While we have been employed in this selves to every emergency. Jandable enterprise, we have given expres proving conscience. We have studiously on deavored to become familiar with the vital principles of Government, limited down to us by our Revolutionary fathers. We see them engrafted in our political economy, and they inspire us with renewed energy. With in the exercise of our fervent functions, that duty shall be discharged as faithful scutinels

We never have been the mouth press of nor endeavored to advance the interest of any-one, asking a County nomination at the hands of the Democratic party. In short dle with the business of others in this respect. So long as we concede the right in ranks and declared themselves the "better ing considerable Democratic gains the old land marks of Democracy to make Democrats," inviting all others to follow nominations by a convention of delegates them. It is no fault of the Democratic partent to support the candidates of its choice

To appropriate our columns to the lane fit of scheming and designing men, would be prostituting their use to a purpose meonsistent with our convictions of duty to say nothing in regard to a necuniary policy - And if any person either inside or outside the ranks of the Democratic party, suppose we could be used as a medium for such pur that party. poses, he has greatly mistaken the chinae .
