BELVIDERS. N. J., July 6 .- Jacob S. Hatlen was executed this afternoon, at twentyfive minutes of two o'clock, in the jail yard n Belvidere, for the murder of his wife. Hanin Belvidere, for the mirder of his wife, Hannah Harden, on the 7th of March, 1859, in the village of Anderson, township of Mansfield, Warren county, N. J., by administering poison. During the forenon one con-thruch stream of people, residing far and neah, arrived in Belvidere and blocked up the street in front of the jail. The outbuilding near the jail yard was crowded with human beings, the most of whom had a partial view of the gallows. During the forenoon they attempted to get on the wall of the prison, but were driven off by the military, who preserved good order during the day

At nine o'clock Harden expressed a de
