He was a man of fortune, and hal a kind heart, as many a poor prisoner could testify who partook of the good cheer with which the prisoners were liberally supplied at Christmas and other well known festivals from the pet vate purse of the High Sheriff

It was of course the duty of the High Sheriff to area of and and Petit Jury to attend at the Quarter Session', of which, the Recorder, Mayor, and Afflermen of the borough composed the court. In the performanec of his official duty in summening the Petit Jury, our Hug Sheriff indulged in some of the strangest and drollest freaks that have probably ever been heard of ip any other town or country. In the first place, he samme of for H. Ostober court a jury consisting of twelve of the intrest men he fould and in the berough, and when they mue to the book to be shown, it appears that only nine jurors could at comfortably in the box ' After a good deal of sweating, squeezing and scolding the punch was lite rally jamed into the box, and when seated they previated to the eye of the court, the barristers and andience, "the tightest fit" of a jury that was even seen in a court room.-Li terally they became much to the amusement of the court and its roled advocates, a packed jury,' and no mistake" For the January term, our facetions High Sheriff, (in consequence, it was said, of some hast from the Fecurder there there should be more fat panels summoned to his court,) cat to the opposite extract the Suamoned twelve of the leanest and tallest men he could find in the borough : and when they took their scats in the box it appeared comparatively empty-there was indeed room nough for twelve more of the same sort and dimennons.

For the April term of the court, our hu morous functionary summoned a jury consisting of twelve barbers! Now it happened that among the latter were the very per uquiers who dressed the recorder's and barristers' wigs ; and some of the latter, araving late at the bar had to appear that morning in court with their wigs undressed ir half dress d to as to cut a sary ritheulous figure, amid the smiles and half sup-
