Win. Geary, a breakesman on the Buld Lando Vallay R. R. was crushed to death, while coupling the cars, at Portmatilds Station on Wednesday last. He was a resident of Unionville, this county, and leaves a wife and three small children. This is the first fatal arcident we believe that had happened on this road.

ma From some few sections of the coun try we have reports that the crops will be good. In this county there will not be sufficient wheat harvested to furnish the farmers seed and bread, what little the severe winter left the weavil and fly are now do-of the County. The resources of this section are being slowly developed; travel is much facilitated by the extension of the Tyrone and Clearfield R R. and on the ingrease. The amount of freight trans-shipped at .Philipsburg, the present terminus of the road, would disappoint those who know this zootion of the state only as a semi-wilderness. Steam mills are multiplying, lumber is shipped, and employment given to an enterpri sing population. An adjourned meeting of the Huntingdon Presbytery convened at Philipsburg on Tuesday of this week Bey. G. Zahrhiser in the chair and it adjourned on Wednesday at noon. During the proceedings, trial sermons were: preached by two young licencrates. W. O. Wright was ordnined, and installed pastor of the Presbyterian Churches at Philipsburg and Kylertown. When the hour of adjournment had arrived, a written communication was handed in from the ladies of Osceolo inviting the members of the Presbytery to a fishing excursion at or numr that place. The invitation was politiny received and several of the younger.

and bachelor members scomed inclined to accept the invitation. The clergy were pleased with the romantic appearance of this vicinity, and many of them expressed a desire to visit again the Banks of the Moshannon and the pine clad hills of Clear Here as in other places there is much sorrow and bereavement because of the war. Many go clad in mourning, many wait in dreadful suspense for the slow intelligence which may in a moment send its sorrows to the heart ; and the young child that yesterday tossed its curls in glee and mistrustful ress, is, to day an erphap, dependent upon the charities of the world for futtife gui dance and support. Such are the blessings of war ; and the fruits of the management by the men in power who offer up their millions to the Moloch of party, and tramp beneath their feet the dearest rights and wishes of the people.
