Although your darling Minnic's gone.

And car h and ally tock dark and drear;
Although your bloodless heart feels lone,
Remember Minnic's spirits noar.

Our Savior needed her above—

Your bright, your cherished, only dear,
He gave with Jay and took in love.

Why should you mearn or shed a teat.

Why should you mourn or shed a tear.

With f ithlit eye behold her, whore

No sorrow care nor troubles rise. Behold her winning ways, and there, Just as t ey were beneath the skies-Her clasping bands her purelit brow, her changing pure and joyous face; Behold! she's beek'ning to y'u now.
