The Watchman.

Who is Semmes.

Li graphers have sometimes mistaken the notorious captain of the Alabama for a less celebrated namesake. He is not "Alexander," but Raffael Semmes, who was never put upon the retired list for going at a "240 or 290" p ce, Vanity Fair to the contrary notwithstanding. This Semmes is a Paltimorean, or a native of Maryland at least. He was the fifty-eighth comander of the U S. Navy when he resigned.

The energy and pluck of Semmes always commanded respect. While he was inspector of the Lighthouse Board, a position he fille I be ore the war, those who opposed him once never did it. tw.ce. He can beat any steamer in the navy, if his vessel has the speed that reports say. Appreiensions are felt that he may obtain some of our newsignal books, which would enable him to coal beside one of our naval vessels in a foreign port, if none of officers there knew him. In this city first class house is occupied by a rear female relative of this dashing officer, and it is said that one of his children, who is now being educated in Baltimore, had her father's daguerrotype recent-Iveopied in Broadway, that his admirers might have souveneirs of him. There are three or four members of his family in Brooklyn, all in respectable positions. Semmes is not a whit a greater dare devil than John N. Mafit, who is reported to be his second. in command. Mafit is an Irishman, whose father was a pious clergyman, which John, on more than one occasion, declared to be "the meanest profession under the sun." In 1862 he was admitted to the navy, and, singularly enough was classmated with the Mr. Ronckendorf whom he has just outwitted. He was the last commander of the steam gunboat Crusader, one of Cromwell's yessels, bought by the navy. His appointment was credited by Georgia, which he called the "native state of his naturalization." On board the little Delphin he captured the little brig Echo, with the cargo of negroes which was subsequently sent to Africa in the Niagra.—

THE MORALS OF WASHINGTON. The notorious Parson Brownlow, in a letter to the C. office formerly occupied by Curtin & Blancha low, in a letter to the Cincinnati Gazette, thus describes what the National Capital has become under the Abolition rule:

Washington, as a city, has no more charms for me than in former days. It is a fearful place! The population is said to be double what it was when the war broke out. Speculators and swindlers have multiplied at a leastful rate, and all trades and professions are living and flourishing at the exwhat it was when the war broke living and flourishing at the expense of the Government. And every variety of institution is beevery variety of institution is being run here. There are live theatres, three monkey shows, one circus, "the negro minstrels," one hundred houses of doubtful

Preaching, the practice of medicine, and of law. practice of medicine, and of law, are obsolete ideas, if not regarded as humbugs!

THE TERMS ON WHICH MR. SEW-ARD IS WILLING TO END THE WAR.

—In his dispatsh to Mr. Adams, our Minister to England, dated Aug., 18, 1862, Mr. Seward states upon what terms the Administraupon what terms the Authors this and the print the National Refers to

BY PUMP SUNKING, ESQ. I've just come out to sing a song, A song which is all truth, sire; And should I make a slight mistake, You must know I'm but a youth sire! Sternberg's a bully fellow

Its all about a man in town
Who loves to please the folks, sirs,
Whose always in a happy mood,
Ant gets off bully jokes, sirs.
Sternberg's a bully fellow He keeps a clothing store up town, Which is both rich and rare, sirs,

Where you can see a spleudid lot Of clothing, t declare, ciral Sternberg's a builty fellow le scrapes and bows and bows and scre And suiles sli o'er his face, sirs, yow I think I never saw A man of so much grace, sirs. Sternberg's a bully tellow.

You ask to see some of the goods
That on his shelves do same, sirs,
And then you're bothered which to choose
They're all so mighty fine, sirs.
Sternberg's a builty follow.

He shows you all his coats and vests, And pants of every style, sirs, So neal and trim, so fair to view, You'can't avoid a smile, sirs. Sternberg's a bully fellow! And then he takes you round his store, And purs upon your head sirs. A bully hat, which makes you look Like one about to wed sirs. Steinberg's a bully fellow!

In short, you're bound to be so pleased
With all his gords and things, sirs,
You'll buy at once a bran new suit,
Cost what it will, by jing, sirs!
Sternberg's a bully fellow!

Because, you see, you can'e refuse
To help a man along, sirs,
When all you buy at Sternberg Hall,
You buy for a mere song, sirs.
Sternberg's a bully fellow!

And so I tell you when you come,
Just bring along your purse, sirs,
For when you come into his store,
You'll go out once the worse, sirs.
Sternberg's a bully fellow >

In fact, so well T-know the man,
I venture for to say, airs,
A cleverer follow you've not seen
This many a long day, sirs.
