The Fenians--The Democratic Party-Like a dving, man who eatelies at straw, the abolitionists seize hold of every circumstance that seems in the least calculated to afford them and assistance in the great strait in which they at last find themselves becoming fastened Threatened on every hand by the people they have so shamefully insufted and ed for the past five years, they re ort to any means of defence which they think may best avail them, and he state not to impose upon the credults of the unthinking and often uninformed populace by the basest and most wilful false-

The next Congressman.

The Democracy of this 'Congressional District have for some time been casting compromise arrangement, with an abolition candidate, as was the case during the HALE and ARMSTRONG campaign. four years ago They want a straight out Democrat this time, and they intend to have him. We are pleased to be able to announc
