ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

hand Sparrely. We always think it best to leave "well enough" alone.

Med.--Young ladies, sometimes, by attempting to appear more indifferent than they feel, alienate the heart that loves them best, and which they most wish to win. There is no necessity for any appearance of coldness toward one whom you really esteem. A cordial and frank demeanor loward your friends will best ensure your own self-rospect and their esteem.

ey ... In some districts negroes did vote in Papasylvania prior to 1838, although they seter had the right to exercise the elective franchi.e. Under the Constitution of 1790, which gave to every freeman the right of suffrage; the High Court of Errors and Anpeals, in 1795, at Philadelphia, decided that pegraca were not freemen, in the sense of the Constitution, and, therefore, had not the right to vote. The same point was decided in the lame way by Chief, Justice linear, '(the greatest and most learned judge Pennsylvania ever had), in 1537, in the case of Hobbs vs Fogg, 6 Watts, 5$3. gt The lines to which you refer are these

"The melancholy days have come, The saddest of the year."

We do not, however, look at Autumn in this way. Like all other seasons of the year, it has its lights and shadows, its ups and downs, its joys and sorrows. A met-ancholy man, like that poet, for instance, may find much to deplore in the fall of the leaf and the stripping of the trees. For ur part, we look upon such things as the ways comfort ourselves with the reflection that Spring will again put warmth into the valleys and verdure upon the trees. We love Autumn for its cool, bracing breezes, its festivities, its color and apples, and for the variogated hues it imparts to mountain and plain. It puts life into a man after the dull, stupid heat of Summer, and refreshed and reinvigorates him for the duties and pleasures of the winter. We always feel.

"So let the world jog along as it will, Wo'll be gay and happy still."

Not this Sector. - The abolition contract tors about this place have concluded that the job of building a new jail will not be given to them this season, owing to the result of the recent election.

THE DIFFEBERCE.-The abolition party in the State, is growing "small by degrees and beautifully less," while the gutter across the lower end of Allegany street is "getting larger by the hour and dangerous. ly deep.

QUIET ELECTION.—From every district in the county, we hear of the election passing iff quietly and pleasantly, and in this place addle, gaited, $10.

(io). Swartz, Hublersburg, second best the county we hear of the election passing off quietly and pleasantly, and in this place we have not had for years a more orderly or bester conducted election. Although the "Abs" were considerably disappointed in the result, yet they choke down their chagrin as much as possible, and try to look as pleasant over the matter as if they didn't care how it went.

Do Nor Know .- Quite a number of inqui ries have been made of us, as to what Centre county men drew premiums on stock, or articles exhibited at the State fair; as the list of persons to whom premiums were awarded has not been made public, we can not answer, but imagine their was not many as but few, took any thing to exhibit.

'Aud'tonnen .-- Since the law was passed requiring license to be taken out for apetioneering, many who are wishing to make sales, are at a loss to find a legally qualified person to attend them. In to-day's paper we publish the card of Martin Stone, esq., whose reputation as an austioneer is so well known, that words of ours in recomendation would be superfluous, and we simple call the attention of the public to the fact, that Mr. Stone is at all times prepared to cry sales, which every one knows he will do in the right manner.

CORNS, BUNIONS & INGROWING NAILS .-Dr. S. Clemons, Surgeon Chiropodist of N. B. is now stopping at the Conrad House Bellefonte, and is prepared to alleviate the sufferings, of corns bunions and ingrowing i nalls. He has written a work called Practical thoughts, on the nature cause and freatment of all feet difficulties. He will cure any feet difficulty without the slightest pain, and 'the feet are not made sore in consequence. The question is frequently asked will the corn not return; we answer no sooner than on a sound toe with the same treatment. He will call at any place of residence by request. The afflicted will do well to see him soon. A TRUTH .- If some of the members of sur town council, would labor as hard to improve the appearance of our borough and keep our streets in passible order, as they do to win the smiles of the negro wenches about town, Bellefonte would have a different look, and buggles and wagons wouldnot be in half the danger of being broken that they now are when crossing the gullies and holes that abound in the greatest pro-

Defore going any farther, we would advise them to ascertain whether water to put out fires in Bellefonte, will be as costly as for ordinary use. If it is, it would be cheaper to let our buildings burn down, than pay the prices we would be compelled to do for water

THANKS.—We are under obligations to Miss Mary Robinson, of Jacksonville, for a splendid pair of spring chickens; also to Miss Potter, of Linden Hall, for a basket of most delicious pears; to Miss Lohr, of Benner township, for a basket of plums; and to Mrs. Larrimer, of Pleasant Gap, for a bag of potatoes, that for size-and quality, excels anything we have seen raised in this "neck o' woods." For these evidences of friendship, we can only say we are exceedingly grateful, and hope time will place it in our power to return them.

SAD ACCIDENT .-- Roland C. Holabaugh, a returned soldier of Company G., 54th Reg't, P. Some persons who were near, hearing the noise, harried to his assistance, but before aid could be given, he was a corpse. The story affont that he had been foully dealt with and thrown into the canal. which at this place is about twenty feet deep, is all a boax, as the facts elicited at the coroner's inquest fully testify.

SOVETHING WORTH HEARING. -- The Youn Men's Literary Association, of William port, Pa., have engaged the great America Poet and Humqrist, Joun G. Saxe, who wil leliver his celebrated Power Lecture o "Love," jà Dæbler's Hall, on Thursdy eve ning, October 19th. The following extrac from a leading New York paper will show how this Lecture was recieved at the Academy of Music, in New York:

ony of Music, in New York:

"John G. Saxe, the Poet and Humorist, was next introduced. It is impossible in a limited space, to do him justice. His subject, was "Love"—not merely the despotic, daugerous, delicious "Love" that is usually represented with wings and how and arrow, but love Maternal, Patrotte, Philanthrope and Divine. Mr. Saxe kept the audience in an uproar from the commencement to the close of his poem., Laughter and applicuse strove long for the mastery; but at the close of the last stanzas the latter carried the day, and the audience carried a pleasing rehe day, and the audience carried a pleasing re-collection of the occasion with them."—New

That this will be a treat, both rich and are, for the people in this part of the State, he reputation and bare announcement of the Lecturer's name is enough to guarantee.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING AT REBERSHURG .-A meeting of the Demooracy was held at Rebersburg on the evening of the 8d, which was addressed by H. Y. Stitser and C. T. Alexander. Mr. Stitzer made an excellent speech—and was followed by Mr. Alexander, whose speech was logical and carried conviction to all who beard it. He did not ask that his statement, that the republican party were in favor of negro suffrage, should be accepted without he proved it, which he did by proof so positive and voluminous that none could doubt it. General Beaver was present and was offered an op-portunity to deny the allegation but de-clined. Hence twas concluded that he was in favor of it personally, or that the proofest against his party were so strong that he could not deny it, and concluded that silence was the best discretion.

SPECTATOR.

The above communication was received to late for publication in our last issue, and we would not have given it a place now that the election is over, but for the fact that the Republicans have been circulating the falsehood that Mr. Alexander should have said that Gen. Beaver was not in favor of negro suffrage.

It was in the morning. The air was heavy with Tragrance; the sun was not beginning to spend his golden rays, the dew drops to tremble on the opening flowers, when our dear young friend, Sadie, breathed her last. She had suf fered long and very patiently. Day by day, as her step lost its lightness, as her check grew rale, and her life-lamp feebly burnt, she held such sweet communion with her Master, that, when the summons came which called her home, so ripe was she for Heaven, so sweetly resigned closely entwined around those she loved on whose hands she commended them, she firmly unloosed the ties, and, like the gentle closing of an evening flower, fell asleep. In imagination she is again before me. I see that sweet, heaenly smile again playing over her features; that upward gaze, which spoke of appels hover-ing near her course awaiting the signal to was er spirit home to the God who gave it. A sweet, still voice again whrates the ear, and I ear the words, whispered in gentlest accents: (Listen!) "Moct me in Heaven!" Oh, that we might remember her dying commands.
