BELLEFONTE, PENNA.

INDEPENDENCE DAY IN BELLEFON TE .- No very extensive preparations having been who might have been seen standing about in small knots on the streets, the national flags displayed at different points unfolded their beauteous stripes and revealed their brilliant stars to the gaze of the patriotic masses that thronged the pavements beneath, and the juveniles, always alive on such occasions, were unusually patriotic, and fire-crackers, kept up such an incessant have excelled it. At 8 o'clock the Union Invincibles made their appearance, and havtook up their line of march for Milesburg. About 11 o'clock a meeting of the Presby- boys to keep clear of such affairs. terian and Methodist congregations was held in the M. E. Church, in which the was organized by calling Maj. James Armon to the chair, the election of Hon. George Boal and Samuel Haupt, Esq., Vice Presi-Boal and Samuel Haupt, Esq., Vice Presi-dents, and J. G. Kurtz and J. L. Test, Secretaries. Prayer was offered by Rev. James Linn, after which the Declaration of Independence was read by James H. Ran kin, Esq. A. O. Furst, Esq., the orator of the day, then addressed the audience in a speech that, while it sometimes moved his audience to tears, illicited rounds of patri-otic applause. His effort was highly credit able to himself and the occasion for which it was prepared. Hon. Samuel Linn was called to the stand, and delivered a short, but very entertaining, address. The probut very entertaining, address. The pro-ceedings were concluded by prayer by Rcv. George Fields. - The Invincibles, on leaving the Court House, marched to the residence mode of egress has been communitcaed to us, Armer. James the Court House, marched to the residence of Mr. James Ward, whose wife, with Mrs. Philo Ward and Mrs. Nicholas Hillibish, had prepared a most sumptuous repast for their benefit. About 7 o'clock the company about midnight, on that evening, the impresreturned to town, and after parading through sion is that they made their exit through town halted on the pavement in front of the the back door of the jail and over the rear Court House, where they fired a number of wall of the yard. Their whereabouts is volleys, after which they retired to their unknown. armory. The Brass Band appeared on the Court House steps about 8 o'clock and entertained our citizens with some fine music. As soon as it was dark, the display of fireness, and, to some extent, the entailment of works began and continued till a late hour, works began and continued till a late hour, presenting an exhibition, sometimes, very grand and brilhant. A salute of thirty-four rounds was fired during the day. Thus closed the celebration of the eighty-fifth anniversary of American Independence in Bellefonte, a day that will not be longer remembered for the patriotic fervor manifested in its observance than for the strict so-briety and order that everywhere prevailed, not an intoxicated person having been seen, or a breach of the peace occurring during the entire day. The Milesburg Infantry took part in the proceedings, and added much to the attrac-tiveness of the occasion by their military evolutions and soldierly bearing. The Un-ion Invincibles and Brass Band from this place were present and participated in the festivities of the occasion. A meeting was organized over which James Alexander, Esq... G. Ryman. Ad-dresses were delivered by Rev. Switzer of the Methodist and Rev. Bowers of the Bap-inst Churches. The dinner was sumptuous, and was partaken of with a keen relish by the large concourse of ladies, gentlemen and juveniles present. Thus the occasion, like the day, passed off without a cloud to mar the brilliancy of its attractions. The CROPS.—The fields of waving grain, visible from our office windows, that cover the surrounding hills are fast ripening for the harvest, and contrast beautifully with the deep green of the mountam slopes that form their background. A gentleman who has passed down the Bald Eagle to Lock Haven, and returned through Nittany Valley to this place, informs us that the grain crops, ex the day, passed off without a cloud to mar place, informs us that the grain crops, ex. t cepting, probably, corn and oats, will be July 11th. NOCTURNAL ENCOUNTER .- About three o'clock on last Friday morning, our citizens residing in the vicinity of Academy Hill and the south end of Spring street were aroused by a noise arising from what seemed to be a desperate encounter between several persons near the residence of Mr. Nicholas Hillibish. This gentleman states that he was aroused by the noise, and on looking out of the win-Day in Bellefonte, it was expected that it would pass off without any extraordinary demonstration, but as it is now past, we are hanny to say thet multihappy to say that public expectation has rently exhausted, the other sprang into the been agreeably disappointed. At precisely 4 o'clock in the morning the "Widow Hinkle" belched forth her morning salute, which was the signal for the bell-ringers to person now interfered and saved the man on commence their deep toned harmonies, and the ground from, if not immediate death, at thus amid the booming of cannon and ring- least great injury.
