THE DEMOCRATIC WATCHMAN.

BELLEPONTE, NOVEMBER 95, 1854 LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

THE LECTURE ON TURSDAY EVENING .-- On Tuesday evening last the introductory Lecture of Dr. Wm. Elder to the Fencibles, took place in the Court house, to a very large audience. Notwithstanding the very unfavorantness of manner and expression that at time once fixes the attention of his hearers.

A vote of thanks was tendered him at the conclusion of the lecture, which was really in circulation. It requires close examinaa general outburs: of popular applause. The tion to distinguish them from the genuine speaker responded to the complimentary We would therefore worn our citizens to be enabled him to discharge his duty from posed uponaffinity of mind in his highly intellectual and attentivé audience.

While the lecture was an admirable pro duction, we cannot refrain from expressing our regret that allusions were made (unintentionally) calculated to excite partizan feeling.

We are sorry for this, and we hope that a strict regard for the rules of propriety in this respect will be observed on similar occasions in factors.
