the money was used to accomplish the election of Cameron to the U. S. Senate, and we lay them before our readers just as we received them:—It appears that the money of the political Union, was appropriated to imposing upon the Democracy of various counties, the favorites of Simon, and securing their nomination by the Democratic Convention. Simon Cameron then furnished his nominees with funds to carry on the campaign, and secure their own election, by false promises and false pledges to the voters, who have so basely and shamefully disgraced. And further, our informant states that there were five other Democratic (?) members of the Senate and House that were to forfeit the confidence that had been reposed in them, had it been necessary.

Now we propose to occupy a brief space with an analysis of corruption doubly corrupt, as manifested in the above. These men were carrying on a campaign with the money of a person whose name stood at the head of the Fillmore-Fremont National ticket in Pennsylvania. To be elected as Democrats, it was of course, necessary that they should show the principle of that party, and exert themselves for their success, and those of them who were possessed of sufficient ability, actually "stumped" the audience in favor of Buchanan and Breckinridge—paying their expenses with the money of a Free Soil Elector.

Our PRUDENCE.—We copy the following notice from the Daily Evening Express, published in Lancaster city. The Editors have been, as they state, long acquainted with Mr. Hays, and the testimony they bear of his character is a high and merited compliment.

Nothing of general interest has transpired in the State Legislature since our last issue. Mr. Gregg, in the Senate on the 20th inst., read a bill to change the place of holding elections in Berks township, Centre county, and moved that it be taken up.

SHOWING THEIR CLOVEN FOOT. When our fellow citizens were told during the recent political campaign, that the cause of Fremont was the cause of discipline, many of them met us with bold contradictions, and alleged that their political faith was well designed for the amputation of mankind, and the perpetuity of our institutions, and especially the continuation of Southern slavery. When we told them that their doctrine was fanaticism, that their party was founded upon a single idea, and that for that idea they were blaspheming God and their country, we were hooted at, and our honest exertions impeded. In our political course it has ever been our aim to be fair and to advocate that only which we believe to be right, and ever shall write not to abuse our fellow citizens, but to convince them.

It is not appalling to every American heart, to think that our own beloved land, there are enlightened and educated men, so base as to lend their names and use their efforts to discover our powerful and beloved Union of States, and by weakening the conservative strength of the Republic, and eventually destroying that freedom which constitutes us the happiest people on the face of the globe. Here is the call, read it carefully and closely, and decide for yourselves whether it is not sufficient to consign to eternal infamy every individual whose name is attached thereto, and to condemn any party that would acknowledge them as leaders.

Our PRUDENCE.—We copy the following notice from the Daily Evening Express, published in Lancaster city. The Editors have been, as they state, long acquainted with Mr. Hays, and the testimony they bear of his character is a high and merited compliment.

Nothing of general interest has transpired in the State Legislature since our last issue. Mr. Gregg, in the Senate on the 20th inst., read a bill to change the place of holding elections in Berks township, Centre county, and moved that it be taken up.

SHOWING THEIR CLOVEN FOOT. When our fellow citizens were told during the recent political campaign, that the cause of Fremont was the cause of discipline, many of them met us with bold contradictions, and alleged that their political faith was well designed for the amputation of mankind, and the perpetuity of our institutions, and especially the continuation of Southern slavery. When we told them that their doctrine was fanaticism, that their party was founded upon a single idea, and that for that idea they were blaspheming God and their country, we were hooted at, and our honest exertions impeded. In our political course it has ever been our aim to be fair and to advocate that only which we believe to be right, and ever shall write not to abuse our fellow citizens, but to convince them.

It is not appalling to every American heart, to think that our own beloved land, there are enlightened and educated men, so base as to lend their names and use their efforts to discover our powerful and beloved Union of States, and by weakening the conservative strength of the Republic, and eventually destroying that freedom which constitutes us the happiest people on the face of the globe. Here is the call, read it carefully and closely, and decide for yourselves whether it is not sufficient to consign to eternal infamy every individual whose name is attached thereto, and to condemn any party that would acknowledge them as leaders.

Our PRUDENCE.—We copy the following notice from the Daily Evening Express, published in Lancaster city. The Editors have been, as they state, long acquainted with Mr. Hays, and the testimony they bear of his character is a high and merited compliment.

Nothing of general interest has transpired in the State Legislature since our last issue. Mr. Gregg, in the Senate on the 20th inst., read a bill to change the place of holding elections in Berks township, Centre county, and moved that it be taken up.

ARRIVAL OF THE ATLANTIC. The Collins steamer, Atlantic, arrived this evening with Liverpool dates to the 7th inst. The steamer Africa arrived at Liverpool on the 4th inst. Lord Napier has been appointed minister to the United States. He is a brilliant diplomatist, having served in the British army in Austria, Persia, Russia, Naples and Turkey.

STORM AT THE NORTH. New York, Jan. 19.—The storm last night was the most tempestuous known here for years. The streets to-day are blocked with snow, and Railroad travelling will undoubtedly be suspended for some days. The storm still continues with unabated violence, and all the roads leading to the city are completely blocked up.

Our PRUDENCE.—We copy the following notice from the Daily Evening Express, published in Lancaster city. The Editors have been, as they state, long acquainted with Mr. Hays, and the testimony they bear of his character is a high and merited compliment.

Nothing of general interest has transpired in the State Legislature since our last issue. Mr. Gregg, in the Senate on the 20th inst., read a bill to change the place of holding elections in Berks township, Centre county, and moved that it be taken up.