LOCAL MATTERS

☞ Scarce—Government stamps and local items.

☞ Read the new Advertisements in to-day's paper.

☞ Major Reynold's new Mill was put in operation on last Tuesday morning.

☞ The Cumming's House will be opened before the next Court.

☞ To have Job work executed with neatness and dispatch, at low rates—call at the Watchman Office.

☞ The place to get the highest price for produce of all kinds, and to purchase goods very cheap is at Hoffers Bros.

☞ What has become of the ropes to hang Democrats that were so plenty just before the election? Say?

☞ A man by the name of Michael Delaney, died very suddenly at the Eagle Works on last Saturday. We have not been informed of the particulars or cause of his death.

☞ Counterfeits have been put in circulation in Philadelphia during the last week on the Lock Haven and Jersey Shore Banks.—They are unlike the genuine.

LET 'EM MARCH.—Old John Brown's soul is marching on, and the Republican party is marching after it. Everybody knows where to. A safe journey and a long stay to the beauties.

OCTOBER.—Golden October has glided away from us forever: but we and generations to come, will bless it through all coming time for what it has conferred upon us. It has gilded the hopes of all true patriots. It has blasted fanaticism with the biting frosts of popular disapproval.

ERRATUM.—A sentence in JUDY KOB's communication last week, was rendered meaningless by the omission of the name "Martin." It should have read; "Martin was bred to the profession of arms,"—other errors occurred, which we hope will be overlooked by our readers.

☞ By order of Old Abe, Gen. M'Clellan has been removed from the command of the Army of the Potomac. Gen. Burnside supercedes him. This we suppose the Abolitionists will consider a masterly advance, and the pile of bones that fills the chair once occupied by Geo. Washington, will no doubt count it a brilliant achievement.

THE WEATHER.—The recent terrific snow storm and cold snap was succeeded yesterday by a bright blue sky, brilliant sunshine and a genial temperature, before which the snow and ice suddenly vanished like a poets dreamy vision. If, as some think, yesterday was the advent of the misty and beautiful Indian Summer season, we may look for a succession of pleasant days before the grim old Winter King fairly inaugurates his Crises.

☞ The speculation in coffee, if it keeps on at the rate of the last month, bids fair to run up prices to a mark quite beyond the reach of all save the army, shoddy and horse contractors. The advance has been with a rapidity far exceeding anything in the recollection of the oldest merchant in trade. Even at present prices, coffee is a luxury in which many cannot afford to indulge.

NOT CORRECT.—The report going the rounds of the papers, stating that a "sharper," representing himself to be L. O. King, of the firm of Seth L. King & Sons, dealers in furs and skins &c., "come it" over the Banks of Bellefonte, to the tune of of $2,000.

Lock Haven and Jersey Shore Banks we believe were swindled out of a considerable amount, but at this place the rogue did not succeed, our Bankers being a little too "wide awake" for him.

☞ A private letter from a soldier on the Potomac to a gentleman of this place, says the stereotyped phrases, appearing in the papers since the battle of Antietam, "All quiet along the Potomac," is a hoax. That there has been some hard fighting since, the reports of which the papers are not permitted to publish. Burnsides and Sedgwick says has been cut up badly, and had 12,000 prisoners taken from them.

A facetious contemporary remarks that the Abolitionists will have a harder time going up Salt River than the Democrats had two years ago; not on account of the low stage of water but because each Emancipationist will have to "tote" a nigger on his back.

Hon. Ben Wood.

Hon. Benjamin Wood, of New York, has been re-elected to Congress. In this result appears some significance. Mr. Wood was the only man in the last session of the present Congress who spoke out in favor of peace. There were Democrats of Vallandingham's class, who stoutly and courageously battled against the fanaticism that ruled the hour. Btu none of these planted themselves squarely upon a peace platform: on the contrary, they all supported the adminstration in the prosecution of the war; voting all the men and money asked for by the executive. Benjamin Wood, however, as we believe, has stoutly opposed every war measure. He also delivered a lengthy speech before the House in favor of peace, and pointing out the road to such a consummation.

With such a record, Mr. Wood went before his constituents' asking their endorsement, and has been re-elected. The district which he represents has given a Republican, or anti-Democratic majority in past years. This fact, coupled with the fact that Mr Wood's opponent was Hon. Hiram Walbridge, a man who has up to the present time pretended to belong to the Democratic party, renders his success a little remarkable. In the first place, they knew that Mr. Walbridge would get the entire Abolition vote, and the fact that he ran as a war Democrat, would render it probable that he could command the support of the war Democrats. Consequently, we may certainly take it for granted that the entire war vote—Democratic and Abolitionist—was cast for Walbridge, and we have the fact staring us in the face that Mr. Wood's election is a verdict by the citizens of his district in opposition to the war, and in favor of peace!—Carbon Democrat

A Plain Truth.

We hear the Abolition presses and speakers daily mouthing "our great country." Well, who made it great? Echo answers "The Democracy." Why is it great, or rather was it great? Because it extends over a boundless, a rich and varied territory. Who added this territory and thus made our country great?—Echo again answers; 'The Democracy!' Who opposed, for half a century, the making of this a great country?' The New England Federalists and the modern Abolitionists. When was our 'great country' destroyed? When these New England Federalists and modern Abolitionists got into power. What impudence is it then for these men to now talk about "our great and glorious country?"

The Democracy made it, and the Democracy alone can restore it. All men, therefore, oppose to the Democracy, are opposed to the restoration of this 'great country,' and according to their own logic, they must all be traitors.—

M'CLELLAN'S REMOVAL.

Who are the President's advisers? Forney says the removal was recommended some time ago to him, and approved, but 'only finally resolved upon after a change became inevitable.

Why "inevitable?" That is what the people want to know.

What the removal indicates, according to Forney is 'hard fighting—ernest war—rapid marches—the utter ruin of every source of the rebellion's strength—short, quick, decisive campaigns and speedy peace.'

The old soug. Pope tried it; and his 'hard fighting' and rapid marches' were to keep himself out of the enemies clutches. The most rapid marches he made were in retreat. We all know what 'the utter ruin of every source of the rebellion's strength' means—the emancipation of the slaves. Well' let us see these 'short, quick, decisive campaigns,—this contemplated 'speedy peace.'—You have now got a new Commander—you have the advantage of the highest, most ultra Abolition counsels—you have everything that you want, and as you want it—now go ahead. Have done with nonsense—no more second rate Mexican pronunciamentos, but act—fulfil your promises—march, fight, conquer—have done with your miserable bombast—no more lying, no more deception—"make your vaunting true," defeat the rebels, save the Union, or hold up your heads and tell the people to strike.—Patriot & Union.
