THE MIFFLIN AND CENTRE COUNTY RAIL ROAD .- It will be observed by an adverment in another column, that there will be a call. a mass meeting held at Potters Mills, on the 29th of May, for the purpose of arousing the people of this County to put forth an effort in behalf of this long talked of and much needed Railroad.

The proposed Road is to be the connecting link between the Pennsylvania Road at Lewistown and the terminus of the Bellefonte people generally, be sufficiently aroused to insure its speedy completion.

The people of this County have long enough been penned up among our mountainsshut in from the rest of the world-and it is fore high time that some steps be taken to open up the way for us to get out, to see something of the outside world.

The people of Mifflin county are entering into this thing with a will, and we do hope that Centre county will not play the laggard (like the little fellows in harvest we

For representative we would suggest Maj.

Wm. F. Reynolds, of Bellefonte, believing him to be able and willing to represent the people of this District as they should be, and we earnestly hope the gentleman will be pominated and elected, boys don't often get together. The thing went off very nicely, and for an extempore affair, was highly creditable to all concerned. The obliging host and hostess did their best to please the party, and the supper was gotten up in Hughes's best style, which everybody knows cannot be beaten. Altogether it was one of the nicest little arrangements we ever attended, and everybody went home well pleased with everybody else.

MAYOR KURTZ, the newly elected head of our Boro' Government, has, since his inof our Boro' Government, has, since his induction into office, made several arrests, among a certain set of "young Americas" who have been in the habit of rowdying around the streets after nightfall, doing all sorts of mischef. This is a move in the right direction, and one that has long been given by the stream of the streets after nightfall, doing all sorts of mischef. as simple as it looks : "Suppose I sell my watch for fifty dollars, buy it back for forty dollars, and sell it again for forty-five dollars, how much do I make?" It looks as lars, how much do I make?" It looks as though this fortunate trader made fifteen dollars by these transactions. In reality, he only makes five. At the end of the first trade, he has fifty dollars; at the end of the trade, he has fifty dollars; at the end of the trade. trade, he has fifty dollars; at the end of the second, he has a watch and ten dollars; at the end of the third, he has ten dollars and forty-five dellars, which is five dollars more he had at first.

The following beautiful piece of sen timent we picked up in a lawyers office, in this town, the other day :

Weep not for me, my husband dear,
I am not dead but sleeping here,
Prepare for death before you die,
And come and sleep along with I.

Dearest, sweetest, lovliest wife, She who I loved through all her life, er wife I've taken me.

And I must stay and sleep with she.

There are a number of new advertisements in this weeks issue, to which we invite the attention of our readers.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of J, S. Barnhart, another column. Smith is now prepared to take pictures of all kinds, and hopes his numerous old customers will not forget to call and see him. His car stands on the hill beside the Court House, directly opposite Garman's Hotel.

By reference to our advertising colmus, it will be seen that Mr. Garman has changed the name of his hotel from the 'Franklin House' to that of "Garman's Hotel ' Mr. G. keeps a first class establishment, and we advise our friends to give him

The distance is only about thirty mites, and, surely Centre and Mifflin Counties, assisted as they will be, by the Pennsylvania Company, have got the means wherewith to build.

The only thing wanted is the enterprise in our people, and we do sincerely hope that the little dormant spark of this precious article that still exists among this people, can in view of the great importance of this road, and the great benefit that it will be to the people generally, be sufficiently aroused to

Gen. Hunter's proclamation had been published in Charleston, and a negro insurrection there was imminent. Vast preparations are making to bombard Savannah. The expedition was admirably managed and all concerned deserve great credit. We have advanced considerably to day. The roads are improving.

WILLIAMSBURG, May 17. WILLIAMSBURG, May 17.

To the Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War.—The gunboats Galena, Monitor, Arostook, Naugatuck, and Port Royal were repulsed from Fort Darling, seven miles belaw Richmond, yesterday. mond,
At that point there is a heavy battery mounted on a high bluff and the river is temporarily closed to navigation by sunken vessels, among which is said to be the revessels, among which is said to be the rebel steamers Yorktown and Janestown, and by piles, chains, &c. The Monitor could not elevate her guns sufficiently to reach the high battery, which rendered her useless.—
The banks of the river were filled with rifle pits, from which an incessant fire was pour ed upon the fleet, a part of which were engaged at from 200 to 1,000, wades from the gaged at from 900 to 1,000 yards from the

After an engagement of five hours the fleet finding it impossible, under the circum-stances to silence the battery on the bluff, withdrew out of range. Our loss was thir-teen killed and eleven wounded, among the latter Lieutenant Morris, in the leg by a minnie ball, but not seriously.

It is expected that full particulars will received in the morning. It is said that Gee. M'Clellan, in an ticipation of the rebels' retreat from their Yorktown intrenchments, wanted M'Dowell's division to be sent to Gloucester Point and to cross the York river to Williamsburg to intercept their flight, but his wishes were not compiled with If they had been, the whole rebel army would have been captured.

In Bellefonte, Penna., May 16th A. D., 1862, Martha Irvin, daughter of Thomas R. and Margery I. Reynolds, aged 5 years, 4 months, and 12 days.

But beauteous blossoms scarce in flower, If rudely snatched they be, the quivering branches tell the power, That bound them to the tree.

Such was our loved ones stilled in death, And kindred hearts are wrung: But God doth grasp escaping breath Of innocence so young.

Bereaved we weep, but tears are balm

To hearts so sorely riven;
Oh! may this truth our anguish calm
