

Democratic Watchman

BELLEVILLE, CENTRE COUNTY, PENNA., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1860.

TERMS: $1 PER ANNUM ADVANCE.
VOLUME 5, NUMBER 40.

Terms of Publication.
TERMS—$1.00 per copy if paid within three months. $2.00 if not paid within the year. These terms will be rigidly adhered to.
ADVERTISEMENTS and Business Notices inserted at the usual rates, and every description of JOB PRINTING executed in the neatest manner, at the lowest price, and with the utmost despatch. Having purchased a large collection of type, we are prepared to satisfy the orders of our friends.

Business Directory.
E. J. WOODMAN,
SURVEYOR AND CONVEYANCER.
WILLIAM H. BLAIR,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
JAMES H. HARRIS,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
JAMES H. HARRIS,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
JAMES H. HARRIS,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.

BELLEVILLE DISPENSARY.
J. H. HARRIS HAVING NOW ARRIVED... constantly receiving the following articles, which they will sell as cheap as the cheapest imported goods.
Drugs and Medicines, (wholesale or retail), Vanishing Oils, Paints, Dye Stuffs, White Lead, Florence White, and Liquid.
Furniture, fine oil, fluid and pine oil lamp paint and varnish brushes, hair, cloth, tooth and bath brushes.
Fancy notions, pocket books and wallets, cigars and tobacco, a large assortment of Pocket Knives, a variety of Fancy Articles and Perfumery, Hair Dressing Preparations, &c.
All of which and a variety of others, you can get by calling on the Dispensary, located at the corner of the Drug Store in Belleville, Pa.
Physicians' Prescriptions compounded with care and dispatch.
For medicinal purposes, Lyons Calawha Brandy is sold and has long been used to appreciate the medicinal qualities of the name of Brandy. As a beverage, the pure article is altogether superior, and is sold by the Dispensary, for Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Low Spirits, Languor, General Debility, &c. Price $1.25 per gallon.

PENNSYLVANIA HOTEL.
THE SUBSCRIBER RESPECTFULLY informs the citizens of Centre county and the public in general, that he has leased this Hotel, and is now ready to accommodate transient travelers in a style, which he flatters himself will meet with public approbation and patronage. The Hotel is spacious and furnished in the superior style, and is prepared to accommodate all the transient business, and is situated in the most desirable part of the city, and is well adapted for the reception of the very best of company. The Hotel is situated in the most desirable part of the city, and is well adapted for the reception of the very best of company. The Hotel is situated in the most desirable part of the city, and is well adapted for the reception of the very best of company.

CLOCK, WATCH, JEWELRY AND FANCY STORE.
The subscriber is still at his old stand at No. 117 North Second Street, in the building formerly occupied by the late J. H. Harris, and is now ready to receive his old and new friends, and to do business with them in the most satisfactory manner. He has a large and well selected stock of Clocks, Watches, Jewelry, and Fancy Goods, and is prepared to do business with them in the most satisfactory manner.

JOHN MORAN.
DEALER IN
CLOCKS, WATCHES AND JEWELRY.
Has just received a large and well selected stock of Clocks, Watches, Jewelry, and Fancy Goods, and is prepared to do business with them in the most satisfactory manner.

CONRAD HOUSE, BELLEVILLE, PENNA.
HAS THE PLEASURE OF ANNOUNCING that he has taken charge of the well known hotel, lately under the supervision of J. H. Harris, and is now ready to receive his old and new friends, and to do business with them in the most satisfactory manner.

JOHN MONTGOMERY
Respectfully informs the citizens of Belleville that he has still continued to carry on the business of a Clothing Store, and is now ready to receive his old and new friends, and to do business with them in the most satisfactory manner.

LIME! LIME! LIME!!!
The subscriber has erected a lime kiln near the mouth of the Susquehanna, and is now ready to receive his old and new friends, and to do business with them in the most satisfactory manner.

Correspondence Between Col. McClure and Mr. Welsh.
In consequence of the numerous inquiries made in reference to the proposed joint discussions between Col. McClure and Gen. Foster, we publish the following correspondence between Col. McClure and Mr. Welsh, the Chairman of the two State Committees. It will be seen that Col. McClure proposes that the Democratic candidate for Governor should go to the Republican meetings already announced, and there discuss the issues now pending before the people. This is very properly objected to by Mr. Welsh, who justly claims that "each candidate should have an equal voice in the selection of places," which, however, is imperceptibly declined by Col. McClure. The final letter of Col. McClure, rejecting this fair and equitable proposition, will doubtless end the matter. There was no difficulty, we learn, in regard to issues to be discussed, as both parties were willing to discuss all issues, State and National, now agitating the public mind.

DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE ROOMS.
No. 419, Walnut Street,
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5, 1860.
[No. 1.]
MR. WELSH TO MR. WELSH,
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5, 1860.

Dear Sir: Your letter of the 4th inst. has been received. The alleged allusions made to Gen. Foster by Col. McClure, in his public speeches, which you frankly disavow on behalf of the latter, required from Gen. Foster a prompt denial, that he had ever either directly or indirectly, received from his respective competitor a challenge to meet him in debate. While Gen. Foster felt compelled to make this denial, he, at the same time, expressed his desire to meet Col. McClure at such times and places, and to discuss such issues, as a committee of their respective friends might dictate. From the tenor of your letter, I am induced to believe that you object to the selection of a committee to arrange the particulars of the proposed discussions, and that you therefore promptly availed yourself, without consultation with Gen. Foster.

The proposition made by you in your letter, now before me, that Gen. Foster should meet Col. McClure at the time and place appointed by you, when and where Col. McClure has already been offered to speak to the people of Pennsylvania. There would be a manifest impropriety in such a arrangement. A general sense of the propriety of even an approximation to it could not possibly take place, with such a programme. In looking over the list you inclose me, I find that before due and proper notice of the contemplated meetings could be given, Col. McClure's appointments in the West would be filled by that gentleman, and the field in that section would be hunted to a very narrow compass. The acceptance of your proposition would compel Gen. Foster to neglect a large portion of the State, and would confine him almost entirely to sections in the South and East. The countries of Pa. Berks, Lehigh, Northampton, Monroe, Pike, Wayne, Luzerne, Columbia, any many others where his friends are numerous, would be altogether ignored.

JOHN MORAN.
DEALER IN
CLOCKS, WATCHES AND JEWELRY.
Has just received a large and well selected stock of Clocks, Watches, Jewelry, and Fancy Goods, and is prepared to do business with them in the most satisfactory manner.

CONRAD HOUSE, BELLEVILLE, PENNA.
HAS THE PLEASURE OF ANNOUNCING that he has taken charge of the well known hotel, lately under the supervision of J. H. Harris, and is now ready to receive his old and new friends, and to do business with them in the most satisfactory manner.

JOHN MONTGOMERY
Respectfully informs the citizens of Belleville that he has still continued to carry on the business of a Clothing Store, and is now ready to receive his old and new friends, and to do business with them in the most satisfactory manner.

LIME! LIME! LIME!!!
The subscriber has erected a lime kiln near the mouth of the Susquehanna, and is now ready to receive his old and new friends, and to do business with them in the most satisfactory manner.

Interesting From Japan.
The ship "Whang" has arrived at San Francisco August 31, from Japan, with dates from Yokohama, July 18. The following extract from a letter written the day of her departure appears in the Alta.
The Japanese steamer Cardinian, which left the port last February, under charge of Capt. Brooke, of the Fenimore Copper, conveying the intelligence of the departure of the Japanese Ambassadors to America, arrived here from Honolulu, after a passage of eighty days. From the Americans who came on board, we learned that the Japanese conducted themselves admirably on board, taking the position of the vessel daily by the sun, and brought her in a sea-mannish manner, and this by without accident.

The appearance of the Japanese steamer from America, with news from the Ambassadors, created much excitement both amongst the Americans and Japanese. The foreigners were anxious to hear how the Japanese had been received in America, and the Japanese would have been glad to hear how they were received in America.

The reports of the gorgeousness displayed in your city especially your great dinners, have taken in the people by surprise and wonderment. Three dollars for a dinner was to them a marvellous and fabulous sum to pay, and they assert it was impossible to devour the value at one meal. Here a dinner in the best style costs an itaba. There were many striking and wonderful sights which they saw, and it was not long before the whole town was made aware of the most celebrated banquet the Japanese had ever undertaken together with all the meddles connected therewith. All excitement however, subsided, and the Japanese expressed a universal desire to see the return of their officers, and to receive from them a report in full, such properly authenticated accounts, to be published in their papers over the empire, showing to the people how foreign great nations looked upon Japan.

The hostile attitude, reported by previous advices, between the Princess of the Empire, has been reconciled by compromise. The real cause of the difficulty is not known to outside barbarians on account of the conflicting and contradictory reports. Foreign merchandise has found its way to Jeddo, American cottons and woollens were principally displayed by the stores of the principal merchants. A well defined hostility exists between the native officials and merchants, the former being afraid that the others will get wealthy with the trade with foreigners, and thus wield a money power. Consequently spies are placed over the merchants and every means employed to reduce their income, in order that they may have no wealth. A Portuguese manufacturer had arrived at Yokohama, prepared to enter into a treaty of commerce with Japan. At last advice the officials empowered to negotiate were at Jeddo.

A Sketch of Gen. Walker.
Gen. Walker terminated his career at an early age. We learn that he had just attained his thirty sixth year. He was born in Nashville, Tennessee, in May 1824, and was (thoroughly educated) one of the most favored aspirants for whatever liberal profession he might select in after life, first by a collegiate course at the University at Nashville where he acquitted himself with the highest honors of his class, and afterwards in the medical schools of Philadelphia and Paris, enjoying, also, while in Europe, the advantages of a tour through Germany and Italy, where his opportunity for Belles-lettres scholarship were not only liberal, but keenly enjoyed and appreciated by a mind, then, at least, quiet and studious to a degree that utterly forbade the idea of an adventurous or restless career in later life. His distaste, however, to the medical profession, which he declined practically to enter upon, turned him to the law, and the associations of the law, not unattractively to politics, in which he first engaged in New Orleans, and subsequently, in 1850-51, in California, from which point he entered upon the hazardous career which, after the varied fortunes of six years, is now terminated.

Tax-Payers Beware!
The election of Andrew G. Curtin would be a sad blow to the tax payers of Pennsylvania. Curtin himself is a professional politician, and, if elected, would be surrounded by the most corrupt and profligate political brokers in the State. Let the honest tax-payers take heed before it is too late. The State debt, under the policy of a Democratic Administration, is rapidly becoming extinct; and a change of policy, such as would undoubtedly be adopted by the political platform now adopted, the nomination of Curtin, would again involve our people in explicable difficulties. We declare it as our conviction, that the election of Andrew G. Curtin will cost the tax-payers of Pennsylvania millions of dollars.

Can a Democrat Vote for Hale?
Did he ever vote for a Democrat? Did he ever support a Democratic candidate or a Democratic measure? NEVER! Are his interests in any way identified with those of the farmer, the mechanic, or the laboring man? NO! Are his associations with them? NO! Then in the name of sense why should any Democrat vote for him?

Gen. Foster's Speech.
The speech of Gen. Foster is highly spoken of by all parties. Of course it is a mere abstract, but gives the main points. The Harpersburg Patriot says: "No Democrat can read it without feeling proud of such a candidate. Mr. Foster planted himself on the Reading platform—taking the position that the Constitution has conferred no power upon Congress to prohibit the introduction of slave property into the Territories, on the one hand, or to compel its introduction on the other. That it is a question for the people to decide for themselves; and the extent of their power is a judicial question determinable only by the Courts. On the subject of the Tariff, Mr. Foster was peculiarly happy in demonstrating his consistent advocacy of Pennsylvania interests, and the folly of those who charge him with being a free trader. He shows that while Hamlin was laboring to uphold the industrial interests of his State.

A Life Picture. At a late great Democratic meeting at Goshen, Elkhardt County, in the State of Indiana, the German Democratic club carried a beautifully painted banner representing a scene at the election polls in Massachusetts, where a long elected, thick lipped darkey, fresh from the South, was roving w/ open arms by the board of inspectors, while a respectable German is told to "stand back as he has not been in this country seven years yet."

A Cool Joker. The Harpersburg Patriot says:—that some of the fellows who played "Wide Awake," or a consideration, in that city, have been too wide awake for the Republican leaders. They kept the cap and cap, and are using the torch to give them light to gig fish in the Susquehanna.

The artesian well at Columbus, Ohio, has now reached the depth of 2,644 feet—four feet more than a half mile.

THE WARRIED IN TIME!
The Lewising Chronicle, a Republican paper, warns its readers that "The mammoth Penna Central Railway Company will seek to be rid of their Tonnage Tax (and it is rumored, have raised a corruption fund to ensure its repeal)." It then urges its readers to examine into the views of Legislative candidates and adds:
This is no idle alarm for party effect—it is addressed to honest men of all parties, on a point well understood by some, but in danger of being overlooked in the excitement of national politics. Our warning is before you—"We speak as unto wise men."
The warning is an important one, and of the tax payers do not heed it, it is to the amount of HALF A MILLION OF DOLLARS ANNUALLY will be taken from the State Treasury. This amount will then have to be added to the State tax that is annually assessed.

Foster Can be Elected.
There is every reason to believe that H. D. Foster will be elected Governor of Pennsylvania by a large majority, as he will receive the votes of all the conservative parties in the State opposed to the Republicans. Indeed when we consider the conservatism of Pennsylvania, we do not see how any other result than the election of Foster can be regarded as probable. The Republican party has always been in a minority, and Andrew G. Curtin is the candidate of that party and of that party. Look at the vote in 1856:
Buchanan, 230,740
Fremont, 147,710
Fillmore, 82,175

Gen. Foster's Speech.
The speech of Gen. Foster is highly spoken of by all parties. Of course it is a mere abstract, but gives the main points. The Harpersburg Patriot says: "No Democrat can read it without feeling proud of such a candidate. Mr. Foster planted himself on the Reading platform—taking the position that the Constitution has conferred no power upon Congress to prohibit the introduction of slave property into the Territories, on the one hand, or to compel its introduction on the other. That it is a question for the people to decide for themselves; and the extent of their power is a judicial question determinable only by the Courts. On the subject of the Tariff, Mr. Foster was peculiarly happy in demonstrating his consistent advocacy of Pennsylvania interests, and the folly of those who charge him with being a free trader. He shows that while Hamlin was laboring to uphold the industrial interests of his State.

A Life Picture. At a late great Democratic meeting at Goshen, Elkhardt County, in the State of Indiana, the German Democratic club carried a beautifully painted banner representing a scene at the election polls in Massachusetts, where a long elected, thick lipped darkey, fresh from the South, was roving w/ open arms by the board of inspectors, while a respectable German is told to "stand back as he has not been in this country seven years yet."

A Cool Joker. The Harpersburg Patriot says:—that some of the fellows who played "Wide Awake," or a consideration, in that city, have been too wide awake for the Republican leaders. They kept the cap and cap, and are using the torch to give them light to gig fish in the Susquehanna.

The artesian well at Columbus, Ohio, has now reached the depth of 2,644 feet—four feet more than a half mile.

Can a Democrat Vote for Hale?
Did he ever vote for a Democrat? Did he ever support a Democratic candidate or a Democratic measure? NEVER! Are his interests in any way identified with those of the farmer, the mechanic, or the laboring man? NO! Are his associations with them? NO! Then in the name of sense why should any Democrat vote for him?

Gen. Foster's Speech.
The speech of Gen. Foster is highly spoken of by all parties. Of course it is a mere abstract, but gives the main points. The Harpersburg Patriot says: "No Democrat can read it without feeling proud of such a candidate. Mr. Foster planted himself on the Reading platform—taking the position that the Constitution has conferred no power upon Congress to prohibit the introduction of slave property into the Territories, on the one hand, or to compel its introduction on the other. That it is a question for the people to decide for themselves; and the extent of their power is a judicial question determinable only by the Courts. On the subject of the Tariff, Mr. Foster was peculiarly happy in demonstrating his consistent advocacy of Pennsylvania interests, and the folly of those who charge him with being a free trader. He shows that while Hamlin was laboring to uphold the industrial interests of his State.

A Life Picture. At a late great Democratic meeting at Goshen, Elkhardt County, in the State of Indiana, the German Democratic club carried a beautifully painted banner representing a scene at the election polls in Massachusetts, where a long elected, thick lipped darkey, fresh from the South, was roving w/ open arms by the board of inspectors, while a respectable German is told to "stand back as he has not been in this country seven years yet."

A Cool Joker. The Harpersburg Patriot says:—that some of the fellows who played "Wide Awake," or a consideration, in that city, have been too wide awake for the Republican leaders. They kept the cap and cap, and are using the torch to give them light to gig fish in the Susquehanna.

The artesian well at Columbus, Ohio, has now reached the depth of 2,644 feet—four feet more than a half mile.

THE WARRIED IN TIME!
The Lewising Chronicle, a Republican paper, warns its readers that "The mammoth Penna Central Railway Company will seek to be rid of their Tonnage Tax (and it is rumored, have raised a corruption fund to ensure its repeal)." It then urges its readers to examine into the views of Legislative candidates and adds:
This is no idle alarm for party effect—it is addressed to honest men of all parties, on a point well understood by some, but in danger of being overlooked in the excitement of national politics. Our warning is before you—"We speak as unto wise men."
The warning is an important one, and of the tax payers do not heed it, it is to the amount of HALF A MILLION OF DOLLARS ANNUALLY will be taken from the State Treasury. This amount will then have to be added to the State tax that is annually assessed.

Foster Can be Elected.
There is every reason to believe that H. D. Foster will be elected Governor of Pennsylvania by a large majority, as he will receive the votes of all the conservative parties in the State opposed to the Republicans. Indeed when we consider the conservatism of Pennsylvania, we do not see how any other result than the election of Foster can be regarded as probable. The Republican party has always been in a minority, and Andrew G. Curtin is the candidate of that party and of that party. Look at the vote in 1856:
Buchanan, 230,740
Fremont, 147,710
Fillmore, 82,175

Gen. Foster's Speech.
The speech of Gen. Foster is highly spoken of by all parties. Of course it is a mere abstract, but gives the main points. The Harpersburg Patriot says: "No Democrat can read it without feeling proud of such a candidate. Mr. Foster planted himself on the Reading platform—taking the position that the Constitution has conferred no power upon Congress to prohibit the introduction of slave property into the Territories, on the one hand, or to compel its introduction on the other. That it is a question for the people to decide for themselves; and the extent of their power is a judicial question determinable only by the Courts. On the subject of the Tariff, Mr. Foster was peculiarly happy in demonstrating his consistent advocacy of Pennsylvania interests, and the folly of those who charge him with being a free trader. He shows that while Hamlin was laboring to uphold the industrial interests of his State.

A Life Picture. At a late great Democratic meeting at Goshen, Elkhardt County, in the State of Indiana, the German Democratic club carried a beautifully painted banner representing a scene at the election polls in Massachusetts, where a long elected, thick lipped darkey, fresh from the South, was roving w/ open arms by the board of inspectors, while a respectable German is told to "stand back as he has not been in this country seven years yet."

A Cool Joker. The Harpersburg Patriot says:—that some of the fellows who played "Wide Awake," or a consideration, in that city, have been too wide awake for the Republican leaders. They kept the cap and cap, and are using the torch to give them light to gig fish in the Susquehanna.

The artesian well at Columbus, Ohio, has now reached the depth of 2,644 feet—four feet more than a half mile.

Can a Democrat Vote for Hale?
Did he ever vote for a Democrat? Did he ever support a Democratic candidate or a Democratic measure? NEVER! Are his interests in any way identified with those of the farmer, the mechanic, or the laboring man? NO! Are his associations with them? NO! Then in the name of sense why should any Democrat vote for him?

Gen. Foster's Speech.
The speech of Gen. Foster is highly spoken of by all parties. Of course it is a mere abstract, but gives the main points. The Harpersburg Patriot says: "No Democrat can read it without feeling proud of such a candidate. Mr. Foster planted himself on the Reading platform—taking the position that the Constitution has conferred no power upon Congress to prohibit the introduction of slave property into the Territories, on the one hand, or to compel its introduction on the other. That it is a question for the people to decide for themselves; and the extent of their power is a judicial question determinable only by the Courts. On the subject of the Tariff, Mr. Foster was peculiarly happy in demonstrating his consistent advocacy of Pennsylvania interests, and the folly of those who charge him with being a free trader. He shows that while Hamlin was laboring to uphold the industrial interests of his State.

A Life Picture. At a late great Democratic meeting at Goshen, Elkhardt County, in the State of Indiana, the German Democratic club carried a beautifully painted banner representing a scene at the election polls in Massachusetts, where a long elected, thick lipped darkey, fresh from the South, was roving w/ open arms by the board of inspectors, while a respectable German is told to "stand back as he has not been in this country seven years yet."

A Cool Joker. The Harpersburg Patriot says:—that some of the fellows who played "Wide Awake," or a consideration, in that city, have been too wide awake for the Republican leaders. They kept the cap and cap, and are using the torch to give them light to gig fish in the Susquehanna.

The artesian well at Columbus, Ohio, has now reached the depth of 2,644 feet—four feet more than a half mile.

THE WARRIED IN TIME!
The Lewising Chronicle, a Republican paper, warns its readers that "The mammoth Penna Central Railway Company will seek to be rid of their Tonnage Tax (and it is rumored, have raised a corruption fund to ensure its repeal)." It then urges its readers to examine into the views of Legislative candidates and adds:
This is no idle alarm for party effect—it is addressed to honest men of all parties, on a point well understood by some, but in danger of being overlooked in the excitement of national politics. Our warning is before you—"We speak as unto wise men."
The warning is an important one, and of the tax payers do not heed it, it is to the amount of HALF A MILLION OF DOLLARS ANNUALLY will be taken from the State Treasury. This amount will then have to be added to the State tax that is annually assessed.

Foster Can be Elected.
There is every reason to believe that H. D. Foster will be elected Governor of Pennsylvania by a large majority, as he will receive the votes of all the conservative parties in the State opposed to the Republicans. Indeed when we consider the conservatism of Pennsylvania, we do not see how any other result than the election of Foster can be regarded as probable. The Republican party has always been in a minority, and Andrew G. Curtin is the candidate of that party and of that party. Look at the vote in 1856:
Buchanan, 230,740
Fremont, 147,710
Fillmore, 82,175

Gen. Foster's Speech.
The speech of Gen. Foster is highly spoken of by all parties. Of course it is a mere abstract, but gives the main points. The Harpersburg Patriot says: "No Democrat can read it without feeling proud of such a candidate. Mr. Foster planted himself on the Reading platform—taking the position that the Constitution has conferred no power upon Congress to prohibit the introduction of slave property into the Territories, on the one hand, or to compel its introduction on the other. That it is a question for the people to decide for themselves; and the extent of their power is a judicial question determinable only by the Courts. On the subject of the Tariff, Mr. Foster was peculiarly happy in demonstrating his consistent advocacy of Pennsylvania interests, and the folly of those who charge him with being a free trader. He shows that while Hamlin was laboring to uphold the industrial interests of his State.

A Life Picture. At a late great Democratic meeting at Goshen, Elkhardt County, in the State of Indiana, the German Democratic club carried a beautifully painted banner representing a scene at the election polls in Massachusetts, where a long elected, thick lipped darkey, fresh from the South, was roving w/ open arms by the board of inspectors, while a respectable German is told to "stand back as he has not been in this country seven years yet."

A Cool Joker. The Harpersburg Patriot says:—that some of the fellows who played "Wide Awake," or a consideration, in that city, have been too wide awake for the Republican leaders. They kept the cap and cap, and are using the torch to give them light to gig fish in the Susquehanna.

The artesian well at Columbus, Ohio, has now reached the depth of 2,644 feet—four feet more than a half mile.

Can a Democrat Vote for Hale?
Did he ever vote for a Democrat? Did he ever support a Democratic candidate or a Democratic measure? NEVER! Are his interests in any way identified with those of the farmer, the mechanic, or the laboring man? NO! Are his associations with them? NO! Then in the name of sense why should any Democrat vote for him?

Gen. Foster's Speech.
The speech of Gen. Foster is highly spoken of by all parties. Of course it is a mere abstract, but gives the main points. The Harpersburg Patriot says: "No Democrat can read it without feeling proud of such a candidate. Mr. Foster planted himself on the Reading platform—taking the position that the Constitution has conferred no power upon Congress to prohibit the introduction of slave property into the Territories, on the one hand, or to compel its introduction on the other. That it is a question for the people to decide for themselves; and the extent of their power is a judicial question determinable only by the Courts. On the subject of the Tariff, Mr. Foster was peculiarly happy in demonstrating his consistent advocacy of Pennsylvania interests, and the folly of those who charge him with being a free trader. He shows that while Hamlin was laboring to uphold the industrial interests of his State.

A Life Picture. At a late great Democratic meeting at Goshen, Elkhardt County, in the State of Indiana, the German Democratic club carried a beautifully painted banner representing a scene at the election polls in Massachusetts, where a long elected, thick lipped darkey, fresh from the South, was roving w/ open arms by the board of inspectors, while a respectable German is told to "stand back as he has not been in this country seven years yet."

A Cool Joker. The Harpersburg Patriot says:—that some of the fellows who played "Wide Awake," or a consideration, in that city, have been too wide awake for the Republican leaders. They kept the cap and cap, and are using the torch to give them light to gig fish in the Susquehanna.

The artesian well at Columbus, Ohio, has now reached the depth of 2,644 feet—four feet more than a half mile.

Can a Democrat Vote for Hale?
Did he ever vote for a Democrat? Did he ever support a Democratic candidate or a Democratic measure? NEVER! Are his interests in any way identified with those of the farmer, the mechanic, or the laboring man? NO! Are his associations with them? NO! Then in the name of sense why should any Democrat vote for him?