A curious case, involving the right of a father to dispose of his children by will at his death, although their mother be alive, has just been decided at Pittsburgh, Pa. ber, leaving a widow, Margaretta, and three children, aged inne, eleven, and thirteen years. As the husband was a Protestant and the wife a Catholic, he appointed guardians for the children, by will, and directed As the husband was a Protestant them to be brought up in Protestant faith. The children were accordingly taken from the mother and placed at a Protestant school, but the mother applied for a writ of habeas corpus to recover them. Judge Williams, of the District Court. decided, however, that the power to constitute a guardian by deed or will, attested by two witnesses, given by the statute of Charles II, ch. 24, was in force in this State.
