"Not Dead, but Sleepeth." RAILING in all their efforts to draw the honest Democracy again into the support of this horrid war, by promises of 'conciliation' and appeals to them to forcet the past with its outrages and usurpations, and seeing the folly of their attempt to get the party as an organisation to endorse their infamous schemes and assist in carrying out their wicked plans by giving a cordial and hearty support to their suicidal policy, the Abolition fournals have changed their course and are now doing their utmost to indu their readers to believe that our good old party-principles, associations, and all are dead; dead, and out of their way; dead, and with it all basriers removed rom their nath of disunion : dead, and all obstacles in their march of destruction cast saide. They have concluded that if they cannot obliterate it in the quagmires of Abolitionism, or drown it in the blood of their infidel war, that they will comfort themselves by foolish imaginations and feast their fancies on ards who have dehounced all wars as do not defend the liberties of the people what they hoped for as a result of the laurelection. That they will succeed, in Ubringing the masses of their own party to believe that the Democracy is dead, bet alone the thousands of Democrats they would induce to desert their principles and party by such silly twaddle. we have not the faintest idea. The returns of the election just passed are too significant for that, the result of the sampaign too close to allow any auch apeculations.

If the political denise of a few politicians-'leaders' who have ever pandered to whatever idea promised success—individuals that fear to advocate what they believe to be right, can be construed into the death of the Democratic party, then we are willing to admit that opposition to Abolitionism is no more, and that the enemies of our country and her institutions may go on, heeding and fearing nothing from the party that has ever stood between them and the object of their hatred-the Constitution.

The triumph of Abolitionism in November was not a victory over Democracy or Democratic principles. There was none of them at stake in the issue. Those who for the time had the organisation of the Democratic party under their charge; ignominiously thrust its principles aside at-Chicago, and with an ill-stared conception of political expediency, forced the masses of the party between two candidates, neither one of which represented their feelings, neither one of which was an exponent of their views. It cannot be said then that the fight was between the individuals? They are the only advo- safe guards that the Constitution throws Democratic and Abolition parties. The principles of Democracy had been set aside for the time being, to give place to a cowardly and disgraceful "policy," and the members of the party were free to agt as their feelings dictated. They gave their support to M: Clellan not because he was the representative of their principles, not because his triumph wanted be the success of Democracy, but because he was in opposition to the mad and fatal policy of Abraham Lincoln because with him as President, if they sould not stop this anti-Democratic; unconstitutional and barbarous war, they sould at least have it conducted in a plea of rendering assistance and aid to sivilized and Christian manner. They civilized and Christian manner. They acted as aids, not as principals in the managing the Sauitary Commission are light, and the lesson they learned we just now doing their best to get up an hope will last them forever.

The great, the vital principles of Doand as long as there are men who would be free, there will be a party to uphold shem. Seekers after office, "expedieverything for temporary success may go down with party dona's, but the party will still exist. It has a foundation as permanent and lasting as the decrees of the Almighty, and no power on earth can applicate it. We have but to go to out to them on account of an insufficiency work again, fellow Democrats, keep up of food, slothing, and medicines, and in the dether organizations, throw away the dethe most touching manner the sympsthe most touching manner the sympa-thies of the people are appealed to, to sheet are pressed upon us honority, for the sick, aid the needy, and benefit those who are suffering but to fill the slow Abeligosism that Demogracy in the old Kernegeo State is not dead.

If the ancestors and history of the individuals the same and the same var was nothing the talens by led to believe that their birth place had been s battlefield, their nothishment the blood of their enemies, their playthings when children the sword and beyonet, and the music that lulled them to sleep the un sattly monds of Battle. But strange pedrie of our country has been engaged in as unjust, unholy and Miquitous of proved by their actions, as they are doing now, that they were the most contemptable set of cowards eyer the breath of life was breathed into. Descendant of the Tories of the Rev olution who clung to King George and denomiced our patriot fathers as "retionists, whose only deeds of valor was the burning of witches and the hanging of Quakers; "blue light" Rederalists of 1812, who gave what little influence they had to England in her crusade against our country; Old Line Whigs of 1846, who hoped our soldiers in the Mexican war would be "welcomed with bloody hands to hospitable graves;" Members of Peace Societies, who but a few years since thundered their anathemas against all wars, defensive or offensive, as contrary to the teachings of our Divine Master: Quakers and Friends whose 'conscientious scrup'es' against shedding blood has been aworn to from time immemorial, to exempt them from drafts war taxes, and the dangers of the battle field, when the honor of our country was at stake, or the rights of her citizens in jeopardy; Loyal Leaguers, who raised a terrible howl about the taxes imposed upon them to prosecute the we shall lay before our readers next Mexican war, and vilified Polk and the Democratic party for parrying it on sucesfully; ministers of the Gospel and nild members of the church who have county who are now suffering in the heretofore taught that war was the agency of the Devil, and that it was but alledged political offences against the following the injunction of the Bible to Administration. The suggestion is a take a cowhiding with equanimity, or a kick as a compliment; able-bodied cow- upon immediately. If the Democracy crnel and unjust for fear their precious carcasses would come within the range of the enemies guns, but favor this one because they are "loyal," sand see a chance of skulking to Cahada when called upon, or of buying a nigger to take their place in the ranks; contractors whose fathers grew rich robbing the odies of murdered Americans in the days of the Revolution, and who see a chance of reaping a rich harvest of greenbacks if they can prolong this that immediate action be taken in the butchery and death. This is the class of people that hound on the accursed crusade, and swear by the Gods it shall not cease until "slavery is blotted out" miserable, cowardly wretches, that have been traitors to the country and a disgrace to humanity ince the day they were born-poor white livered cravens that would run at the sight of an empty pop gun, or faint at the sound of a Chinese cracker.

There are others that should be mentioned in this catalogue of raving, ranting, war schreeching, blood thirsty beings, who serve as a reserve corps to keep up the cry when the former mentioned ones are frightened into silence through fear of conscription-cripples, who cannot be drafted; old maid, who hate mankind because they have been unable to secure a husband; wives who want to get rid of their better halves, in order to get hold of some one else, and young girls who admire the ebony face eral authority, who will drag him from loving embrace of the sweet scented 'American of African descent."

Where is the consistency about these cates of war, the chief instigators of the butchery that is blotting out so many brave Americans. Yet, like Job's horse, they stand off, "scenting the battle from afar." They have prescribed powder and steel as a panacea for our public ills, and we pray. God that they may yet be made to taste of their own prescription.

Why Don't they Report?

Nor content with the hundreds of thousands of dollars they have already taken from the people under the specious managing the Sanitary Commission are other furore in its favor, in hopes that the treasury which they have depleted to fill their own pockets may again become plethoric, and that those among them who have not yet been able to sent them-selves rich, may have one more thance to do so. Preachers and lecturers are hired to travel over the country, telling harrowing tales of suffering, said want, and destitution among the soldiers oroulars and appeals are sent broadcast, giving heart rending accounts of the misery and death that is being meted those controlling this mammoth organi-nation, and find a lot of stelen, worth-less niggers. What has become of the money? Millions upon millions of dollars have already been contributed in one way or the other, and we hear of no good that the soldiers have derived from it. Can those who are now begging more for this association answer? Can they give a satisfactory account of the disposal of the immense amount that has already been entrusted to their We believe not. Why then care? should the people give more? It is reported, and we believe correctly, that out of every dollar given in this way ninety cents is kept by the agents to re? imburse them for time and trouble, and the balance is given to somebody else, the Lord alone knows who. Is this so? Can those who are getting up entertainments, and traveling the country to raise new funds give us a satisfactory account of the disbursement of what they have already received? this article reflecting upon the Sanitary Commission.

Tax Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, in an address to the Democracy of Pennsylvania which week, recommends that some action on the part of the Democracy be taken in regard to the citizens of Columbia noisome dungeons of Fort Mifflin, for timely one, and we hope it will be acted no other power will. If the two hundred and seventy-six thousand freemen who cast their ballots against the usurpation of Abolitionism at the late election intend delivering up their rights at the command of an imbeoile tyrant, then we of Pennsylvania, like the citizens of Maryland, Missouri, and Kentucky may bid farewell to all that freemen hold dear. If they are not prepared for such an event, their duty demands of then cases refered to. The masses of the Democracy in this section of the State we know will be ready to stand shoulder to shoulder with their brethren of other sections in defence of their rights, liberties and privileges. Let the movement be made by those having the power. Let the State Central Committee act, and act in a manner that there will be no mistaking their intention, and they will find the bone and sinew of the country ready and willing to act with them. The fate of the citizens of Columbia county who were torn from their homes by military power, tried by a military tribunal, and imprisoned in a military prison on charges which come within the jurisdiction of the civil authority, may be ours to-morrow, unless a stop be put to this manner of proceeding. No individual is safe. no citizen has any assurance that the sanctity of his home will not be invaded by the hirelings of Fedar to get hold of some one else, and not be invaded by the hirelings of Fed-or and girls who admire the ebony face eral authority, who will drag him from marks of the Democracy, and raising the or greasy nigger, and long for the wife and children, family and friends, him in the cells of a political Bastile for no offence whatever. Where are the around the citizen? They have been basely surrendered by our State authorities to the tyrants that control the administration of the Federal Government. A cowardly and truckling State Executive has sold the rights of those it should protect, and now nothing remains but for the people to defend themselves, or become the veriest slaves of military despotism. Will our State Central Committee pemain silent on this great question, or will it take such a course as will show the ususpers and tyrants that Pennsylvania is no place for them to attempt their inflamous work. Let action on their part be the word. Their auty demands it their party demands it, their country demands it rights, privaledgs, posterity, all demand it. pressive as the government from which we separated. It will be as in Europe, where every man must be pike of gudgéon, harmser or anvil. Our tenstionaries and theirs are wares from the same workshops, made of the same hands of the states sick with spathy on this citien descent into the gulf which he to evalide all we have the humbs character, formed shoontrolable but by character, formed shouttroights but by rod of iron; and the hisphaness of m as mospable of self-government, become true historians.

On another occasion he said: "Government is now taking so steady a source as to show by what road it will pass to destruction, to wit: by constitution first, and then corruption—its natural consequent

In view of the history of the present administration, who now can say that what Jefferson thought he saw in his day, has betterous shought he saw in his day, has not in fact come to pass in ours, or deny that all government is now drawn to Washington? And who can say that this competitation of power in the central government, has not been followed by its natural consequence—"corraption!" Who, in view ment has not been followed by its natural consequence—"corraption!" Who, in view of the existing condition of things, can deny that under this administration of affairs, the American people are practically divided into two distinct classes—the governing and the governed? The first, the administration in p wer, ruling without let or hindraboe from any legal or constitutional restraints has stricked down the independence traints, has stricken down the independence and sovereignly of the States, the great barriers of individual liberty, and reduced the second to the condition of subjects of the contral power. Local self-government, developed here in State governments, exists now only in form. By its institious policy, the general government, under pretense of the general government, under protense or military necessity, has usurped, one by one, the rights of the sovereign States, and de-prived the people of the protection of those laws, processes and institutions which the original organization of our political com-munities were intended to secure to them, that against foreign foce—but against this very central government itself. This silent vary central government itself. This silent descent of the government into the gulf which swallows up State and individual rights slike, we have been stendly and gradunlly making. The venality and corrupment strikes its ponderous blows-or sim-ple "gudgeons," devoured by the voracious pikes! of Federal power.

And what is the semedy? None, but in retracing the downward steps, and restor-ing the balances of the Constitution. The great evil is the tonsolidation of power in the general government, by the destruction by some strange faility or infatuation, the great battle of the last election was fought on a false issue, and State rights, only another name for local selections. other name for local self-government, the keystone of the arch of our Union, were totally ignored in the contest.

When no one questioned or violated Staterights, the Democratic party used to assert the Resolutions of '08 with wonderful holdthe Resolutions of '08 with wonderful hold-ness, and pertinacity at every State and National Convention—but when they were stricken down and trampled upon by the "Executive Government" of Abraham Lin-cola, the Chicago Convention, in tender re-gard for its candidate, or for some equally good reason, avoided all reference to these "foundation principles" of Democracy. There can be no restoration of our Union, no resumption of popular rights—no restric-tion of the general government to the limits prescribed by the Constitution, no self-government, but by the assertion and mainte-nance of all the rights of the sovereign States. The State governments are in the States. The State governments are in the hands of men who have blindly or corrupts ly succumbed to the usurpations of the central power, and the only hope left us to gain our liberties, and restore our loss stitutions, lies in rescuing the States from their control. This must henceforward be the object of every Demostat, and the asser-tion and vindication of the doctrine of Etate ect it. We cannot avade the issue if we would— We cannot avade the issue if we would— let us meet it like men and patriots. The work before us is simply one of re-construc-tion—it is to rebuild the glorious temple of the Union, in all its original symmetry and strength; this we must at least attempt to do, or witness its overthrow in silent apathy. To reconstruct we must follow the plans and use the materials of the original bull— does I fait no then revert to the old land and not men. -- Journal, Landing, Mich.
