UNION HOUSE, MILBURY PA. D. C. KELLER, Proprietor. The subscriber would respectfully inform the public that he has recently refitted the above named Hotel and is now prepared to accommodate his friends and patrons in a comfortable manner, and he will spare no pains in making an agreeable home for all sojourners. His table will always be abundantly supplied from the markets of country and cities, and his Bar filled with liquors of choice brands. His charges are as reasonable as those of any other Hotel in the place, and he feels satisfied that they can not be complained of by those who favor him with their custom. Expecting to receive a share of public patronage, and fully intending to deserve it, he solicits upon his house to the public and invites a trial.

MEDICAL
The peculiar nature of the infection which we call Scrophulous, is the result of a morbid action of the blood, wherein the fluid becomes impure, and is rendered incompetent to sustain the vital functions of the system. It is a disease of the blood, and leaves the system to all its disorder and decay. The scrophulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial diseases, by living, disordered digestion from immoderate use of spirit, fish and glycol habits, by the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending from parent to offspring, and is the most fatal of diseases. It is indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The disease it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrophulous produces the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection.
