Let Us Have Peace.

"Suppose you go to war you cannot fight always and when after much loss of 'both sides and ND GAIN ON EITHER, you cause fighting. the old DENTICAL QUISTIONS AS TO THE TERMS OF TYPECOURSE ARE AGAIN UPON-You " Lincoln's Inaugural, March 4th,

Just sore in the same light have we ever lookediapon it, and for the same reason- we have always been opposed to this "unnec essary" and "injurious" civil war; for fight as long as we may-spend as much moneyees we please outcher as many white-men as we are able to-free as many negroes as we can -desolate as much territory as mossible-destroy as much property as comes within our reach-the time MUST come when the "old identical questions" as to the terms of intercourse will again be upon us.

We have been at war now for almost two vears-have spent millions upon millions of dollars-lost thousands upon thousands of brave men - and what have we gained ?-Has waingle question in dispute been settled 3 Nr. lins a single State been brought back into the Union? No. Have the peosele of Santh Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Minsi-mippi, or any other Confederate State been made more "loval"? Nor The enmity which existed between the seconded Statem and the Pederal Government is bit terer tensiones to-day then at the time of their withdrawel from the Union; while the Border States, which at that time were peaceful and prosperous, true to the Constitution and the Union, are now the scenes of horrie damage and blood.

The mast is certainly not without its les sons, and why should we, as an enlightened people) deals those lessons saids and rush on, regardless of the consequences which are asie to fellow our own rash deeds ?-Why add profit by the experience which has been offrehand at such frightful costs ?-Surel staters is no one now, who is so hopelessly insane as to imagine. for-a-mos that g-continuance of this wicked and unwas, 'hand give us back the peace and prosperity wat once enjoyed.

Combion, as a means to establish the supremary of the Constitution, has been effectually tried, and as signally failed. In place of eniting, it divides - in place of healing, it wounds-and we think that it is full time that the people—those who are furnishwar as honeless in its end as it was wicked !

in its conception -should stop and think. We were told by the administration, at shopmid men and a few hundred thousand teach the warward States their obedience to the general government. The men were given and the money was lavished with willing hearts. The work of subjugation or coertimes seventy-five thousand brave men en richer the soil of States then with us while be computed by hundreds of millions, and still the Union is not restored (and nevel will be by force of arms.) One portion of the American people were nor born to be sonothered by snother portion. It may do to talk of subjugating slaves or the subjects of crowned heads of Europe, but to speak of it in regard to men whose fathers fell on the bloody fields of the revolution, and who since they obtained entire control of the have tested of the sweets of American Liberty, is simply Absurd.

If the history of the past year does not teach tals, the experience of WILL, for rememember we are but at the beginning; the Southern States are no nearer conquered than they were this daylone year, ed the people-made a national debt of more ago. We have as yet scarcely tasted of the than two thousand millions of dollars, with bitter cun, the fearful realities of which are hidden amid the smoke of battle and din of conflict, although we can now see the once dom of the press—crushed out civil and reproud and glorious American Union broken, smembered, bleeding in every part-although our gaze rests now upon brother arrayed against brother, and father with deadly white refred to smits their own horn to the circle-although we look and behold nought now, but desolate firesides, and 'deserted homesteads, and know that every cot has become a place of mourning, and givery charen a bickening hospital filled with the mangled lorms of American critizens-although at sound greets our esr now, but the sorrowing wails of widows and famishing city of orphans, mingling with the roat of chinon and the ground of our dying brothers—although the smoke of battle now sartem the Beivers, and the demon of war bands apor buf country like a "dead man's lists, and burdened the labor of the masse grass drenching it with blood and spreading death and destruction with all unspar. ing hand: yet it is not the BEGINNING. bas passed since the people of Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Indiana, through cause we have not been paid. Some ments bave six or seven months' pay hem; others four; very few less than four Officers and men are suffering for the mon-coloring and shoes. Men of the regiment were in the battle of Autietim bar ut shoes, some without pants, wearing oh drauers. Again, we have had the wors nosable pravisions ever insued to any army for several weeks past—the hard bread mouldy, the meat bad—in fact, everything d and rotten. Our shoes, when we ge them are good for nothing -our ciohing is shody - blankets thin as air.' Give the contractors fits! They are the ones to abuse -not Gen. McClellan. The old regiments are worked to death."

It is unnecessary to ask who is reaponsible for this state of things. It is the men, those alone who are responsible, source mayonsi ble, for the infamous war that is new being waged against Americau citizens, because o American Institutions. The men who have viered the homes of Northern freemen and robbed them of their members, to butcher them at Bull Run, Balls Bluff, Fort Donelson, Shiloh, Richmond, James Liland, Manassas. Antietam, or starve and freeze them to death, that they may fill their pockets from the treasury, and their purses from the bodies of their dead countrymen. They are those who cry, "treason," "treason, when you speak of peace, and "tractor, "traiter," when you refuse to how! war. They are those who have torn the 'vStar's and Stripes" from the monuments of our fathers -saturated them in the blood of white firen; and blackened its folds by making it the emblom only of free negroism. They are those who plunder the soldier of his clothes, rob him of his rations, and then set up an intolorable howl for the advance of a bare footed, starving army. They are those who, like the poor old wretch that disgraces the chair ence filled by Washington, would levy taxes innumerable upon the white laboring man, and thus enclare him to nurchase and give freedom to the negroes of the South. Although, army contractors, who are growing rich on the affliction of the nation should meet the scorn and condemnation of every honest patriot of the land, yet they alone, should not be held responsible for the errible condition of those of our friends, who have joined the "grand army." The elections are over, and ol i Abe's anxety in regard to them is, no doubt, quieted by this time.
