Our modest and virtuous young friend s evidently distressed, and fears his ability to resist temptation! Ho infimates that none but females of the baser sort indulge in low necks, says "there is nothing more. disgusting than to see a grown up girl promeading the streets with her neck, shoulders and arms exposed to the gaze of the public," and, with the cry of "Shame," evidently as one who takes a deep interest in their welfare, he expects the ladies to ignore them. and calls upon them to "frown down all fashions which expose their modesty!" Now, ve regard "modesty" as one of the loveliest traits in the female character,-(pity it so scarce), -and think it would be better or the ladies to frown down all fashions shich expose their immodesty! However. adies will dress as they please, regardless denunciations from any quarter. They annot be made to believe that," beauty, hen unadorned, is adorned the most," and onsequently, will call in the aid of foreign ornaments. And so long as bosoms fashonably bare are indulged in, and tolerated by society, the only sufe course for our miable cotemporary is not to criticise the adies' dresses too closely, and, so far as it possible, keep out of the way of tempta-

These thoughtless depretiations, accommitted almost daily, are exceedingly annoying to owners. At Patterson, New Jersey, Tast week, two little girls were arrested and fined for shealing flowers from a gravo. We mention this fact by way of caution to those who perpetrate similar depredations in our beautiful Cemetery.
