

THE WATCHMAN.

Published weekly by S. BARNHART, EDITOR. BELLEFONTE, PENNA.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 3, 1893.

James Buchanan.

No man ever lived down opposition so fast or produced such dreadful havoc among all the plans and schemes of his opponents, as the President. A few months since nothing but the utter and total annihilation of the entire Union was the complete thing hanging over the heads of the man who was the confident prediction of the Black Republicans and Know Nothings.

How is it? The reply is simple. He has done right. He has steadily promoted his country's welfare. The nation's good and the people's happiness have been his only aim.

Can any man do that and be called a failure? No. Not only has he done the greatest good for his country, but he has also done the greatest good for the world.

Will he resign? The recent arrival from California brings the intelligence that the Legislature of that State had adopted a resolution in favor of his resignation.

The State Constitution. In the House of Representatives of this State, a bill has been introduced for the purpose of amending the State Constitution.

What a Republican says of it. A Washington letter writer, in speaking of the Republicans in voting against the admission of Oregon, says that El Thayer, a liberal Republican from Massachusetts, declares that the Republicans, by their opposition to a free State, have cut the throat of their party.

At an election held in Williamsport on Saturday last, for Burgess, J. M. Crane, Democrat, was elected by 140 majority. A good beginning for 1893.

Senator Douglas and the President's Special Message.

For want of room we are unable to publish the Special Message of the President Buchanan, asking Congress to confer upon him authority to use force in compelling foreign powers to respect our national rights and honor, and particularly to enable him to keep the transit routes over the Isthmus open to the uninterrupted passage of American citizens between the Atlantic and Pacific States, but we'll endeavor to lay it before our readers next week.

Mr. Douglas has rejected the President's call for the attention of Congress to this matter. He believed the President ought to have the power that he asks. We have such interests that we ought to have and must have the highway to our Pacific possessions kept constantly open.

The Executive of every other nation on earth has that power under their respective forms of government. It was not right and our duty to keep open these transit routes and to be kept open by persons or property which are not under our control.

How is it? The reply is simple. He has done right. He has steadily promoted his country's welfare. The nation's good and the people's happiness have been his only aim.

Can any man do that and be called a failure? No. Not only has he done the greatest good for his country, but he has also done the greatest good for the world.

Will he resign? The recent arrival from California brings the intelligence that the Legislature of that State had adopted a resolution in favor of his resignation.

The State Constitution. In the House of Representatives of this State, a bill has been introduced for the purpose of amending the State Constitution.

What a Republican says of it. A Washington letter writer, in speaking of the Republicans in voting against the admission of Oregon, says that El Thayer, a liberal Republican from Massachusetts, declares that the Republicans, by their opposition to a free State, have cut the throat of their party.

At an election held in Williamsport on Saturday last, for Burgess, J. M. Crane, Democrat, was elected by 140 majority. A good beginning for 1893.

The Tariff Question.

If there is one question, says the Philadelphia Argus, upon which more than all others, the position of Pennsylvania Democrats has been studiously and pertinaciously misrepresented by an unscrupulous Opposition, that question is the Tariff. For years the most insane appeals have been made to the people to overthrow our organization for the reason, as it was alleged, that we were opposed to protecting and encouraging the important interests of the Commonwealth.

Under this state of affairs, and with such indications starting us in the face, it would seem to be the duty of our Government to exercise some practical supervision over that quarter, and at the least send out a minister, in evidence that we have not relinquished our rights of observation and protest.

How is it? The reply is simple. He has done right. He has steadily promoted his country's welfare. The nation's good and the people's happiness have been his only aim.

Can any man do that and be called a failure? No. Not only has he done the greatest good for his country, but he has also done the greatest good for the world.

Will he resign? The recent arrival from California brings the intelligence that the Legislature of that State had adopted a resolution in favor of his resignation.

The State Constitution. In the House of Representatives of this State, a bill has been introduced for the purpose of amending the State Constitution.

What a Republican says of it. A Washington letter writer, in speaking of the Republicans in voting against the admission of Oregon, says that El Thayer, a liberal Republican from Massachusetts, declares that the Republicans, by their opposition to a free State, have cut the throat of their party.

At an election held in Williamsport on Saturday last, for Burgess, J. M. Crane, Democrat, was elected by 140 majority. A good beginning for 1893.

The News.

The surmise which we indulged in recently, that perhaps, the real intention of the new dictator, MINNISON, in marching upon Vera Cruz, was to open that door to SANTA ANNA, seems to have a fair chance of being realized. News has just reached Washington, from which it comes back to us by telegraph, that two commissioners from Mexico were, at the last offices, on their way to St. Thomas, in order to invite the stability of San Jacinto back to his old country, in order to take full charge of the Government.

It is true this information is not officially authenticated, but we look upon it as likely to be true, because it agrees with the recent condition of affairs, and is undoubtedly the wisest policy which the present impotent and unorganized Government could follow.

How is it? The reply is simple. He has done right. He has steadily promoted his country's welfare. The nation's good and the people's happiness have been his only aim.

Can any man do that and be called a failure? No. Not only has he done the greatest good for his country, but he has also done the greatest good for the world.

Will he resign? The recent arrival from California brings the intelligence that the Legislature of that State had adopted a resolution in favor of his resignation.

The State Constitution. In the House of Representatives of this State, a bill has been introduced for the purpose of amending the State Constitution.

What a Republican says of it. A Washington letter writer, in speaking of the Republicans in voting against the admission of Oregon, says that El Thayer, a liberal Republican from Massachusetts, declares that the Republicans, by their opposition to a free State, have cut the throat of their party.

At an election held in Williamsport on Saturday last, for Burgess, J. M. Crane, Democrat, was elected by 140 majority. A good beginning for 1893.

Pen, Paste & Scissors.

A colored marriage is thus noticed by one of our exiles: "I had last week looked Cobb to Miss Kate W. What a lovely couple they make the result!"

How is it? The reply is simple. He has done right. He has steadily promoted his country's welfare. The nation's good and the people's happiness have been his only aim.

Can any man do that and be called a failure? No. Not only has he done the greatest good for his country, but he has also done the greatest good for the world.

Will he resign? The recent arrival from California brings the intelligence that the Legislature of that State had adopted a resolution in favor of his resignation.

The State Constitution. In the House of Representatives of this State, a bill has been introduced for the purpose of amending the State Constitution.

What a Republican says of it. A Washington letter writer, in speaking of the Republicans in voting against the admission of Oregon, says that El Thayer, a liberal Republican from Massachusetts, declares that the Republicans, by their opposition to a free State, have cut the throat of their party.

At an election held in Williamsport on Saturday last, for Burgess, J. M. Crane, Democrat, was elected by 140 majority. A good beginning for 1893.

Communications.

What is a "Criterion of Truth?" I find it perilous to compliment a student. "I would better far to knock him on the head at once."

How is it? The reply is simple. He has done right. He has steadily promoted his country's welfare. The nation's good and the people's happiness have been his only aim.

Can any man do that and be called a failure? No. Not only has he done the greatest good for his country, but he has also done the greatest good for the world.

Will he resign? The recent arrival from California brings the intelligence that the Legislature of that State had adopted a resolution in favor of his resignation.

The State Constitution. In the House of Representatives of this State, a bill has been introduced for the purpose of amending the State Constitution.

What a Republican says of it. A Washington letter writer, in speaking of the Republicans in voting against the admission of Oregon, says that El Thayer, a liberal Republican from Massachusetts, declares that the Republicans, by their opposition to a free State, have cut the throat of their party.

At an election held in Williamsport on Saturday last, for Burgess, J. M. Crane, Democrat, was elected by 140 majority. A good beginning for 1893.

For the Democratic Watchman.

MESSRS. EDITORS.—There are always in every community, some men who seem to take pleasure in acting the duncie, by abusing and ridiculing every person who makes it their aim and highest duty to do good to a Christian, and to improve their lives.

How is it? The reply is simple. He has done right. He has steadily promoted his country's welfare. The nation's good and the people's happiness have been his only aim.

Can any man do that and be called a failure? No. Not only has he done the greatest good for his country, but he has also done the greatest good for the world.

Will he resign? The recent arrival from California brings the intelligence that the Legislature of that State had adopted a resolution in favor of his resignation.

The State Constitution. In the House of Representatives of this State, a bill has been introduced for the purpose of amending the State Constitution.

What a Republican says of it. A Washington letter writer, in speaking of the Republicans in voting against the admission of Oregon, says that El Thayer, a liberal Republican from Massachusetts, declares that the Republicans, by their opposition to a free State, have cut the throat of their party.

At an election held in Williamsport on Saturday last, for Burgess, J. M. Crane, Democrat, was elected by 140 majority. A good beginning for 1893.

The State Constitution. In the House of Representatives of this State, a bill has been introduced for the purpose of amending the State Constitution.

What a Republican says of it. A Washington letter writer, in speaking of the Republicans in voting against the admission of Oregon, says that El Thayer, a liberal Republican from Massachusetts, declares that the Republicans, by their opposition to a free State, have cut the throat of their party.

At an election held in Williamsport on Saturday last, for Burgess, J. M. Crane, Democrat, was elected by 140 majority. A good beginning for 1893.

The State Constitution. In the House of Representatives of this State, a bill has been introduced for the purpose of amending the State Constitution.

What a Republican says of it. A Washington letter writer, in speaking of the Republicans in voting against the admission of Oregon, says that El Thayer, a liberal Republican from Massachusetts, declares that the Republicans, by their opposition to a free State, have cut the throat of their party.

At an election held in Williamsport on Saturday last, for Burgess, J. M. Crane, Democrat, was elected by 140 majority. A good beginning for 1893.

The State Constitution. In the House of Representatives of this State, a bill has been introduced for the purpose of amending the State Constitution.

What a Republican says of it. A Washington letter writer, in speaking of the Republicans in voting against the admission of Oregon, says that El Thayer, a liberal Republican from Massachusetts, declares that the Republicans, by their opposition to a free State, have cut the throat of their party.

At an election held in Williamsport on Saturday last, for Burgess, J. M. Crane, Democrat, was elected by 140 majority. A good beginning for 1893.

The State Constitution. In the House of Representatives of this State, a bill has been introduced for the purpose of amending the State Constitution.

What a Republican says of it. A Washington letter writer, in speaking of the Republicans in voting against the admission of Oregon, says that El Thayer, a liberal Republican from Massachusetts, declares that the Republicans, by their opposition to a free State, have cut the throat of their party.

At an election held in Williamsport on Saturday last, for Burgess, J. M. Crane, Democrat, was elected by 140 majority. A good beginning for 1893.

The State Constitution. In the House of Representatives of this State, a bill has been introduced for the purpose of amending the State Constitution.

What a Republican says of it. A Washington letter writer, in speaking of the Republicans in voting against the admission of Oregon, says that El Thayer, a liberal Republican from Massachusetts, declares that the Republicans, by their opposition to a free State, have cut the throat of their party.

At an election held in Williamsport on Saturday last, for Burgess, J. M. Crane, Democrat, was elected by 140 majority. A good beginning for 1893.

The State Constitution. In the House of Representatives of this State, a bill has been introduced for the purpose of amending the State Constitution.