BELLEFONTE, THURSDAY, JUNE 13. THE INDIAN MUTINY.

THE INDIAN MUTINY.

An Indian officer has just published, from notes made by himself on the spot during the rebellion of 1857, a "History of the Soige of Delhi, with a Sketch of the Leading Events in the Punjaub." Among the chief merits of this book is its thorough impartiality. He thinks our government greatly to blame in many matters, and considers that Lord Halhousie's policy was one of the main causes of the mutiny. He bestows considerable praise on his lordship for ability and zeal, but represents the seizure of Oude as a grievous mistake and an act of injustice.—The extreme peril of that step was pointed out to Lord Dalhousie by men of eminence and authority, but he would not listen to them. Then came the greased cartridges, in which the Hindoo soldiers thought they saw a design to destroy their caste. Added to this was the habit of treating the natives in a way hurtful to their feelings and prejudic s. From these causes, in the opinion of t.e author, avose the tremendous and frightful convulsion from which India has only just recovered, to pass into the equally terrible agony of famine. The "officer" also blames his countrymen for the vindictive spirit in which the rebellion was crushed out, and instances some dreadful cases of cruelty and injustice. Yet he believes no people would have evinced greater moderation after the atrocities committed by the Sepoys, while many nations would have shown less; and he points to the readiness with which we have undertaken to feed the famine stricken people during the last four months, as a proof that we are worthy to rule India.

Of the celebrated hero Nicholson, who was killed before Delhi, the author tells a most remarkabie story. He was so worshipped by the natives that a brotherhood of Fakirs and Hazara frontier canomized him even during his life. They called themselves after his name, "Nikkul Seyn." On Nicholson's glorious fall before Delhi, their leader declared he could not live in a worth where there was no Nikkul Seyn." On Nicholson's glorious fall before De An Indian officer has just published, from

SLAUGHTER OF TWO THOUSAND PERSONS IN APPLICA.—One of the native missionaries, who witnessed the "grand custom" of the King of Dahomey, says that more than 2,000 male human beings were slaughrered, and about as many females and young children, besides enormous numbers of deer, turkey buzzards and other fowl. In a commercial point of view it has been productive of evil. The West African Herald says: "We learn that besides the terrible sacrifice of human life caused by the Dahoman 'grand custom,' it has also had the effect of, in a great measure, putting a stop to trade in that part of the country. All the principal people have been compelled to repair to the capital (Abomey) and remain there to witness this custom. In Wydah, we understand there were, when our informant left that town, lew people but women and slaves.—The palm nuts were rotting on the trees:—commerce and agriculture were languishing suiterially. omerce and agriculture were languishin grieviously.

Among the King of Dahomey's army there is a troop called the Amazon Guards. The West African Herald thus describes them:

"The Amazon Guards, as they have some-"The Amazon Guards, as they have some-times been styled, are the most extraordina-ry troops that we have ever heard or read of. They are 3,000 in number, all females, and display such a degree of ferocious blood-thirstiness and hardinood as to bear a great-er resemblance to a host of mad tigresses than to human creatures. They utterly de-spise death; they show no mercy to any living being in war; they are mad after

They are in fact a troop of devils, so to speak, whose hideous wildness of manner, and the savage madness of whose demeanor in times of excitement is so appailing and inhuman as to have led many well judging persons to opine that these dreadful crea-tures are periodically subjected to the infla-ence of some species of drug, which has this effect. The dress of the Amazons consists of effect. The eress of the Amazons consists of a pair of loose trousers, an upper garment covering the breast, and a cap. They are armed with a gun, knives and daggers; some have blunderbusses, others long elephant guns, while the remainder carry the ordinary musket. In their military exercises they display good discipline, as well as wonderful devtery and availity."

display good discipline, as well as wonderful dextery and agility."

PULITY GRAVITY.—A minister was preaching to a large congregation in one of the Southern States, on the certainty of the future judgment. In the gallery sat a colored girl with a white child in her arms, which she was dancing up and down with commendable effort, to make baby understand the proprieties of the place. The preacher was too much interested in his subject to notice the occasional noise of the infant, and, at the right point in his discourse, threw himself into an interesting attitude, as though self into an interesting attitude, as though he had suddenly heard the first trump of down, and looking towards that part of the church where the girl with the baby in her arms was sitting, he asked, in a low, deep rms was sitting, no was solved.

What is that I hear?"
Before he recovered from the oratorical pause so as to answer his own question, the colored girl responded, in a mortified tone of the entire congregation:

"I don'no, sah, I spec' it's his here chile:
"I don'no, sah, I spec' it's his here chile:
but, indeed, sult, I has been doin' all I could but, indeed, sult, I has been doin' all I could consider the colored young men from treatty-eight different States have been aducated for business here within the past three years, some of whom have been employed as Book Keepers at salaries of $2000,000 Per Annum!

It is easy to imagine that this unexpected rejoinder took the tragic out of the preacher in the shortest time imaginable; and that the solemnity of that judgment-day sermon was not a little diminished by the event.

A New Hampshire editor was lately robbed while traveling. How much the thier made by the operation may be discovered by the indignant epistle he immediately sent to his victim, returning the pocket book:—"You miserable cuss, here's your pocket book. I dou't keep no sich. For a mandressed as well as you was to go round with a wallet with nothing in it but a lot of newspaper scraps, a pair of wooden combs, two newspaper stamps, and a pass from a rail road conductor, is a contemptible imposition on the public. As I hear you are an editor I return your trash. I never robs only gen-I return your trash. I never robs only gen-
