

F. GRAY HENNE, - Editor.

BELLEVILLE, PA.

FRIDAY MORNING, SEPT. 2, 1864.

TERMS - $3 per year when paid in advance, $1.50 when not paid in advance, and $3.00 when not paid before the expiration of the year.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

FOR CONGRESS.

S. T. SHUGERT,

OF BELLEVILLE,

Subject to the decision of the Congressional Convention.

FOR SENATOR.

JAMES MCMAHON,

OF BELLEVILLE,

Subject to the decision of the Senatorial Convention.

FOR ASSEMBLY.

S. T. ALEXANDER,

OF BELLEVILLE,

FOR COMMISSIONER.

JOHN L. GRAY,

OF HALF MOON.

FOR AUDITOR.

JOHN RISHEL,

OF BRIDGE TOWNSHIP.

The News. We have received a Southern report of the late battle on the Weldon Railroad. From this...

General Sheridan has only advanced as far as Charlestown, six miles from Harper's Ferry. He reports a strong force of the enemy in front of him...

Just as we are going to press the news reaches us of the nomination of George B. McClellan, for President, and George H. Pendleton, of Ohio for Vice President.

Are the People Ready. Before another issue of the Watchman meets the eye of the reader, upwards of two hundred of the citizens of this county will, no doubt have received tickets to the carnival of blood-pressing invitations to the feast of death.

The time draws near when the lottery of death will begin, and five hundred thousand men will be called upon to give up all they hold dear on earth and enter the slaughter-pens of Lincoln.

The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

The Description.

The time draws near when the lottery of death will begin, and five hundred thousand men will be called upon to give up all they hold dear on earth and enter the slaughter-pens of Lincoln.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Be not Deceived.

The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

From Atlanta.

BYRON ATLANA GA., Aug. 17th 1864. Editor Watchman:—As the 7th P. C. Co., has quite a number of friends in...

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Our Danger.

John Adams complained in old times of the difficulty of arousing the people to an appreciation of British aggressions and the peril to American rights therefrom. Were that patriot here to-day, he would find similar causes of neglect and sorrow. People are apt to measure by the moment's ease of an exemption from their operation.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Did the "Government" Lie?

In his letter to the Springfield Mass. Synod convention a year ago, Lincoln said: "You say you will not fight for the negro. Some of them seem willing to fight for you. But to make the fight for you is to make the fight for the Union. I issued the proclamation on purpose to aid you in saving the Union. Whichever of you shall accept of my resistance to the Union I will not fight for you. I will not fight for you unless you are willing to fight for the Union."

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

The Coming Fervor.

One-third of the whole population of the Northern States have been in arms, marching and destroying, within the last three years. The greater part of them were drawn from the actively-producing classes. Another army has been engaged in stealing clothing and carrying off the people of the fighting army. The larger part of the remaining population has been made up of men of feeble age, of women and of leaderless soldiers.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.

Do not be deceived. The abolition presses and orators are laboring most assiduously to make the people believe that Abraham Lincoln is anxious and willing to make peace, whenever the Confederate authorities are ready to accept terms that will be honorable alike to both sections of the country.