AT HOME .- Captain George A. Bagard, of this pince, who has for some time been a prisoner "nway down in Dixie," returned home last week. We are glad to see the captain looking so well, and hope he man never know what is to east a thin, shadow, or to have a hatchet face. The captain is "bearded like a pard" and looks every inch the soldier.

Od Wednesday afternoon we rat against our good-looking warrior friend, Lieutenant Lew Ingraham, who is at present enjoying the mountain air and invigorasing breezes of old Centre. We shook hands and smiled, (we speak in a literal sense-hope we shall not be misunderstood.) The lieutenant carries his shoulder straps with becoming grace, and seems to enjoy life amid the "pomp and circumstance of glorious Success to him and all our Bellefente boys in the army.

Those of our country, friends who desire to be well accommodated with eating. drinking, and lodging, when they come to town, will find the hotel of our friend, Mr. Jerry Tolen, on the corner of Bishop and Aflegueny streets, a most excellent place to stop at. This may be somewhat selfish, but we are sincere when we hope our friend may live long in the land.

Mr. J. H. Myras, of this place, who returned home from OR City on Wednesday, informs us that the demage done by the rebent flood in that locality has been immense. He states that about one third of what is called Oil City has been swept away, or otherwise rained, and derricks, engines, and apperatus generally for boring-for oil have been overwhelmed in the general deluge.-As a general thing work is suspended there for the present, though & will no doubt be resumed as soon as material can be had for that purpose. Our thanks are due to Mr. J. J. Conon, of New York city, for his interest in procuring us the fine engravings in the life of President Lincoln, which embellish the outside of this week's issue.
