We remember reading a story of a minister who was going to his appoint ment, and had to go by the residence of one of his brethres, and, as was his custem, he stopped to go to church with the family. On riding up to the house, ho saw a little boy peeping through the fence, and accosted him as follows:

"Well my son, is your father at home ?" "No he has gone to church," was the "Is your mother at home?" rephy. 'No six she has gone to church too.' "Why thou, my little fellow, you are left all alone here." "O no!" replied the loy, "Sam is in the house huggin' the nigger gal." Well," said the preacher, "that is bad. "I know it's had," said the boy, "but it sabout the Lest thing he can do just now.

This may be a little rough for a text but after all the boy was philosophical. In the present crisis of our national affairs when the loading members of the great Union party seem to take the view that it is our duty to take the liberated negro by the hand and make a man of him, perhaps after all, it is about the best thing we can do just now.

-Mearing a man complain that political papers of all kind had become such liars that for his part he did not believe any of them, reminds us of the miller and his three sons. Coming into the mill, and finding a grist in the hopper, the old man er 'd out-

'Yom have you tolled this grist?'' "Yes sir."

"Bill, have you tolled this grist?" "Yes sir."

"3 vm, have you telled this grist?" "Ye sir."

"You are all a pack of lying scoun drels," said the old man. "I don't be lieve a word you say-I'll toll it myself."

-Samuel Johnson, who made a dictionary, would have said: "I will not expend pulverized particles of explosive materials on aqueous and fugatious fords." Andrew Johnson says in plainer. phrase: . "I don't waste powder upon dead ducks." We like the homely phrase the best-dignity or no dignity.
