BOOKS.—Our friends should bear in mind that Mr. Geo. Livingston can supply them with every thing in his line at reasonable rates. He will also procure books from the publishers at the shortest notice. His stock of stationery is large and calculated to supply the wants of all. Give him a call.

UNCLE SAM'S FARM.

Two centuries ago Uncle Sam was an infant, and his present farm was the Red Man's wild. The Indian was no farmer. He left the soil unturned, the trees to grow as they chose, the creeks and rivers to flow as they pleased, the useful metals undisturbed in their bed. His house was of poles, covered with the skins of wild beasts. He made no roads no vehicles, no boat but a hollow log. He stole his clothes from the animals, or went unclad. The plumes of birds, beads of beach shells, the schoolboy's paint stone, were his ornaments. The cane and flint furnished him arrows. His pipe was a stone with a hole in it; his knife a stone sharpened; his grist mill two stones, the rudest thing that can be called a mortar.

Uncle Sam's first crops were enriched with his own and Indian and British blood. Then he began to tear down his old log barn and build better, to open roads, cut canals, improve harbors, rake snags from the river's and cover the States over with a net-work of railroads.

Uncle Sam snips his thumb and finger amid cities spring up like the creatures of magic; he block out a State, and sees a building more glorious than the full blossoming of an ancient empire. With his two iron rails, his Herculean steam horse, and his great train of waggons, he outstrips the swift winds and makes the oaks prick up their ears or move off with fright. The streams are beset with noisy mill gear; the rivers filled with proud steamers; ships, whose tonnage is greater than that of old John Bull, love to hover with their white wings about the seaports and lay their huge bulks along the wharves of Uncle Sam.—There are thick-walled wealth in the cities, happiness in the country, industry and enterprise everywhere.

Whilst more than thirty thousand church spires speak of Uncle Sam's Sabbath propensities, two hundred and thirty-four colleges, with academies and common schools sown broadcast, tell of his wishes and expectations in respect to the rising generation.

Toss up your head Uncle Sam, and let us see the moist of your eye, while we tell you that you have the best and largest farm on this earth! There it lies, "on the top of the globe," cradled between two great oceans, with nearly thirty thousand miles of sea coast, beautiful with great harbors and proud headlands. Surely it is an ill trade-wind that can blow you no commercial good.—Hither shall come the ends of the earth to exchange commodities. Your fairs shall concentrate more interest than did the games of ancient Greece. The produce of your farm shall add a hundred million to the population of the globe. Last year you raised more than two thousand million dollars' worth of agricultural products, and yet the farm is not half cleared; besides, you did over fifteen hundred millions dollars' worth of other work. Then think of your one hundred and thirty thousand square miles of corn field, your hills and deep-down mountains, full of the useful metals, and your California.

A word, Uncle Sam: Do as you have done, and you you shall be the happiest and noblest Uncle that has ever this earth!—St. Louis Democrat.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.—We have received the February number of this valuable and popular monthly, which is filled as usual with the most entertaining and instructive reading matter. The illustrations of this number are the most correct and beautiful we have ever seen. This magazine is published at the low price of $3 per annum. They will also supply clubs of two persons at five dollars; and five persons at ten dollars, or eleven at twenty dollars a year. Send to Harper and Brothers, Franklin Square, N. Y.

WHAT CHANGED THEIR MINDS?—Two years ago James J. Lewis, David Taggart, S. P. M'Calmont, G. J. Ball, and F. K. Jordon, signed a protest against the nomination and election of Simon Cameron. In that protest they said—"We consider him a fit representative of nothing good; and a fit exponent of no honorable principle." These same men voted for him at the recent election. Comment is unnecessary.

A FORTUNATE COMEDIAN.—The morning after his late benefit at the Gaiety, Mr. W. H. Davidge, the clever comedian, was glad to discover that he had drawn the nice little sum of $40,000 in the Maryland Lottery, of which R. France & Co., are the managers.—A consolation for a thinnish house the night before.—New Orleans Picayune, Dec. 13.

If Mr. Davidge can draw in the lottery in that style, it is of little consequence whether he draws houses or not.—N. Y. Sunday Dispatch.

A GOOD STORY is told of the too sanguine Republicans of Brooklyn. Before the election they hired a room in the Brooklyn Museum building, to occupy it as their head quarters, at a stated rent until Fremont was elected! The landlord, being a good Democrat, and sound, Buchanan man, refuses to release them, and intends make them suffer for their folly.

☞ We would particularly request the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Leonard Scott, publisher of the London reprints. Mr. Scott offers great inducements to persons wishing to get the most entertaining and instructive reading that is now offered to the reading public.

PORTER'S SPIRIT is still as spirited as ever. The last number is a gem. This paper is devoted to manly sports, agriculture, literature, &c. Every owner of horses should subscribe for it.

REASON AND COMMON SENSE.—Our readers may remember we have on several occasions spoken in very enthusiastic terms of a preparation which Dr. SETH'S HANCE, of 183 Baltimore street, Baltimore Md., has discovered for the cure of Epileptic Fits. Now, in doing so, we have been actuated by the very best motives, viz., the alleviation of human suffering. From circumstances which have lately come to our knowledge, we fear there is a certain class of persons who are not disposed to try this remedy in a common sense manner. We allude to the fact of selecting a particular case in a town where perhaps there are six or eight cases, and trying it on one case. Now, perhaps the case selected might be the only one of the whole number that it would not cure. This is neither doing themselves nor the medicine justice. If a dozen persons were stricken down with cholera in one town or neighborhood would they all send for a physician, or would only one employ him, and wait and see if he cured the first patient? That plan of procedure would be most absurd. So in the case of Dr Hance's remedy, every one who has Fits should try it for a reasonable length of time. It will not cure in a day or week, nothing worth doing can be accomplished at once. What is easily done is as easily undone. The growth of time is enduring. From the most respectable testimony we have examined, we feel assured that by a proper perseverance in this remedy, nine cases of Epilepsy out of ten may be cured. The Pills are sent by mail free of postage to any part of the world,—Price; one box $3, two $5, twelve 24. You will find the address above.

DUVALL'S GALVANIC OIL will check and eventually cure more aches and pains than any other remedy known. Ask those that have used it.

DIED.

On the 2d inst., EDWARD CARL, son of John T and Mary Anne Johnston, of this borough, aged 4 years and 7 days.

Not all the anxiety and care manifested, and kind attention bestowed by affectionate parents and friends, aided by medical skill, could prevent their loved one from passing to the embrace of Him, who (when upon earth) said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

On Monday, Jan 26th ult., Mrs. CATHERINE LEE, widow of the late Abraham Lee, of Milesburg, aged 72 years.

The deceased was one of the oldest members of the Presbyterian congregation in Bellefonte; having been in constant communion more than half a century. She was also one of the oldest living residents of the town of Milesburg. Only two of her children remain. Her death was calm and happy.

On the 21st ult., at his residence, in Bellefonte, JOSEPH SOURBECK, aged about 35 years.

The deceased has had charge of the Franklin Hotel, in this place, for the last four years. He was a kind and obliging landlord, a warm friend, and a good neighbor. From his door the poor and hungry were never turned unfed, nor were the unfortunate ever turned into the streets for lodging. His affable manners and many virtues endeared him to all who enjoyed his acquaintance, and his absence will be painfully felt by them for years to come. His friends rendered him every assistance during his short illness, that love or affection could prompt, but all in vain. "The rider on the pale horse" had marked him for his own, and the cold icy hand of death could not be stayed.

At the time of his death he held the commission of Lieutenant in the Centre Dragoons, by which Company under the command of Capt Cummings he was buried at Lewistown, his former place of residence. Though the day was extremely cold, yet the esteem in which he was held by the Company was such that, with but one or two exceptions, the entire company turned out to assist in the performance of the last sad duty to their deceased officer. To show the manner in which their conduct was appreciated by the friends of the deceased, and also to convey the thanks of the writer to the individual members of the Company, we subjoin the following note which was received a day or two since, by Capt Cummings, and which explains itself

Alliance, Ohio, Jan 26th, 1857

DEAR CAPTAIN:—The news of the death of my brother, Joseph Sourbeck, came suddenly upon me and shocked me very much, not having heard of his illness. My brother Joseph held a place very near my heart, and in hastening to pay the last tribute to his memory, at Lewistown Cemetry, it was exceedingly gratifying to my feelings to find there so many sympathizing friends and neighbors, following his remains to their last resting place.

Allow me to say, the handsome manner in which you and your gallant Company turned out, and the part you and they took in the interment, affected me very much, and I wish, very respectfully and kindly, to tender you my thanks, and through you to your Company, for their and your kind, brotherly and soldierly attention on this occasion. I shall always hold it in kindly and grateful remembrance, and will always be pleased to meet yourself or any of your soldierly companions as friends. Again thanking you, I am very truly and gratefully, DANIEL SOURBECK

PAIN ERADICATOR

MESSRS GREEN & MCMEEN, GENTLEMEN. For the last three years I have been subject to Neuralgy of the severest character—at one time confined to my room for three months with it, and subject to return as often as I got out of or was in the damp. I tried a great many remedies for it but found no permanent relief until I got Rev. Geo. I. Miles Pain Eradicator, purchased by you which has never failed to eradicate the pain when applied. I also use it for sore throat with the same good effect, and know of it being used for Rheumatism with good results. I believe it to be a good medicine for the above diseases, and no humbug, and would cordially recommend it to all suffering with either Neuralgia or Rheumatism.

MESSRS GREEN & MCMEEN: I have used Geo. I. Miles Pain Eradicator, prepared by you, for Rheumatism in my shoulder and found great relief and would cheerfully recommend it to others similarly affected. JOHN BECK.

LOTTERIES.—The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCE & CO., are the managers, chartered by the State of Maryland, and commissioners elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another feature which the managers call attention to is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the next drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20 dollars. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, (after the Havana plan) and Tontary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over. Address T. H HUBBARD & CO

A CALL TO ALL FARMERS!

FARMERS, DROP YOUR TOOLS—PAUSE A LITTLE—READ THIS AND REFLECT!—THE FARMERS PROMOTION BOOK—A NEW AND SCIENTIFIC MANURING SYSTEM, for the cultivation and increase of all kinds of grain, grass, fodder and pasture, upon all kinds of soil, proved by actual experiments and based upon evident truths, designed to improve agriculture in all its branches, represented by upwards of one hundred and sixty engravings of the most valuable grasses and plants connected with the system, by DR. C. G REINHOLD, of Bellsburg, Centre county, Penna.

In this treatise it will be seen that the object is how to give the farmer that kind of information which enables him to make practical application to lessen labor and increase his grain, fodder and pasture. The doctrines, as taught by this manuring, and fodder, and pasture cultivation system are rational, clear and evident and suggest an improvement in the mode of agriculture hitherto unknown to our farmers, and which, if adopted and carefully practiced cannot fail to advance the interests of the farming community. Such a work has been much wanted, as it fills a void which has long been felt, but which there has hitherto been no attempt to supply. And as farmers of Centre and Huntingdon county are recommended the work to every farmer, as we fully believe that they will reap the greatest possible benefit from it.

MECCA AND MOHAMMED.

G. P. PUTNAM & CO.

Published, Thursday, September 25, Burton's Pilgrimage to Mecca and the tomb of the Prophet, with introduction by Bayard Taylor. 1 vol 12 mo., with illustrations. $1 50.

The history of this curious boy is as follows:

Burton an officer in the East India Company, having, by a long residence in Upper India acquired a perfect knowledge of the Oriental languages and customs, projected a visit under the auspices of the Royal Geographical Society, to the holy city of Mecca, and the tomb of the Prophet at Medina, places rarely if ever before visited by any Englishman. This he successfully accomplished in 1853-4, disguised as a Mohammedan Dervish. The history of the pilgrimage is not surpassed in interest and originality by any book of travel ever published—embracing his residence at Cairo as a Mohammedan Student, the journey across the desert with the great annual caravan of Pilgrims, the visit to the tomb of Mohammed; the discovery that the sacred Black Stone is an aerolite; the annual sermon preached at Mecca to an estimated audience of 150,000 Pilgrims gathered from all parts of the Moslem world, his narrow escape from detection, and the only accurate account of the ceremonies of the Musselman faith.

To the religious community this work furnishes information never before made public respecting the ceremonial laws of a large proportion of the Eastern World; while for general interest, Burton's narrative will compare favorably with either Lothen or Crescent and the Cross.
