I have seen and used, as before stated, every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves, the simple decoction, uncture, fluid extracts,—and I am not cognition of the plant at all equal to yours. Twelve years' experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits, and without prajudice or partiality, I give yours precedence over all others. I do not value a thing according to its bulk, if I did, other Buckew would ext. do yours, but I hold to the doctrine that bulk and quantity do not make up value—If they did, a copper cent would be up value—If they did, a copper cent would be

Menical Properties AND Uses.—Buchu leaves are gould stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urisary Organs, producing duress, and like other similar used cines, exciting disphoresis, when circumstances favor this mode of action.

Dear Sir.—In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about Buchs, I would say that I have used and sold the article is various forms for the past thirty years. I do not thin there is any form or-preparation of it I have not used or known to be used, in the various diseases where such medicate agree would be indicated. You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys, and the reputation it has acquired in my judgement is warranted by the facts.
