"Help Cassius or I Sipk!"

It is uscless to disguise the fact, that communities have now contributed that amount in men and money, which leave them on the verge where patience ceases to he a virtue, and where great changes take place for hetter or for worse. Hence we must succeed with the armies now in the field, or the war will resolve steelf into one read turnult, compelling every most to entrench himself in his own home, there to defend or perish with his family. We might as well be apprised of this fact now, as have it burst upon us suddenly in all its fearful reality. Indeed the trigit has been kept too long from the people—the nation has pursued its pleasure, the speculator has accumulated his wealth, the politician has achieved his success—and the while the people have been making field, or the war will resolve itself into one rast the politions has achieved his success—and all the while the people have been making their sacrifices, wives giving up husbands. Inthera devoting sons, to swell the ranks of the armies, that liberty might be preserved and the aution rescued from danger. For three years this has lasted, and now the end must cone. We cannot stand another year of expense of waste by the loss of labor and of expense of water by the loss of labor and the root of speculation, such as have marked the three years of wear. The army of the Potomac must end the wor-op its defent during the campaign now just being mangurafed, will open the door wide for the invasion of the North, and seal foreter the doors of the Republic.

We believe that the great crisis of the war is now upon us. All things seem to tend to this belief. And yet strange it may appear, those most interested in the business of providing against the worst that may happon, are doing the least. Indeed, if the run of the Republic should come upon us—if the capitols of the States North and of the nation, should fall into the hands of the ennation, should fall into the hands of the enemy, it will be while the representatives of the people are engaged in vain struggles the people are engaged in vain struggless politically or projects concerning themselves pecuniarly, while longrossis frittering away iss time in calabitions of blackguardism, while one-half of its members are pursuing their own interests to the neglect of the publie business—while the apecutators is op-pressing and almost starving labor—and while licentiousness and ript fill the land. Rome to fidding Nero did not present a more frighth-! picture, than do the States, that are loyal as well as the States that are rabellious, exhibit to the world. When all this will end, or how it will end, God only knows, and we can only say. God save the Republic.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Right and Wrong

Why is it that all discussion as to the right or wrong of secession has been si-enced? Why is it that the only lancuage we are allowed to use is in praise

of the Administration at Washington

and in favor of this ruinous and wicked

war? If as those in favor of coercion assert, their cause is right in the sight of God and man, why not make it irresista-ble by proving that right to the world? All discussion has been silenced under the Government, and strengthen those who are in arms against it. If the cause of the North will not bear investigation, surely it is not worth the millions of human lives which have been sacrificed to maintain it. If fair and open discussion will weaken the efforts of the Administration, they ought to be weakened, if the truth will paralyze the bloody hand, it ought to be paralyzed. When a country is in such a condition as we find ours today, it is evident that there has been grievous wrong somewhere. It is the up to the time of the election of Mr. Lin. up to the time of the election of Mr. Lin-coln, has always maintained the right of secession, and taught the doctrine that and would require 125 ships of 1,000 tons that way of changing the government was much preferable to violent revolution .-From the first hour of our government's existence, the people have held it their right to discuss all questions, and the more important those questions become, the more termiously should we hold to the right of investigation. Startling, but true.

The following curious and suggestive calculations were read by Mr. John Pair, the other day, before the Albany Democratic Association :

The national debt is stated to be $4,000. one, one where the whole subject that the wrong may be discovered and destroyed. An able writer has said that, the true way of reaching the right is through the heart of the wrong, if we go may be discovered and destroyed. It would make 62,500 truck loads of two tuns each, and calculating that each truck will cover a space of 30 feet, they would stretch a distance of 300 miles, and make a chain of trucks which would encompass the great cities of New York, Albany and Troy in an elliptical line. It would take a man 365 years and 40 days to count the amount of this vast debt, estimating that he would count $60 per minute, working ten bours a day and six days a week.

A Republican exchange says that "Mr. Lincoln is good enough President for the Republican party." That may be true, but at the same time he is a very bad President for the United States. Indeed, he cannot with truth be called a President at all—he is only the chief of a party, of a revolutionary, demagogueio, fenatical, and unprincipled party at that.
