THE DEMOCRATIC WATCHMAN.

BELLEFONTE, FEBRUARY. 24 1859.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

LECTURE.—The following letter, addressed to the Bellefonte Fencibles, was handed to the company at their meeting on Saturday evening last:

TO THE BELLEFONTE FENCIBLES:—

Gentlemen:—The undersigned in common with your fellow-citizens of the borough, feel that a debt of gratitude is due to you for the intellectual entertainments you have furnished us in the form of lectures by distinguished literary gentlemen. They have been highly instructive, and their tendency must be to elevate the standard of literary taste among us. We do not wish to be regarded as dictating to you when, or by whom the next of your course of lectures shall be delivered, but as your neighbors, we are confident that you will appreciate the motives that prompt us to ask that the next lecture be delivered by your own Captain, A. G. Curtin. He is our townsman, a favorite among us, and known to be abundantly competent to entertain and instruct an audience in a style as happy and satisfactory as any other now within your reach.

George Livingston, John Tönner, J. M. McCoy, J. K. Shoemaker, F. S. Wilson, D. I. Pruner, P. B. Wilson, James Irvin, Jacob D. Valentine, George Fairlamb, George Valentine, Wm. Shrock, J. Montgomery, J. D. Shugert, Samuel Linn, John Hoffer, Wm. P. Wilson, Wm. J. Stein, Wein Forney, Geo. L. Potter, Delaune Gray, Wm. S. Gilliland, Geo. W. Tate, A. C. Tonner, James Burnside, E. B. Snyder, Wm. H. Blair, George Grafius, Adam Hoy, Wm. C. Welch, Jno. T. Hoover, Thomas McCoy, Wm. Cook, J. B. Butts, Ira C. Mitchell, John D. Lieb, Dan'l Leyden, J. B. Awl, J. S. Barnhart, David Bollinger, Wm. P. Macmanus, H. N. McAlister.

After some consultation with Col. Curtin, by the company, he consented to deliver the proposed lecture on Tuesday, the 8th day of March, next, with the understanding, however, that he was to receive no remuneration for said lecture, but that the proceeds should be appropriated to the company, to be used in the liquidation of debts necessarily contracted in the fitting up of their armory &c. Col. Curtin's reputation as an orator and scholar needs no comment from us, and the company may expect an audience of unprecedented magnitude, and the people, an intellectual feast, worthy of their patronage.

BELLEFONTE FENCIBLES.—We clip the following extract, relating to the Fencibles, from the Pennsylvania Sentinel, written by its correspondent, "Rural":

"You are not probably aware, that great as Centre county is in other respects, she is still greater in her military spirit. We have, in Old Centre, quite an array of military companies, two of which it is my purpose now to notice. The first upon the list has been alluded to in my former letters, and, although a new one is generally conceded to be the finest looking company in Central Pennsylvania. It is hardly necessary to say that I allude to the Bellefonte Fencibles Capt. A. G. Curtin which company is a little in advance of most others having in addition to the usual martial music, a number-one Brass Band. They are a body of noble young men—well made spirited, and as ambitious as any set of fellows that ever shouldered a musket in time of peace.

The company is the largest and best equipped of any I have ever seen in the interior, and I believe that Captain "Andy," while on parade drinks in more glory than he did while officiating under Gov. Pollock, as Secretary of State. I take my que in this particular, from Adjutant General Wilson, who I heard remark, during our recent encampment—"Andy is now in his glory."

This conclusion was easily arrived at for when the company was brought into line by the subordinate officers, with the signal to the captain that all was ready—the whole body as a single man presenting their glittering arms, their long black plumes waving in the air, and the music brought to the centre, Louis Philippe might have envied him his glory as he advanced to his post amidst three cheering salutes from the peals ing drums and fifes, while the tall and Bushy ensign measured the time by three graceful waves of the star-spangled banner of our country, and as he (the captain) replaced with a military air his plain, though pretty chapeau, on his noble head, while his right hand clasped and drew from its silver plated scabbard, the sword that hung by his side, then must his heart have swelled with a most military pride. He bellowed out the word of command loud enough to be heard throughout the ranks of Bonaparte's army. "Attention, the whole!—Shoulder arms," &c., and thus the vastly scientific evolutions were performed with the utmost "pomp and circumstance of war."

HEADLY'S LIFE OF WASHINGTON.—The agent for H. T. Headly's Life of Washington is distributing the work to subscribers. Mr. Dellet can be found at the Franklin House in this place, where any person, desirous to obtain a copy can do so by calling upon him. Orders left with John H. Morrison, Bellefonte, J. G. Larimore, Pleasant Gap, or with the proprietor of the Eutaw House, Potter's Mill, will receive prompt attention, providing they be accompanied with the cash. This is a new work—beautifully illustrated and is one of Mr. Headly's best productions. Every family should be in possession of a copy.

We learn from the Centre Reporter that Daniel Roush, of Madisonburg, captured a Black Wolf, two weeks ago, by means of a poisoned bait which he had set for the purpose. A fox got hold of the bait first, ate part of it and carried the remainder off a short distance, when he fell dead from the effects of the poison: the wolves soon got upon the trail and followed after, and devoured Rainard and the bait, and next morning Mr. Roush found one of the wolves near by, unable to get away, and dispatched him with a few blows. This flock of wolves number some six or seven, and have lately killed several dogs and sheep in Brushvalley.

REV. E. B. SNYDER preached at the Farmer's High School, on Sunday morning last, the first sermon preached there, we believe, since it was opened for the reception of students.

Rev. Odilo Vondergreen has been lying dangerously ill, for several days. We hope soon to hear of his recovery.

MEETING OF THE GAS COMPANY.—It will be seen by the following report of a meeting of the Board of Managers of the Bellefonte Gas Company, that Robert McKnight, the worthy Superintendent, has been exonerated from all charges of negligence in the late accident. We are glad to see that the company has taken a course to have the matter presented to the public in its proper light.—Certainly Mr. McKnight cannot consistently be charged with any dereliction of duty:

AT A MEETING of the Board and Managers of the Bellefonte Gass Company, held on Saturday the 19th day of February, to investigate the causes of the Gas explosion at the Episcopal Parsonage, the following facts were reported:

That the pipes leading to the Church, and also those in the Church were laid more than two years since, under the direction of Wm. Holme, before the works went into operation.

That the branch, leading into the cellar of the Parsonage, was connected with the service pipe, outside of the Church, and placed under ground. The Parsonage was not fitted up for Gas, nor was it introduced into the Church until last week. The Superintendent of the works was not here when the pipes were laid, and never had his attention called to them, whereupon it was

Resolved, That having examined the facts connected with the accident at the Episcopal Parsonage we are unanimously of the opinion that Robert McKnight our Superintendent is free from blame and do hereby exculpate him from all charges of negligence or want of fidelity, in the premises.

Resolved, That taking into consideration the fact, that the Parsonage has, since the pipes were introduced, been vacant for a part of the time, and when occupied in the hands of different tenants, coupled with the experience of the Board in the perfect workmanship of Mr. Holme in his absence we are led to believe that the pipe leading to the parsonage had been sealed up, and from some unknown cause, had been opened.

EDMUND BLANCHARD, President.
EVAN BLANCHARD, Secretary.

THE following paragraph is going the rounds of the press. We transfer it to the Watchman—not only because we rarely have anything so good but because we could have nothing better:

DO RIGHT.—A man that has a soul worth a six-pence, must have enemies. It is utterly impossible for the best man to please the whole world; and the sooner it is understood and a position taken in view of the fact, the better. Do right though you have enemies. You cannot escape them by doing wrong; and it is little gain to barter away your integrity, and divest yourself of moral courage to gain (?) Nothing. Better abuse by the truth—frown down all opposition, rejoice in the feeling that must inspire a free and independent man. Be just, and fear not.

BOROUGH ELECTION.—The election held in this borough on last Friday, resulted in the election of the following gentlemen:

Justice of the Peace, Wm. Welch

Arab Morals and Manners.

Another curious specimen of Arab manners was recently presented to the Military Tribunal of Algiers. An old Kabyle, named El Hadj Mohammend, and his son, a young man, Mohammed El Arbi, of the tribe of Beni Bqu-Youssef, residing in the village of Tiflerdoud, circle of Fort Napoleon had occasion to absent themselves from home on the 8th of August last, and were to return at day-break the next morning. The young man arrived first, and, partly opening the door of the hut he was horrified to see his sister Tessadit, wife of a man of another tribe, but who was on a visit to her parents, lying on the arischa—a sort of estrade on which beds are placed—and reposing near her one Sghir, who, though a marabout, was a noted libertine; while the aged mother of the man and his sister, Fathma, sat looking at the guilty couple. As the fact of a strange man being with his sister was an outrage on the family honor, the impulse of the young man was to kill both her and her paramour; but he waited until his father arrived. The old man coming up shortly after, was likewise excessively indignant; but before taking the vengeance which Kabyle customs justified, and even called for, he summoned the principal inhabitants of the village and showed them the guilty pair. The none these people made at last attracted the attention of the latter; and at the same moment the old man and his son, rushed into the hut, followed by their neighbors. The old man seized his wife by the throat and attempted to strangle her; the younger rushed towards his sister but the neighbors interposed to protect the women. In the midst of the confusion the seducer rushed from the hut and took to flight. The old man and his son pursued him, armed with their flissas long knives. The son overtook him first and stabbed him several times.—One Shman went to the marabout's assistance but was driven away by the young man. The two men then closed in a deadly struggle and rolled down a ravine. Old Mohammed now joined them, and he and his son with their knives, killed the marabout, in spite of the latter's brother to save him. The father and son then returned home, where mother and daughter were waiting trenchingly; and the former without hesitation killed his wife, and the latter his sister. Almost all the inhabitants of the village witnessed this act, but made no attempt to prevent it. For these three homicides Mohammed and El Arbi were tried by the tribunal, but as it was shown that they had acted in accordance with the usage of their country, and that what they had done was right, they were acquitted.

WHY WILL you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous disease which affect the stomach, liver and in fact, the whole system. Until Dr. Greene discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science had exhausted itself in vain attempts to cure this disease.

The Oxygenated Bitters,

For the cure of DYSPEPSIA or INDIGESTION, Liver Complaint, Asthma, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Fever and Ague, Heart Burn, Waterbrash, Acidity, Sea Sickness, Scurvey, Nausea, Headache, Emuna, and General Debility, or any disease having its origin in imperfect Digestion.

These Bitters, as all classes of our fellow citizens, including Members of Congress, Lawyers, Physicians, Clergymen, Editors, Farmers, and others testify, are the only safe certain and sovereign specific for the immediate relief and permanent cure of the many cruel complaints which in some phase or other of Dyspepsia afflict our race.

These Bitters were discovered by Dr. GEORGE B. GREEN, and in their formula differ entirely from that of any other preparation of medicine. Containing no alcohol, no mineral, no poison, no noxious drug, in their nature tonic, not stimulating, retaining their virtues in any clime, they are "a combination indeed" of Medicine which knows no rival in exterminating disease and restoring the system to its pristine vigor and health. No matter of how long standing, or however induced or chronic in its character the disease may be, —no matter that it has baffled the skill of the physician, and resisted the efforts of medicine, a single trial of these Bitters will satisfy the sufferer that his disease is amenable to the proper remedy.

In testimony of the many cures effected by this remedy, reference is had to the written certificates from distinguished individuals known all over the land.
