The Execution of Wm. J. Clark.

The announcement that the execution of Wm. J. Clark was to take place to day brought quite an unsual crowd of strangers to town. Early in the morning the exciteinent segan, and continued throughout the day. The gloony aspect of the weather, had a docided effect on the community. Everybody looked sad and felt sad. The ushering of a human being into enternity, upon the gallows, being of such a rate oc-currence (the first in the county) every one felt auxious to get a sight of the criminal. About 0 o'clock, we repaired to the jail yead, which we found crowded with mon, women and children, all curiously examining the callows on which was to be executed the unment began, and continued throughout the gallows on which was to be executed the un fortunate criminal. At half past 9 o'clock the Sheriff had the jail yard cleared, and only admitted the clergy, physicians, jurors, deputy sheriff's and reporters. The street in front of the jul was literally crowded with human beings. At the re-quest of the prisoner, the lymn "The day of juligment." was song by some two or three persons present, in a very impressive man-ner, after which the Roy. Mr. Hardon, read ----the 51st Psalm and made a very affecting the first Paslim and made a very affecting prayer All this morning he was constantly under the apiritual advice of Rex's. Yeomans. Harden, Stover, Hall, and Oppenheum, of this place. He remained very stole, occasionally giving generarous that he was ready to neet his first judge. Rev. J. W. Yeomans then engaged in a most affecting prayer, com-une adong the crimmal to the tender mercy of a sin pardoning God. All, that failed to affect him. His well studied stores in caused from to remain stendy and unwavering Afem to remain steady and unwavering. A bout 11 o'clock he was conducted to the place of execution, dressed in a black suit of clothes attended by the Sheriff, Dr. Simon ton, and his spiritual advisers Not a tear escaped his eyes hardly a muscle moved his frame; at times completely composed, and mostly maintaining a stolid indifference He ascended the steps of the gallows with unwavering trend After getting d, he read his dying declarations, in which he charged some of the witnesses with alloc-testimony and merely re-asserting his innocence of the dreadful crime of which he stood charged. As for Mrs. Twiggs he be-times at Burnside's noncence of the dreadful crime of which he stoad charged. As for Mrs Twiggs he be hered her innocent of the crime of murder. That she had an opportunity to do so, he netwowledged but he could not conceive the following were sound on conceive the following were sound on the best of my knowledge " "In my death I/go where my heaven will be more glorious " "I am in "Kee Findings of all descriptions at Burnside's Burnside's
