ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Ontow .- There are some men, and women, too, who delight to see their neighbors get into difficulty. We know quite a number of such individuals in this town, and they belong to the meanest and most despicable of our citizens. But "a chiel's amang them." T. H. S .- We received the cut, and have sent LENVOX .- We do not know whether all the prisoners on Johnson's Island have been remain in confinement there. It is to be presumed that all the prisoners now in custody will be discharged ere long.

JOHN S .- Popocatapetl is a volcanic mountain lorty and rears its tall summit proudly toward the heavens.

Excension .- A firm resolve is half the work Your determination is a good one, and all you now wint is perseverance to carry it mit. Ned Buntline, the novelist, ome gave us his autograph, with the words, "Go onward and upward." We recommend it as a very good motto, which, strictly addrered to, cannot fail to make you a good and happy man. Longfellow's inimitable noem of "Excelsior" inculcates a lesson of perseverance under difficulties that you will do well to keep in remembrance.

THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

- Our town is improving vastly this enring, the new building of Mr. Brokerhood tooks well; it will rid the street of an enormous pile of bricks and rubbish.

- No tidings have yet been heard of the men who robbed Mr. Sankey on the mountain between Pleasant Cap and Centre Hall. It is a pity that such scoundrels should go "unwhipt of justice."

FIRE-We learn that the dwelling house of Mr. George Heckendorn, at Salt Lick, in this county, was destroyed by fire on Saturday last. We are not informed as to the origin of the catastrophe.

Goder's Ladr's Book for June has been engravings, and reading matter of a superier quality. The ladies will be delighted vetuen of the soldiers from their hard camwith it.

BROKE JAIL .- On last Monday night two of the prisoners confined in the jail at this done their duty nobly. We would beg to place, made their escape through the instruplace, made their escape through the instru-mentality of a wooden key which they had, by some means, contrived to construct between them. The key was made of hickory, and fitted the great ball door of the jail to a nicety. The names of the mon were Cox and Burows. They did not leave any information as to where they might be found in case search should be made for them, and partake in the festivities, if the ladies will consequently nothing has been heard of

--- We understand from some of the pupils that Mr. Woods, the principal of the Academy in this place, is about instituting a gymnasium in connection with that institution. This is intended to give the scholars healthful exercise, and, if they will be careful not to abuse the privileges which it will give them, it may prove a great benefit to them. As a general thing too little atlention is paid to the amusements and outdoor exercise of our school children by parents and teachers; and this effort of Mr.

The "Cummings House," "Garman's Hotel," and the "Con rad House" are all tip-top stopping places; and the landfords clever and obliging men Besides all these advantatages, we have good fishing grounds, where "trout" "suck ers," "catties," and others of the finny tribe abound. The fisherman would be in his element, and would pronounce. Bellefonte a delightful place. Game is also abundant in some parts of our county, and the hunter could not fail to be satisfied. Added to all these inducements the means of conveyance to and from Bellefonte are excellent, the town being within a few hours ride by railroad of Philadelphia and New York, as also of intermediate towns along the route. We have still another inducement to offer those desiring to spend the summer in the country. We have any amount of the handsomest girls in the country. In fact Bellefonte is proud of her women, and will hold Bellefonte, all held in the Academy. The her own against the world on that point Come and see for yourselves, ye poor, worried, heated denizen's of the city, and, like Sheba's queen, when she beheld the gran-deur of Solomon, yo will exclaim, "Behold the half has not been fold me."

THE RETURNS OF OUR SOLDIERS -In last week's Picie we noticed an article recommending that a public reception be given at the late session, enacted the following to the soldiers of this county on their return from the army. We think the suggestion a good one. We made a big fass over their departure, and it is altogether appropriate that we should make a big one over their return. All hearts will be lighter at bidding them welcome home than at bidding them good-by; and, besides, the brave fellows deserve something of the kind, as a lower deserve something of the kind, as a lower something of the kind, as a token of our respect for the bardihood and courage with which they have born the long and toilsome campaigns of the war. There is one feature of the Press's sug-PETERSON'S MAGAZINE for June is upon gestion, however, which does not altogether come up to our idea of things. The editor of that paper desires to throw too much of the responsibility of preparing this welcome upon the ladies. He gives as a reason for this that as they took so much interest in getting the soldier's ready to go, and Were so kind and attentive to them in the field, choicest gens of literature. We are always exert themselves to greater efforts to give glad when this delightful book comes to them a suitable welcome home. This is hand, and take much pleasure in perusing queer logic. It looks to much like trying its absorbing pages. No family should be to take the labor of the preparations from off the shoulders of the male gender, and putting it in the hands of those who are less able to bear it, and who have already the men of this community take the matter in hand, and do all the heavy work of the affair, paying all the expenses, and only leaving for the ladies the lighter task of preparing the delicacies for the occasion. We have always noticed that the men are very willing to join in occasions of this kind and only do the work. This, according to our estimate of matters, is not altogether the thing, and we would like to see the arrangement reversed, giving the men the work, and the ladies the pleasuse.

With this exception the suggestion of a public reception, as made by the Press, is a good one. and we think, will meet with gencral favor. If it should be acted on, we hope it may be done right, and not be made a pretext for the ebullition of political spleen. We are glad to see our soldiers comming home, and are willing that our satisfaction at the return of peace, and the cossation of the bloody work that has so long desolated the land, should be made manifest in a public way. We say, then let the reception he given, but let it be given in such a way and with such good feeling. that there will be no bitterness remaining
