We publish it with great pleasure, as showing the high regard in which Judge Shaler is held by the profession, and the people among whom he has lived so long. As a citizen Judge Shaler was with out reproach, and as a judge no stain can be found upon the purity of his crimine. The following is the correspondence :

Pitting and March 28, 1865.

Hen. Charles Sinler. Dear Sir:

The members of the Bench and Bar of this city, having heard that you are about to roture from practice and remove to another part of the State, cannot permit the occasion to pass, without expressing our sincere regret at the loss of one, with whom we have been so long associated, and for whom we entertain the procoundest sentiments of respect and esteem.

Your professional reputation in this community, as well on the bench as at the bar, for half a century, has been without reproach; and while your talents, legal learning, integrity and untiring application, long since placed you in the fing application. long since placed you in the front rank of our profession, your high sense of honor, your uniform courtesy, and kindness of heart, in all your intercourse with us, both personal and professional, have not only elicited our bighest admiration, but present a noble model for our imitation.

Permit us, in parting with you now, to express our earnest wish, that the evening of your days may be as peaceful and happy, as your past life has been useful and honorable.

William Wilkins, Wilson M'Candless, M.

The flattering testimonial, which you in your kindness have afforded me, is the best memorial I can leave to my jamily of my moral character and professional fame.

That you, my friends, may continue as you have hitherto done, to maintain the sanctity of the Law, the purity of the Ermine, and the honor of the Bar, and to protect life, liberty, and property with the courage and perseverance, that have ever characterized you in the discharge of your dutes, will ever be the sincere prayer of your fixen. prayer of your friend CHARLES SHALER.

PROTECT THE BIRDS. - The birds are just beginning to build their summer nests, and should therefore be carefully protected in doing so. At no time could their visit be more welcome, and the crime of killing them never was more beinous. There is every indication of a plentiful crop of worms to destroy the summer foliage of our shade frees, and considerable expense publicly and individually will necessarily be incurred to save them. Much of this will be relieved Iron our shoulders by encouraging the birds to take up their dwelling place with us, which we can do by Wiving them protection against the idle boys who make it their sport to kill them. In no civilized country in the world, but this, are songbirds and insect-destroyers ever killed The inhabitants have too much taste to drive away such pleasant and useful- visitors. The mischief is not confined to our own locality. The worm nursance spreads over the country and involves the fruit trees in its ravages. Everybody who likes good fruit, fine shade, cheap music and beautiful objects to attract their attention and admiration, should do what can be done to stop the shaughter of small birds.
