Trying to Create Another War.

Not content with the ruin and desolation they have brought upon the country, the intermeddling puritans of New England, backed by their abolition followers elsewhere, are now attempting to inaugurate another strife, which, if they succeed, will be bloodier and more terrible than the one from which we have just emerged. In the peace that is now promised the country there is nothing gratifying to them. There are no gov erument contracts to let; no orders for shoddy; no demand for wooden-soled shoes; no market for blind horses and mules; no calls for rotten ships; no petiv offices to be discributed; no speculations upon the blood of their own counseets. Catholicism now, is to them what "Slavery" was five years since-the "sum of all villamies," the "embodiment of all that is wicked/unholv and accursed." The services rendered by members of that Church in the war that has just ended are nothing to them. The deeds of such mon as Rosceranz and Sherman and Mulligan and Corcoran no barrier to their wild cru-ade against the religion of these men, who have borne the brunt of the battle for them. They must have our war with somebody or something—though they are too cowardly to fight it themselves. Peace is no element of their natures Unless their is tumult and disorder, riot and bloodshed, their intolerant spirits cannot rest; unless there is persecution and oppression, their malignant natures are not satisfied; unless there are opportunities for them to peculate and plunder, pillage and burn, there is no peace for those with whom they are connected. Elsewhere to-day we publish extracts the animus of New England puritanism, which now, under the specious guise of "protestantism" speks to embroil the country in a war of sects; and how long, if these malicious and far-fetched chart ges, skillfully wrought up to inflame the unreasoning minds of ignorant and bigblood and lay waste, a whole Continent? The danger is more imminent to an many imagine: New England is determined to create another strife, and, unless the peace-loving citizens of the country rebuke her fanaticism at the polls, she will succeed. Will they do it?

LUCKY AGAIN.—Gen. John C. Breck euridge, we notice has succeeded in eluding the Federal forces and has reached Cuba. If all the Confed rate legiters would have been allowed to escape, they would man have suck into insignificance, and the Government would have had no more trouble or expense with them.

LIFE, SPEECHES AND SERVICES OF ANDREY JOHNSON. - Seventeenth President of the United States. T. B. Peterson & Bro's, Philadelphia Price 75 cts.

If the publishers had, in the title page of this work, told the public, that this was simply a record of President Johnson's life, since he deserted the faith of his fathers, and flew to the bosom of Abolitionism, they would have hit it much better. The book is gotten up in similar style, to the life of McClellan, Grant, Monde, and others, and as a record of the last five years, is well worth the price.

ANOTHER ATTACK OF THE SAME BORT. The real extent of Romish control at this inoment is ansuspected. It may be suffi-cient in 1805 to give us a President, two thirds of both houses of Congress, and the Governors and a majority in both houses of hree fourths of all the States! An amendment of the Constitution could thus be offected, making papacy the national religion and the only one to be tolerated. But the nost sangaine may not hope so much so soen Rome may see it safe to aspire no further in 1868 than to a Vice President. To make a President of him would need but a skillful dose of poison—a triffe that Rome never wanted when the motives was adequate. Rome hopes that at some future day, some future or present party shall find itself ob-liged openly to sell itself to her. If so and another rebellion arises in consequence of nis ruin or success (either would bring it on,) mightier means on this side of the Atlantic, and certain recogition on the other, attend its very opening .- From the Boston

At Minehart's shouldered knapsacks and took to the trackless mountain, sometimes falling up the hill and sometimes climbing down. The Theorem of Avakes. The following is extracted from an editorial article in Wednesday morning's Tribune.

We hear that many of the blacks, thoroughly distrusting their old masters, place all confidence in the Yankees who have recently come among them; and will work for these on almost any terms. We regret this: for while many of these Yankees will justify that confidence, others will grosely abuse it. New England produces many of the best specimens of the human race, and, along with these, some of the very meaffest being at that, ever stood on two legs—cuming, rapacious, hypocefical, ever ready to skin a fint with a borrowed knife and make (for others) a soup dut of the peelings. This class sona become too well known at home—'run out,' as the phrase is—when they wander all, over the earth, snuffing and swinding, to the injury and shame of the land that bore them and cast them out. Now let to generally presumed by the ignorant blacks of the South that a Yankee, because a Yankee, is necessarily their friend, and this nuclean brood will overspread the South.

Who-THERMAN HOUSE

could not have spoken more to the point than these wo did. The Roman Catholic periodicals have-histografield themselves by factions and violent opposition to the government and open sympathy, with the rebailion. The He ald and Visitor, of Philadelphia, und language so violent and abusive that it was openly censured by some of the hislands, and had to be discontinued. The London, of San Francisco, has recently been mobbed, being regarded as one of the most obnoxious rebel sheets. The Balamore Marror has always beensin sympathy against the measures looking toward emancipation. The only pro-slavery member in the next Congress from Missouri is the publisher of the Catholic organ of the State.

The Catholic organs of all the countries of Europe have been nearly unanimouts in wighing success to the rebels. The Monde, in Paris, the leading ultra-montane paper of the world, the Weekly Reguster, of London, the Tablet, of Dublin, and nearly all the Catholic papers of Germany, have express-oscaped.
