The Democratic Party,

From the tone of the Democratic paper throughout the State, it may be safely inferred that the Democratic party are becom ing more firmly united. The causes of the unfortunate division, that crept in among us are s 'tled, and we hazard nothing In saying that no difficulty or division amongst us need be apprehended for years to come The plain, yet dignified and manly course pursued by President Buchanan in his administration of public affairs, has won those who were inclined to opposition, and they have been constrained to praise, where they would more freely consure. No President ever lived down opposition in so short r time, nor did it more effectually, and by the influence of principle alone. The moral beauty of integrity, was never more strik inely displayed than in this case, and it is to his power alone we may attribute the change that has taken place in the public

It may be said that the General Adminis tration has yet its unreleating enemies -True, it has, but they are fast fading away Douglas, the strongest amongst the strong, has ab licated and withdrawn from the destructive contest. There are some, too who may be found among the fanatical disciples of Abolition doctrines those who would carry their opinions into effect at the expense of freedom itself, and who deeply interesting news. The war pane, embediment of Momon power and infla-would be the tore of freedom itself, and who deeply interesting news. Common sense however, will put these madmen down, and we have the strongest guarantee that their nefationschemes can never succeed, as long as Mi Buchanan is President.

Prominent and leading Democrats may act as Undly as they can may disgrade their principles, slander their prity and be come as treacherous as Judas still, the par ty itself guided and impelled by its principles, will move onward, override every opposing element, and come out of its subsequent contexts with victory perched upon its banners - heaping honor upon those who have stood by and defended its standard duhave stood by and defended its standard dn-ring the siege, and levying the odium due which are in the interest of the Emperor mon-church but then en aged in exposing the traitor upon those who plot treason and more or less, employ their columns in set, the deformatics of that church, which he had ring the siege, and levying the odium due rebellion in the camp for the purpose of silf-segrandizement, and thus, accomplish the ances which France has suffered at the hands with all its degmas and their practical work aggrandizement, and thus accomplish the good which the triumph of its principles. will insure to the country.
