THE DEMOCRATIC WATCHMAN.

BELLEFONTE JULY 24, 1859.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

HOT WEATHER.—People should be exceedingly careful during such hot weather, as we have experienced for some time. Health should not be thoughtlessly risked in the effort to get cool. A laborer becomes overheated, drinks cold water to excess, and in consequence of his indiscretion perishes.—Another person seeks relief in julips, cobblers or other drinks, and the result is increased excitement of the brain instead of diminished action, which is often followed by serious, if not fatal consequences. Fresh fruit may tempt another, and he too pays the indiscretion with his life. People may violate the physical laws of health, but retribution will come, certain as the irrevocable decree of omnipotence, and at this season it is especially important that we should exercise every possible precaution.

The beneficial result of temperate habits cannot be inculcated too strongly. We mean temperance in all things, but especially in eating, work and drinking. When the thermometer is at ninety a sunstroke is almost certain death. The initial step of some indigestible article of food often leads to cramps if not cholera in its most malignant form.—Put to eat too little or drink cold water to the frantic stomach as one of these leads to error. The better plan is to overcome the unsatisfied craving. Oysters that have been recently absurde, or imbibe soda water or liquids in the hope of being cooled it is folly to do so. Nature invariably suffers when attempts are made with her to cool you has what is heated. In all things moderation is to be sought. Expose yourself as little as possible. Expose upon the cold water to evaporate into Spirit of fresh air, and when heated, be strong and cool.

There are circumstances in which we are compelled to work, but under such circumstances as these we should be careful to take a little.

Excesses in work are a fertile source of illness and sometimes of death in hot weather. No man can perform as much labor in a hot day, or under a vertical summer sun as he can in winter, or under cover. Any unusual draft upon the nervous or even muscular system, is sure to be felt at the seat of life. A wise man will always economize his strength in the summer.

Whoever over-works himself in any way exhausts the nervous power part of which should have gone to assist the digestion, and the consequence is, that when he comes home, fatigued and hungry, to eat a hearty meal, he is struck down by bilious cholera dysentery or cholera. Be temperate in your labors, and in your pleasures, in sleeping and in waking, if you would escape the diseases incident to summer, and which are often fatal. Several days during the last week the thermometer stood high as one hundred degrees in the shade.

SANITARY PRECAUTIONS.—In the midst of summer all persons are specially called upon to look around their dwellings and see whether there is anything being done inimical to health that might and ought to be removed without delay. Constant attention requisite that nothing offensive be suffered to remain within doors. Decaying vegetables have been found to possess a dirty water of any kind should be immediately thrown away, also all slops, subject to decayings, and offal of every kind. The pail in which greens have been boiled is not suffered to remain even a few minutes, or thrown down a scullery drain, emits a most disagreeable and unwholesome smell, which pervades the whole house. Many very cleanly people are not attentive in this particular.

Among other things that require attention fallen leaves should be frequently swept up and properly disposed of. In short every room should be swept up and dusted daily, care being taken not merely to make a decent surface but thoroughly to clean under the beds, drawer, tables, and other furniture, and to clean out all closets and lumber holes.

WRITING FOR THE PRESS.—There is no class of people, says the Printers News Letter more frequently sneered at than editors; so the easiest thing in the world to charge them with being mercenary; to say that such an article was paid for; that anybody can have anything praised or abused in the paper, if he will pay for it; and says a weekly, every now and then, "If I had a newspaper here, wouldn't I pitch into this or that, and would not I show the people what an independent paper is?" Well, my friend and pitcher, why not establish a paper and pitch into every thing and every body?—Nobody can object to your doing so. The papers that are in the habit of pitching into everything are the easiest edited in the world. It is only well practiced and matured editors that possess that wisdom and true independence which consist in refusing to "pitch in," that manliness which can withstand a public clamor, that can scorn personalities, and that can treat public question with the dignity and soberness that can alone secure respect for the press.

STRIKE ON THE RAIL ROAD.—The hands on the Snow Shoe railroad have been on a strike for higher wages since the early part of last week. The work has been almost wholly suspended in consequence. What the managers intend doing we are not informed. It is rumored, however, that a new supply of laborers will be brought from a distance, and all those participating in the strike will be discharged. About one hundred and fifty men have been employed, the most of whom have taken part in this movement.

HARVESTING.—The greater portion of the grain throughout the county has been, during the week, shocked, and a golden harvest it has proved. The ears have not come down so solid for several years. Those speculators who live off the vitals of the public, will have to exist a long way off them this year—so 'mote it always be.

SNAKE BITTEN.—A young man named Neely, residing near Eagle Furnace, was bitten recently by a poisonous snake, and the effect communicated so soon with the system that life for a time was almost despaired of. He is however recovering. It appears that another man was in company with Neely who called his attention to a snake which was partially under a stone. Neely intended to take it up by the tail, and kill it, but the reptile turned its head off whereby it bit him, and he had gained some notoriety but in the attempt was bitten, by what they supposed to be one of the Copperhead species.

DEFACING BILLS.—There appears to be a desire on the part of a certain portion of the younger branches of the human family of Bellefonte, to deface and tear down every description of posters which may be hung upon the outer walls of our borough. Some of these juveniles are not aware, perhaps, that by defacing these bills they may possibly get themselves into trouble, and perhaps have a chance of boarding with Sheriff McCoy at the expense of the county.

PACKET BOAT LINE TO LOCK HAVEN.—We understand that arrangements are about to be made to place on the canal by line of packet boats between Clearfield and Lock Haven. This is an enterprise much needed by the commercial community. Passengers are now running regular to Lock Haven on Sunday and Lock Haven on Monday, which will be a natural connection for the company at the city of Lock Haven, and a packet leaving Clearfield on Tuesday, would make a good connection for Philadelphia.

WHEAT.—We are informed by the agent of the Bellefonte Iron Company that Hall, Sons & Co. have a lady of the Red Mountain Iron Works, a completed sample of wheat, the product of their farm in Nittany valley, which for size, color and plumpness of the berry, is unsurpassed by any wheat we have ever seen. This is the result of the application of the Company's ore as a fertilizer, and is a practical demonstration of the value of the ore for agricultural purposes.

SHOE HOUSE.—We learn that Messrs. Hall, Sons & Co. are engaged in building a large shoe house on Allegheny street, in this borough, which will be occupied by them as a shoe manufactory. Shortly this business will be carried on to a much greater extent than heretofore, as the new building will afford them ample room for the purpose. Their shoes are known to be of superior workmanship and durability, and the increased facilities which they will have for manufacturing will enable them to supply the demand.

THE FOURTH.—The 83d anniversary of the Declaration of Independence was celebrated in this borough on Monday last. The weather was favorable, and the day was ushered in by the firing of guns, ringing of bells, &c. The procession was formed at 10 o'clock A. M., and marched to the Presbyterian church, where the Declaration was read by Col. Thomas Burchfield, and an oration delivered by Hon. Wm. H. Blanchard. The procession then returned to the Court House, where the company partook of a dinner prepared by Mr. Hale. The day was pleasantly spent by the citizens generally.

Patent Medicines among us, greater by far than in any of the old countries, where skilful physicians are accessible to all classes. Unprincipled men have long availed themselves of this necessity, to palm off their worthless nostrums, until the world has become synonomous with imposition and cheat. Much of our leading Editorial talent, for the production of the best remedies which can be made. These are supplied to the world, in a convenient form, at low prices, and the people will no more buy poor medicine instead of good, at the same cost, than they will bran instead of flour. The inevitable consequence of this is, that the vile compounds that flood our country are discarded for those which honestly accomplish the end in view,—which cure. Do we over estimate its importance, in believing that this prospect of supplanting the by word medicines, with those of actual worth and virtue, is brought with immense consequence for good, to the masses of our people. Gazette and Chronicle, Pittsburgh.
