THE DEMOCRATIC WATCHMAN.

BELLEFONTE, MARCH 10 1859.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

LECTURE.—On last Tuesday evening, our fellow-townsman, Hon. A. G. Curtin, delivered a lecture on the "Growth of Liberty." This was the fifth lecture, of a series given by the Bellefonte Fencibles. It is well known to our readers that this lecture was delivered at the invitation of our citizens.—The weather was extremely unfavorable, but a large and respectable audience, was in attendance, which the speaker held enchained during an hour and three-quarters, by the power of his unequalled oratory. Comment on the character of our distinguished townsman as a public speaker, we deem unnecessary. But the ability displayed on this occasion—the research necessary to so thoroughly understand the various elements that engendered the rise, and perpetuated the growth of Liberty in the past ages of the world, are worthy of notice, and required in their attainment, that application observation and reflection, which few persons either naturally possess or ever acquire by the advantages of education. The speaker was loudly applauded during the remarks. The Bellefonte Brass and String Bands were in attendance, and added quite an interest to the proceedings.

We suggest that another lecture be given by the Fencibles, and that they extend an invition to Samuel Linn, Esq., of this place, to delivered it. We should be glad to hear of this suggestion having been favorably considered, and believe no more acceptable speaker could be named for the occasion.

AN IRISH LOVE LETTER.—Och Paddy! awate Paddy! if I was yer daddy, I'd kill you with kisses intirely; if I was yer brother, and likewise yer mother, I'd see that you wint to bed airly. To taste of your breath I would starve me to death, and lay off me boots altogether: to joost have a taste of yer arm on my waste and larf at the manest of weather. Dear Paddy be mine; my own swate valeatine—ye'll find me both gentle and civil—our lives we'll spind to an elegent ind, and care may go dance to the divil. Throw off yer ould hat, and away yer ould coat, for others both dacent and new, can be had from M'CLELLANS chape clothing store, both chaper than chapeness, 'tis true. Dear Paddy, you ll find that your Biddy is kind and will lead yer through life, always tellin' that you sutly should buy, else my patience you'll try, all yer clothing from Wm. M'Clelland. Do this, and I promise to wed you, dear Paddy, as surely as time's rolling river, flows into the sea as its flowing away—if ye don't, then be jabbers I won't do it—niver.

QUACK NOSTRUMS.—The majority of hair washes, hair dyes, hair tonics, hair oils, and the numberless preparations which are now before the public under such extravagant, hyperbolical and fantastic titles as we see paraded in show-window cards, and newspaper headings, as hair preparations, are all humbugs of the first water; their real merit, when they possess any, is, that they do no harm. Bogs' lard, whale oil, lard oil, sweet oil, scented and colored, make up, when in beautiful wrappers, and white flint glass bottles, the costliest character of tonics, and when thus costly, are baptised with some tri syllable term and caught at by verdant young and old of both sexes. Such is not the character of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative. This gentleman comes before the world without any "high falutin" Xilophoforium, or any other astounding and startling catch penny term: he simply advertises a Hair Restorative what it expresses, precisely, and as a Restorative it acts. Buy Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and as you value your scalp aye, your very brains, apply nothing else; for it may be that you will get some worse substance than perfumed lard oil on your cranium. Remember Wood's Restorative for the Hair is the best article extant.

MARCH.—The advent of this month has been under very changeable circumstances. Clouds, rain, sleet, snow and sunshine, have alternately succeeded each other. The weather maker must certainly have missed some part of his calculations, or else made the calculations to test his ingenuity on variety. Mud is almost intolerable, with no very favorable indications of a change in this respect for some time to come. We suppose, however, our readers may have made similar observations on this very original subject, and we shall, consequently, leave it to their own consideration.

MILESBURG CLOTHING STORE.—Mr James M. Kinport, who is now engaged in the Clothing business in Milesburg, designs closing business in that place, on the first of April, proximo. This gentleman has had the reputation of selling cheaper, than has been offered to the public elsewhere in the County. We hope our citizens will not forget to make an examination of his stock, as it is his determination to dispose of it before leaving, on such terms as will make it object of great consideration to the purchaser.

ST. CHARLES CITY INTELLIGENCER.—What has become of the St. Charles City Intelligencer, published in Floyd county, Iowa?—We have had it on our exchange list for a long time, but have received only a few numbers. It is a good paper, and we should be glad to receive it more regular. We feel an interest in the growth and prosperity of Northern Iowa. Will the gentlemanly editers regard our request?

INVIGORATOR.—Any person wanting to enjoy health longevity and the "pursuit of happiness," should test that invaluable remedy, Dr. Sanford's Invigorator. It is an excellent medicinel and the commendation it receives from the press, over the country is good evidence of its utility. Every person should try the good properties of the invigorator.

THE LECTURE, delivered at Boalsburg, some time ago, on the subject of education, and forwarded to us for publication, has been found too lengthy for our columns. This will account for its non-appearance.

A STARTLING TRUTH!—Hundreds die annually from neglected coughs, and colds, when by the use of a single bottle of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, their lives could be preserved to a green old age.

Later From Europe.

ARRIVAL OF THE EUROPA.

SANDY HOOK, March 7.—The Royal Mail Steamship Europa, from Liverpool on the 19th ult., has passed here with one day's later news.

The Atlantic Telegraph Company's bill was withdrawn in the House of Commons on the night of the 16th: but leave was given to bring in another bill, to enable the Company to raise additional capital, and for other purposes.

The bill legalizing marriage with a deceased wife's sister was passed in the House, to a second reading, by 58 majority.

The Independence Belge states that France was preparing a memorandum containing an exposition of the grievances against Austria. The danger of statu quo will be pointed out and explanations frankly demanded. At the same time France will say that while she is desirous of peace, she is far from fearing war.

The Austrian journals have been ordered to assume a moderate tone in their articles relative to France.

Austria is stated to have proposed to the secondary German Powers treaties of alliance, and three of them had concluded secret treaties with her, but only to be acted upon in case that war shall be carried to a different theatre than Italy.

A new Prussian loan was in contemplation.

Sardinia is stated to have established two regiments, for the purpose of enrolling in them deserters from the Austrian forces.

Shocking Suicide in Cincinnati.

A Woman Shoots Herself in the Presence of her Husband.

[From the Cincinnati Gazette, March 5th.]

A suicide, under remarkable circumstances, took place in this city about six o'clock last evening. The history of the matter appears about as follows:—

For a considerable time past a Hungarian named Emanul Gerrard, who keeps a cigar store at No. 620 Vine street, opposite Green had suspected his wife of an improper intimacy with a German physician, (whose name it may not proper to give,) and had accused her, from time to time of making and keeping assignations with him. The familiar intercourse of the two was made the subject of neighborhood gossip, and had been industriously reported to the husband. The Doctor had been in the habit of visiting the store two or three times every day, and the husband had warned him that he must cease his attentions, and he had not made his appearance in the store since last Tuesday.

Some time last week a letter written by the wife to the Doctor, making an appointment to meet him at the Postoffice on Sunday last, fell into the hand of her husband, and by his request an apprentice in his employ, named Jacob Goebel, witnessed the meeting, and followed the parties about the street, until the return of the wife to her residence. They did not stop at any place of resort, but walked and talked for an hour or two.

Yesterday evening, the husband and the apprentice were sitting at a table in the cigar store engaged in manufacturing, the wife occupying a chair between them, when Gerrard accused his wife of adultery. An angry dispute followed, in which both became very much excited and used harsh language, which continued for some time.

Mrs Gerrard finally arose from her seat and passing behind the counter, took down a loaded pistol hanging upon a nail, and walking back to her husband placed the muzzle to her right temple, and bitterly blew the top of her head off. Her brains were scattered in every direction—over her husband, the show case of cigars and table and the shelves and boxes in the store. Of course instant death followed.

Coroner Carey was called to hold an inquest, when the facts, as we have detailed them were divulged in the evidence.

It appears that Mr and Mrs Gerrard before coming to this, occupied a very good social position, and the wife descended from a noble Hungarian family. They were both very quiet, orderly persons. Whether the act of self destruction was caused by shame at the discovery by her husband of disreputable conduct, or by indignation at his accusations, can never of course be known.

Mr. Gerrard is perhaps thirty-six years of age, and his wife was about twenty-eight.—The suicide created an intense excitement in the vicinity and thousands of persons collected at the locality of the tragedy, many remaining until a late hour last night, discussing the various rumors in connection with the affair. The Coroner's jury returned a verdict that she came to her death by her own hand.

The Enquirer's account says that Mrs. Gerrard's name was Ludwiga. "She was a young and beautiful woman, also of Hungarian extraction, and said to belong to the older of noblesse in her native country.—She was much admired for her mental culture, elegance of manners and brilliancy of conversation, and those combined with a lovely person, rendered her the attractive centre of a large circle of devoted friends."

The German doctor's name was Bulow.

Philadelphia Markets.

MARCH 8—Evening.—The Flour market continues excited, but the demand is chiefly speculative, and prices have an upward tendency. About 2,000 barrels have been sold at $6 25 for superfine, $6 50 for extra, and $6.75 at 7 for extra family—the latter for a good brand; 600 barrels Brandywine super also sold, at $6 50 per bbl. for shipment.—Trade are buying rather more freely at the above prices, and fancy brands at $7 25 at 7.75, according to quality. Rye Flour is firmer, and selling freely at $4 25 per bbl. Corn Meal is inquired for, and rather scarce, at $3 62½ per bbl. for Penna; a sale of 500 bbls. Brandywine Meal was made yesterday, at a price kept private. Wheat is wanted at full prices, and the market is nearly bare; we quote red at 160c, and white 170 at 175c: 1 000 bushels of the latter, only fair quality, sold at 100c, per bushel.—Rye is in steady demand at 92c per bushel. Corn is unchanged: 2 000 Bushels sold at 82c, in store. Oats are in fair demand, and about 4 000 bushels sold at 54c for Delaware and 55c for Pennsylvania. Barley and Malt are dull; 1 000 bushels of the former a very superior lot, sold at 95c, and 2.000 bushels of the latter on terms kept private.

A man named Charles Reed, who was on board the Central America at the time she wrecked, and was picked up after floating on a piece of timber twelve hours, was recently burned to death in his cabin in California.

☞ See advertisement of Dr. Sandford's Invigorator in another column.

WHAT IT COSTS TO DIE IN CUBA.—A correspondent of the St. Louis Republican says:—If you die on the Island it will cost your friends $600 before your remains are taken away. If you die poor and those expenses are not paid, you are takin into the public dead cart and pitched into a ditch among the remains of paupers and those who have been executed. The $600 is made up as follows:—Coffin $175, embalming, $200 church-tax $72, hotel for bedding, about $40.

Obituary.

DIED On the 15th of Feb., of Consumption JOHN WAY, Jr., aged 38 years, of Half-moon.

On the 23rd ult., of disease of the brain, JULIA CURTIN KINPORT, aged one year five months and twenty-four days.

DIED: On the 25th day of January last, at the Farm School, MRS MARGERY, consort of Henry Harman, dec'd, aged about 64 years.

At his residence in Patton township, on the morning of the 11th Feb., DAVID ROCKEY, aged about 80 years.

"Scarcely a day passes that we are not called upon to pay the last tribute of respect to a deceased relative or friend. How true the sentence. In the midst of life we are in death." The death of Mr Rockey, was sudden, and unexpected—he retired to rest in good health, and ere the gloom of night was broken by a ray of light, he was no more—he had moored his bark safely in the harbor of heavenly repose.

In his death the community have lost a quiet and peaceable citizen, the church a worthy and consistent member, his aged wife, a kind husband, his children a good father. But while they mourn his loss here, Angels rejoice that heaven has gained another bright inhabitant—his familiar voice will be missed in the class and prayer meetings. But another voice is heard in the choir that chants redemptions song in the Paradise of God. R.

WOOL! WOOL!! WOOL!!!

SPRING CREEK WOOLEN MANUFACTORY

ROBERT KENDALL, in connection with Samuel Houser, has commenced business anew at the old stand on Spring Creek, under the firm of Kendall & Houser where our highest ambition will be to render satisfaction to all who may favor us with a look of wool or otherwise. The public generally may rely upon obtaining goods of a superior quality from our wagons or at the establishment as we purpose not to be surpassed by any similar concern in the country. Our long connection and business transactions at this place heretofore we trust will be a sufficient guarantee for the future. You will all please remember that our wagons will be around in due season to exchange goods for wool, of which we anticipate a very generous pile. Cloth, Satinet, Flannels Blanketing Carpetting Shawls Coverlets, Stocking yarn and some money always on hand to exchange for wool and all marketable produce. Roll Carding done well at 6½ cents per pound.

The Senior partner would embrace this opportunity and make acknowledgments to his numerous friends and former customers, knows of no good reason why old friends should not meet again in a vat of the same cloth.
