Watchman.

The Bastil'd Democrat.

BY P. G. FERGUSON

They bore him to a gloomy cell, And barred him from the light, Because he boldly dared to tell The people what was right. He dared his single voice to raise, Against oppression's power, To show, by truth's uncrring rays, The dangers of the hour

They called him by a traitor's name, And with a fiendish hate Heaped on his head a load of shame Such as on felons wait. They dragged him from his peaceful heart Upon a despot's word, Although the vilest man on earth Should by the law be heard.

Thus he, a man of lofty soul, Wielding a magic pen, Whose word the people would control, And sway the minds of men, Is by a crazy tyrant's nod, Of liberty bereft, Struck by a base usurper's rod-

They shut him up, but could not charn His free and fearless soul; The sacred chamber of his brain Was free from their control. Ther could not bind the eagle thought That from his mind took figiht Efface the lesson he had taught, Nor bar the truth from light,

For the' within a dungeon damp They shut him from the day, They could not quench truth's airy lamp That burns with fadeless ray, But hark ! upon the sea of life. What sound comes from afar ? It is the harlinger of strife, Of red ensanguined war.

It is the people's voice that breaks Like wild waves on the ear ; It was the People's tramp that shakes The earth both far and near. Lift up thy head O Martyr brave, Thy chains will broken be; The people come their friend to save-Look up thou wilt be free!

HEROISM OF WOMEN.—The following incident is related by an army correspondent of the Lancaster Express, in a letter dated at Cran Orchard, Kentucky:
