full next week. Stans, We have no faith at all in such Demo sracy. A man that is afreid to say what he believes, for fear of besoning impopulation almply. an man at all. He was made for a nigger, but mature forget to collour him.

Brownam .-- The sword contast has ended, and might have known it. J. J. J .--- We believe a large majority, of the people are to-day in favor of 's recognition of the Confederate States in preference to an indefinite prolongation of the war, and in our estimation the sooner it is done, the sooner this infamous, wicked and desolating war is abandoned, the better it will be fo the country.

Court, now in session at this place has been well attended, for the April term. We will give the proceedings next week.

We had the pleasure of taking by the hand Col. John H. Stover of the 184th P. V. He is a good soldior, and a first rate fellow Long may he wave:

A concert was given at the Cour House on Wedensday evening last, for the benefit of the sanitary commission. What amount of funds was raised, or what the performance was like we do not know. FIRE.-The dwelling house of R. H. Meek Esq. of Patton twp, together with most of the furniture &c., was entirely consumed by fire on Sunday last ; how it originated is not known. Loss about $2,000.

Hon. W. H Miller, and the Hon. J. K. Morehead of the Federal Congress, and C. T. Alexander Esq, of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania will please accept our thanks for valuable public documents.

A team belonging to Col. R. Keller Contre Hill, took fright at something about the Cummings House stables and ran away, on Wedensday ovening last throwing the hostler, who had charge o. them at the time from, the buggy, and suashing things up generally.

Farmers throughout the county are complaining terribly about the prospects of the coming every. In many, very many, places, a half a harvest is not expected. This in connection with the lateness of the spring, and entire failure of the clover crop, cannot fail to produce exceedingly tight times .----Let laboring men look out, grain must be high before another year.

sor If our readers fail to observe the Advartisemeni, of the Prince of clothiers, A. Sternberg, in this No., of the WATCHMAN. they can attribute it to the fact, that he line in re will such an immer we stock of goods, that our piper, mige as the control tice to them, and is on'y waiting until enough is sold to make the stock small enough to advertise in a country paper.

OBITUARY.

In Centre Hall on the Lith inst Miss Marga-et A manda Swarts aged 23 years 4 month and ret Amanda Sirarts synd 23 years 4 month sidd 6 daya. In a few short words her death is told; yes to those about with the state of the state of the connect of the state of the state of the state of the dished state of the state of the state who of all others we would fave whethed might itre. It is the duty of all, to how in humble submission to the dispensation of an all-wise Providence, but when summoned to part forev-er on carth from those we most love, hard, hard, for mortals to say, "thy will be done." How hard to realize, that she, whom we have so long knows, whom we have so much loved, should thus early be called away, where our mortal eyes can never, mirer ballold her againd. So young, so amiable, so full of bope, is it, can it be pressible she is deal? Too distinctly does the rememberance of the slowly moring corte-ge as they folly we the remaine of our dear depurted one to their last peeling place, come back to our imagination to double our senses. Bis is gone. The incorable messenged did well his work, and all we have yet remaining of our dear friend, is the memory of her many vir-tues, which even the start monster, death could not rob us of. Though we cannot repress the burning tears which starts from our eyes, though tues, which even the stern monster, (feath could not rob us of. Though we cannot repress the burning tears which start from our eyes, though the tumuit of sorrowful feeling which fills our breasts or a acount of this sad bereavengent must find vent in many a deep drawn sigh, yet a sweet relief is afforded us, when we remember the blessed words of hope, of consolation, and trust, which fell from her lips before she expir-ied. Though called away in the morning of her life, she was propared to eater upon that rest "which remainsth anto the people of God."

Addigit capted away in the morning of the life, she was, frequent do cales apon that rest "which remainsth unto the people of God."
"Calm on the bosom of thy God Fair spirit! rest the now, Bren while with us thy footsteps tred," His seal was on thy brow.
Dust to its narrow hoses beneath.
Boul to its place on high!
They that have seen thy look in death, No more may fear to die."
Her path through life was not exempt from thorse. She was left an orphan at an early age, and her house for the most part wills among strangers. But such was the ansishility of her character, that, strangers were som convorted link the warmset friends, and though the simost parental kindness, which, she ever experiment at the bands of those with whom she livel, 'did much to amelianate the lopely days of her orphanage. This seat the lopely days of her orphanage. This seat the bands of those with whom she livel, 'did much to achist friends, and she would feel sadly bereaved. The promise of Him who said "I will be a father unto the fatherless" however was previous to her as a source of much consolation. She was a regular and consistent member of the Methodist Epiceopal church; and though circumstances often compelled ber to be absent from services in the church of the reboice her proferences dia not forbid her to attend the ervices of other denominations. If in the audide nad nearest deals of this lady, her friends and the community suffer an irreparalos, and a sad berearment, we know that our great loss, is her oternal gais; and our add berearment, the event of the with the set from a world like this; Forgive the with that would have kept the here. And stayed thy vorgreas to the seat of blies." Over way KNNM METH WELL.
